Effect of 'War Fears' On Children Is Explained

Can parents prevent war talk, the fear of the A-Bomb and other tensions in a mobilization period from having a harmful effect on the emotional development of their children?

This being National Family Week, May 6 to 12, the Family Service Bureau of Newton, a Red Feather member of the Newton Community Chest, had some comment on a question which is in the minds of millions of American parents today.

ARE NOT ALONE

Mrs. Catherine S. Holden, executive director, feels that parents can take comfort in the fact that they are not alone when they worry over younger children who seem pre-occupied with playing war or adolescents who display a cynical attitude towards study because they soon expect to be part of the country's armed forces. At the same time parents have to face up to the fact that children inevitably will be affected, to some extent, by world conditions, defense activity and other factors which touch their home life directly—such as inflated living costs and housing.

"We cannot hope to isolate children from the world in which they, with their parents, live," Mrs. Holden said. "If it is necessary in civil defense that children be taught how to crouch under desks in order to escape on the day when a bomb may be dropped on their community—it is not possible at the same time to remove all fear that such a disaster may actually happen. Neither is it possible

Franklin K. Hoyt Elected Head of Stone Institute Succeeds Metcalf W. Melcher

Franklin K. Hoyt was elected president of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People at the 51st Annual Meeting of the Institute last week. Mr. Hoyt was an Alderman in Newton for four years and served on many important committees. OUTSTANDING ORGANIZATION

The Stone Institute is an outstanding organization for the care of aged people and has twenty-five residents. There are thirty women on the waiting list for admission to the home as reported at the annual meeting. The new wing will be a reality as soon as sufficient contributions have been received to finance the project.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting, in addition to Mr. Hoyt were: two vice presidents, Clifford H. Walker and Douglass B. Francis; treasurer, Thomas E. Shirley; clerk, William H. Rice; and matron, Mrs. Lillian M. Grove.

Clarks Summit Student Exchange Group Arrives For Visit Here

EXCHANGE STUDENTS of Clarks Summit and Newton High Schools shown on steps of City Hall yesterday (Wednesday) where the official greeting of Newton was extended the Pennsylvania students by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood and other public and school officials.

Busy Week Is Planned For Penn. Youths

Historic and Scenic Trips; Banquet, Pops and Dance Scheduled

The climax of this year's exchange at Newton High School started Tuesday evening when the Clarks Summit, Penn., students arrived here to return the April visit of Newton High School students to that community. The groups had a chance to rejoice at an informal reunion in the Newton Junior College Library.

Wednesday morning things got off to an early start with an official welcome at City Hall where the visitors were greeted by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, Raymond A. Green, principal of the Newton High School; Harold B. Goris, superintendent of Newton Schools; and Maxwell P. Gaddis, chairman, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross. Afterwards the pupils visited classes in the high school and ate lunch in the cafeteria. An informal dance was held in the gym in order to give everyone a chance to meet the guests. They then headed for a cook-out at Camp Mary Day in Cohasset.

TO TOUR BOSTON

Today (Thursday) the group plans to visit the John Hancock Building, where they will have lunch before leaving for a tour of Boston, Bunker Hill and the Frigate "Constitution" will be visited. What's left of the afternoon will be free for shopping and although the evening is considered free, the Braves-Chicago baseball game is possible.

Friday marks another visit to classes and lunch in the school cafeteria. However, in the afternoon, the group plans to split, half going to the Longfellow House and Harvard, and half going to MIT and the new Science Museum. After dinner at home, panel discussions will be held at the Red Cross Chapter House, and Mr. Gill will welcome the

They are Mrs. Harold Amidon, Mrs. Robert M. Bent Jr., Mrs. Earl F. Bliss, Mrs. William Cullen, Mrs. Marie Giroir, Mrs. Francis T. Gowen and Miss Teresa Pitman, all of Newton; Mrs. Lester Bernd, Mrs. Ralph W. Coates, Mrs. Arthur Coppstone, Miss Shirley Dollin, Miss Shirley J. Eaton, Miss Joan Henley, Miss Pauline C. MEN TO GRADUATE

At the same time there will be graduated a "pilot group" of business and professional men who have received the Red Cross Nurse's Aide Course to prepare them to give skilled and dependable assistance to the nursing service in this period of national emergency. The Waltham Disaster had pointed up the need for a trained corps of men volunteers to assist the nurses in the event of a large scale disaster, especially in those tasks demanding mechanical ability and muscular strength.

The results of the experiment conducted in the Newton-Wellesley Hospital will be closely studied and evaluated by the National Red Cross before any extension of this program can be launched elsewhere. Members of the "Pilot Group" of Men Nurse's Aides are: E. Graham Bates, William G. Wilton, William E. Coulton, George E. MacNair and Robert R. Walker who are members of the Newton Chapter; and William Whitcomb, Stephen Harunk and Joseph Montanari of the Wellesley Chapter.

At the ceremony the Color Bearers will be Carolyn Jones and David Blackall of the Junior Red Cross. The Rev. Dr. Joseph C. MacDonald of the Union Church in Waban will offer the invocation. evening was the Honorable Thomas H. Elliot, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Commission for the Reorganization of State Government, better known as the "Baby Hoover" Commission.

Mr. Elliot informed the group that the last overhaul of the State Government took place in 1921. Since then there has been great growth in the Government set up without any planning to speaking of, and this has led to duplication and lack of responsibility. Mr. Elliot reminded those present that it required legislative action to put into effect the recommendations of his Commission and he urged those present to contact members of the Legislature when the report of the commission has been filed.

Special guests included Frank A. Hannan, Director of Trust Companies Division of the State Banking Department, Hollis S. Haggard, Chief National Bank Examiner, Honorable Samuel Wragg, Sheriff of Norfolk County, John D. Wright and Albert H. McAvoy, Assessors for the City of Newton.

Reception for Candidate Held Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Rich of Franklin street, Newton, were hosts at a reception at their home Saturday evening in behalf of Mrs. Dora Balos of Park street, who recently announced her candidacy for the Newton School Committee, the election to be in the fall.

Mrs. Balos has been active in local P.T.A. work, and conducts the Studio Nursery School. She is a former teacher. Mrs. Balos spoke of her interest in young children, particularly of the lower grade school age, and her reasons for believing why a mother of young children should be included on the now all male seven member School Committee.

Mrs. Balos and her family plan to tour Europe for two and one-half months this summer, as they did two years ago, and will return in the fall.

Cooking School To Start Next Wednesday

for parents to assure teenagers that they can plan serenely for education, a career and secure family life when the greater likelihood is that military service will postpone or disrupt their best efforts to plan."

"Parents have as much reason to give their children a sense of the dangers of war and invasion as they do instilling in them a fear of fire or being run over by an automobile," Mrs. Holden declared. "What we need to guard against is overstimulation of the danger to the point where hysterical or irrational action takes over. We also need to understand that while children inevitably reflect parental tension and anxiety, their reactions may be quite different from those of adult members of the family."

SOME TRUTHS

Some truths that should be kept in mind in relation to "war fears" and children are these:

1. Babies, two and under, have no understanding of war, inflation and the effects of the defense program. Dr. Louis Meek Stolz, professor of psychology at Stanford University, however, emphasizes that an infant, dependent on the mother for his security, may be permanently affected in his developing emotional pattern if "a mother is anxious, hurried, or frustrated and transmits her tenseness to her baby."

The most damaging experience for a baby occurs when war or other causes separate a baby from his mother. In London, during the last war, studies showed that babies who remained with mothers during the bombings showed far less personality problems later on than those infants who were removed from their mothers to "safe" places in the countryside.

Dr. Stolz recommends that "mothers with infants should be the last source of manpower for war" and that if such mothers are employed in war work, "provisions should be made for substitute care in line with the best principles of mental hygiene."

2. War and conflict may color much of the thought, play and action of the child in the 3 to 6 group—but for a child of this age war does not have the same meaning as it does for adults. Such a child may use military words and phrases, but war is still just a game to him unless it directly affects his family life. Separation from mother or father—and particularly the mother, during this age period, however, may provide a keen sense of loss, which retards strivings for independence and may keep the child on an infantile emotional level.

TO ACCEPT FRUSTRATION

Dr. Stolz feels that evidence of increased aggression reported by parents and nursery school teachers among children of this age are not due to "war talk" but more to the frustrations in family life in a defense period which promote aggressive behavior. These include: crowded living conditions, increased tempo in family living with increased pressure on the child to hurry and less expression of love and affection.

"The playing of war games by children should not be forbidden," says Dr. Stolz, "but viewed as natural outlets for emotional tensions. At the same time adults may often gain clues as to the difficulties a child is experiencing through the content of his play."

3. Children in the 6 to 12 group who carry with them "deep fears and hostilities from earlier years," will be vulnerable to the extra pressures of wartime. But generally, these older and more mature children are more curious than apprehensive about war. They are adventurous who want to emulate the adult soldier in feats of heroism, talk big and play realistic war games. But they are interested in seemingly everything and war is only a concern to them part of the time—and seldom in a morbid sense.

4. Adolescent youngsters are often more influenced by the behavior of those in their own age group than by parents. Planning and striving toward the future is the mark of their age and their desire is to join with their contemporaries in "adult" affairs. The adolescent who finds military service more interesting than school work, therefore, is merely expressing his compelling urge to be "grown up" and have a part in the adult world. For this reason, adolescents need to be given an important place in community efforts. The desire on the part of many 16 to 18 year olds to go to work in a defense plant should be faced without sacrificing education by part-time work and study plans as operated successfully in many communities in the last war.

her husband and three daughters make their home in Tarrytown, N. Y., where Mrs. Kimball is active in civic and professional life in Westchester County. Very recently she sang with the Hudson Valley Symphony Orchestra and on April 18 she sang the star role in a production of Kurt Weill's folk opera, "Down in the Valley," presented in Tarrytown. As a volunteer in the musical therapy department of the Westchester County Hospital at Grasslands, Mrs. Kimball has worked for four years with the tubercular and psychiatric patients, singing in the wards one afternoon each week.

WITH CHORAL SOCIETY

While still a student at Radcliffe College, from which she was graduated with honors in music, Jeanne Bachrach Kimball was soloist with the Radcliffe Choral Society and the State Symphony Orchestra. After making her professional debut in Jordan Hall, she studied in Europe for a year and then appeared again in recital at Jordan Hall. She has sung frequently at the Isabelle Stewart Gardner Museum in Boston and elsewhere in New England.

For her home-coming concert in West Newton next Thursday evening, Jeanne Bachrach Kimball's program will include German lieder by Bach, Schubert and Brahms, French art songs, English, Irish and Czechoslovak folk songs and lyrics by Grieg and Rachmaninoff.

Chapter; Mrs. Henry D. Rising and Mrs. Charles Stewart, chairmen of Volunteer Services in Wellesley and Weston, will present the certificates. The instructors and supervisors of the two classes, Mrs. Edwin A. Meserve, R.N., and Mrs. James H. Caine, R.N., will administer the Red Cross Nurse's Aide Pledge. TO ACCEPT CLASSES
Miss Myrtice Fuller, R.N., director of the School of Nursing, will accept the classes, and Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton will present the greetings of the hospital.

The ushers will be Mrs. Harvey D. Arnold and Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller of Newton, and Mrs. Gardner C. Brooks and Mrs. Paul D. Dean Jr., of Wellesley. The Student Nurse's Club will give a selection.

Parents and teachers can help convince the adolescent, who is losing interest in study because he will soon be called into the armed services, that his continued preparation in the present period may be all-important later on to himself as well as his country.

RELIEVE OVER-ANXIETY

Generally, the "war fears" of children will not present serious problems, according to Mrs. Holden if parents can relieve their own over-anxiety and pressures in home living.

"In a period like this the gnawing anxiety which parents often feel is perhaps in itself the greatest danger to the emotional health of their children," Mrs. Holden declared. "Psychologists know that anxiety caused by real or unreal fears, can often be relieved through activity—both in talking and action."

Parents who feel anxious should seek wider social outlets through community activity and participation or just in talking things over with friends. They should avoid "isolation." Where anxiety over their children, their family living problems and personal relationships is continual, they might do well to talk it over with an experienced family counselor at a family agency. Such as the Family Service Bureau of Newton which offers such skilled services to citizens of our community. The bureau is situated at 74 Walnut park, Newton, Massachusetts.

Foundation Garden Tour To Be Held May 12, 13, 14

Crabapple trees in among the hemlocks and laurels are about to bloom at the intersection of Walnut street and Commonwealth avenue across from City Hall. This planting was started by the Newton Tribute Foundation which in turn was created by a small group of citizens who wanted to "establish a living tribute in honor of the men and women of Newton who served and are now serving in the Armed Forces of our country by a suitable planting on Commonwealth avenue in the city of Newton."

Ten differently selected gardens are opened each spring through the generosity of garden loving people who like to share their gardens and at the same time help support and continue the beautifying of Commonwealth avenue. An admission fee of $1.20 (tax included) can be purchased in advance by writing Newton Tribute Foundation, 25 Chestnut street, West Newton, or tickets will be available at each garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Skinner of the Connick Associates, widely known in their work with stained glass have a charming woodland garden on a hillside at 37 Walden street, Newtonville. Hyacinths, bloodroot and spring beauty are blooming with each day bringing out more of nature's wonders of the woods.

In Oakhill the small garden of Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Francis is kept secluded by a sapling fence of lilacs, azaleas and evergreens. Their number is 35 Meadowbrook road. A more expansive lawn accented with flowering crabs and hawthorne trees at 162 Fuller street, West Newton, makes an inviting place for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stritzinger to entertain. Going on to Audubon one has the privilege of entering the nicely designed formal garden of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson at 99 Aspen avenue. A lovely pool is the focal point with an expansive view of the grounds of Woodland golf club.

Pontiac is a short road in Waban and at No. 45 Mr. and Mrs. Norman Burchell have a garden which they have done all themselves. A beautifully clipped hedge gives them privacy and their tiny greenhouse makes for efficiency when it comes to seedlings and general care. On beyond to 51 Annawan road in Waban Mr. and Mrs. Beetham stress outdoor living in their garden whether it be tea under a tree, supper by the outdoor fireplace or relaxing on the terrace to enjoy the spring blooms.

Ten lovely gardens are to be opened Saturday, Sunday, Monday, May 12, 13, 14, from 1 o'clock to 5:30. To see them, one appreciates that Newton is truly a Garden City. The pink and white dogwood trees will be blooming any day now at Norumbega and the laurel at Center street and Commonwealth avenue. Both these plantings are part of the Living Memorial contributed by the Newton Tribute Foundation with high hopes of extending such beauty along the city highway.

"POPS CONCERT" TOO

Very popular with last year's exchange was the North Shore trip, which is being planned again for Saturday. It includes Salem, Marblehead, Gloucester, Rockport, and a chance to try lobsters or clams at Essex. That night the popular "Pops Concert" at Symphony Hall will be attended. The parents and last year's exchange members have been invited.

Sunday is customarily a family day. Church and an interesting trip to an historical spot or the beach is recommended.

Monday, the last day, will include a trip to Lexington and Concord with a picnic lunch. Afternoon classes will be attended with a final meeting of both groups to discuss the merits of the Workshop. The parting banquet will be held at the Normandie Room with last year's exchange members again invited. This, of course, will mark the sad close of this year's marvelous experience in a new field of education and understanding. It is hoped, however, that the friendships will be kept through life.

Upper Falls Fire Station Being Demolished

Demolition of the Upper Falls fire station is being undertaken following a halt on the work pending a public hearing on the matter. The city sold the fire station to a salvage company recently and a protest arose from some citizens of the section who desired its conversion into a branch library or other civic use.

Riley J. Hampton, chairman of the public buildings committee of the Board of Aldermen declared: "As far as the city is concerned, there is not enough opposition to halt the demolition of the building. What opposition there is, is very weak. There is no evidence to indicate that there should be any change in the action of the Board of Aldermen in ordering the building torn down. The Board's decision was unanimous in the first place."

He stated that the consensus of opinion among residents of the district was that the building should be torn down. "It is regarded as a hazard for youngsters who cannot be kept out of the building, since it is located next to a school house," Mr. Hampton declared. He said that if it were not torn down it would have to be boarded up.

Miss Ruth Brooks, of 15 Wimbledon Circle, West Newton, a Wheaton College Alumnae, was one of the sponsors of the Boston presentation last week of the Wheaton College Dramatic Association's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Not an available seat was available Sunday morning when Mr. Frederic Groetsema, Pastor conducted the concluding series for this spring. He with his family now expect to be enroute to New York by May 4. Their sailing has been postponed several times because of a strike of stevedores in Liverpool which has seriously interfered with the transportation schedule.

His visit was the result of two years' correspondence of the pastor in the endeavor to arrange a mutually possible and agreeable date. Norumbega Council Presenting Scout Exposition Saturday

The Scouts of Norumbega Council are presenting a mammoth Scouting Exposition Saturday at the Newton High School in Newtonville from 1:30 to 10 p.m. The Exposition, whose theme is "Your Scouts In Action," is Scouting's "sportsman's show," in which each Scout group will give a booth demonstration of one phase of the many crafts and skills learned by the Scouts. About 2,500 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts will participate in the Exposition.

There will be more than seventy lively exhibits at the Exposition. An Air Scouting display will attract aviation enthusiasts. Sportsmen will be interested in demonstrations of archery as well as bait and fly casting. The outdoorsman will learn something about camping techniques, woodlore, wilderness cooking and woods engineering, or bridge and signal tower construction. The Scouts' place in Civil Defense will be illustrated by exhibits of health and safety, first aid, fire prevention and automobile safety. Other skills to be demonstrated will be those involving printing, photography, map-making, fingerprinting, woodworking, leather-craft, and many more. There will also be craft exhibits by the Girl Scouts.

Norumbega Council, which is comprised of the communities of Newton, Wellesley and Weston, is a Red Feather Service. The Exposition is being presented to raise capital funds for much-needed facilities at both the winter and summer camping areas, Nobscot Reservation in Sudbury and Camp Quinapoxet in West Rindge, New Hampshire.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT
The "Under Cover" Story

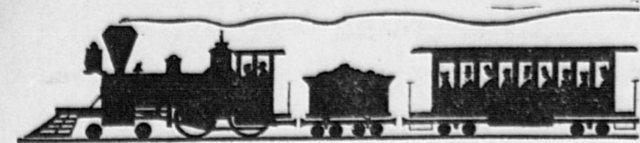

- (1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special tufting.
- (2) We don't just glue loose frames—we take out old dowels, replace them with large and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
- (3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
- (4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made—that means it's stronger.
- (5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
- (6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
- (7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
- (8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
- (9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
- (10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

NEWTON IN THE PAST

BY GWEN LONDON

Taken from the files of the Graphic

May 3, 1901

In answer to the request of the Legislators the Supreme Court has sent in its opinion of the legality of the use of voting machines at our state elections. Three judges, including Chief Justice Holmes, are agreed that such use is legal, three are opposed and Judge Loring gives a qualified consent. Judge Loring will favor their use provided the recording of the vote cast can be supervised by the voter, and the adding up of the votes is under the direction of the election officers.

Under the present system the voter cannot see that his vote is recorded and we fail to see the necessity for such action when done by machinery.

We hope that the General Court will authorize their use. Every argument is in favor of their adoption, and the farce of a recount is wholly prevented.

Plenty of spice, with a liberal dash of local flavor, made the endmen's jokes at the Nonantum Boys' Club minstrel show in Elliot Hall Tuesday evening exceptionally palatable, while the solos and chorus singing were everything that could be desired.

An effort is to be made by the School Committee and the Educational Association to obtain an appropriation from the city government to allow the Health Department to make a daily inspection of schools.

While admitting the possible value of such inspection, we do not believe that the conditions of home life of school children in the Garden City of Newton at the present time, will justify the aldermen in adopting the expensive methods of large metropolitan cities like Boston and New York.

Gustavus Adolphus, Crown Prince of Sweden, and the Crown Princess Louise, are to visit this city on June 20, according to present plans. The royal couple and their suite are to be entertained at a festival to be held in their honor at the Home for Aged Swedish People on Waltham street, West Newton.

While Mothers' Sunday is neither a holiday nor a religious observance it takes on the most desirable attributes of both those functions. Living or dead, a mother is always one's mother and the tenderest sentiments of the heart are always stirred by the thought of her who gave us the opportunity to live and move and have our being.

The Boston Elevated has had a crew of construction employees placing new rails on Centre street. The foreman of this crew is a veteran. All in his gang are men of middle age or older. And, the skill and efficiency they displayed, would seem to refute the theory that after a man passes 45 he is not of much account when it comes to performing laborious tasks.

We have received a letter from a Stock Salt Company of Omaha, Nebraska, offering us the general agency for their product in this city. This company assures us that we can make from $3000 to $5000 selling salt to owners of horses, hogs, sheep and cattle in this city. According to the assessors' report for 1925, there were 241 horses and 360 cows in the city. The number of sheep and hogs was not given, but there are many of the latter. If we could sell enough salt to make $3000 commission a year, the live stock in this city surely would have to lick up a tremendous amount of sodium chloride per capita.

In his "One Thing and Another" column this week, Levrett D. G. Bentley observes that although there are fifty-two weeks in every year, it seems that we have heard from time to time of more than that number of weeks "especially set apart" for some admirable purpose. The point, of course, is to emphasize the value of a movement in the interest of the public.

Mr. Bentley tells of a sign in an umbrella repair shop which reads "Umbrella Week." The sign suggests looking over one's stock of umbrellas this week and making sure that one is thoroughly equipped for the coming year. He also advocates one week which should be called "Return that which you have borrowed week." And in conclusion he states that these various "weeks" may serve in place of a calendar. We might say "I'll see you sometime Necktie Week" or "I'll be away Onion Week." A welcome relief from all this would be "Nothing Special Week."

Governor Leverett Saltonstall and Editor Max Lerner were the principal speakers of the evening session of the New England Regional Conference of educators on Monday night in the high school. Governor Saltonstall stated that the "schools are the bulwark of our nation and that educators should strive to teach the nations imperfections not to magnify them." Editor Lerner gave a fighting faith to the future of democracy and stated that the function of education is to teach three things: to understand, to believe, and to act.

Co-operating with the national and state hospital day committees the Newton Hospital is planning to hold open house on next Monday afternoon—National Hospital Day. A general invitation is extended to all to visit the local institution where an interesting program has been planned.

Pettee's Return Sparks O.L. to 5-4 Victory

The return of George Pettee, versatile pitcher-catcher-outfielder, gave Our Lady's the necessary spark and batting punch to upset Cathedral 5-4 in a non-league game last Sunday. Pettee had been ineligible since the opening tilt with Matignon.

Big George toed-the-mound against Cathedral and batted fifth in the line-up. He permitted but five hits, one being a two run homer by John Doherty in the second. His potent bat also came in handy; George had a single and triple in three trips to the plate. "Crungle" Cronin shared in the hit parade, getting two for two, also a single and triple. Newton got 8 hits in all.

Boston jumped out front 2-0 on Doherty's four master then in the last half of the second, successive three baggers by Cronin and Pettee followed by Billy Lawn's infield single tied it up. Cathedral scored single runs in the 3rd and 4th, but Jackie Glynn's pop single to right with the bases loaded in the 6th brought O. L. one run back, then a two run rally in the 7th gave them the game. With one gone, Jim Mahoney walked and Luke Fannon bunted. When the third baseman threw wildly into centerfield trying to nab Mahoney at second both runners moved up a base. Cronin was purposely passed to load the bases. Pettee grounded to short and a sure double-play set-up failed with Pettee beating the throw. now at third, Pettee tried a delayed steal and the pitcher hesitated, then threw to the shortstop to nab George while Fannon was flying home; the shortstop however turned and threw to the plate in plenty of time to catch Luke and that would have been the third out. BUT the umpire called a balk on the pitcher and Fannon was allowed to score. Pettee then held Cathedral scoreless in the last two frames. It was O.L.'s second win in six games. Oldfield, Glynn, Fannon and Lawn got the other hits.

St. Mary's (B) 4—Our Lady's 3

When O. L. loses, it's by one run scores. St. Clements and Sacred Heart both plinned 3-2 losses recently, and then last Friday at Brookline, St. Mary's won a 4-3 game. It was O.L.'s third Division II loss in three League starts. Brookline's best hurler, Dick Farrell struck out 14 O. L. batters and won his own game in the 7th with a single. Jim Murphy was given the loss although after relieving starting pitcher Richie Lord in the first he twirled excellent ball. Lord walked two men with the bases full in the first and Murphy came in and fanned a batter for the third out. Jim then gave up four more hits, and single runs in the 4th and 7th. The winning run was unearned. Murphy fanned 11.

St. Mary's got 5 hits themselves. Billy Lawn led Newton with two hits. Billy Bertrand and Billy Cronin got the other two.

Waban Services Staff Make Plans

A meeting of Waban Post Administrators and their assistants, held April 24, at the home of Mrs. Gordon Gifford, brought out nearly the entire Administrative Services staff of that district. Mrs. Earl A. Colvin is to replace Mrs. E. S. Culver for Post 6, and Mrs. Albert O. Seeler takes the place of Mrs. Edmund Pfeiffer in Post 7. Mr. Norman Mitchell administered the oath to sixteen who had not previously taken it. Coffee was served following the meeting.

Object to New Sick Leave Law

Provisions of a proposed new Sick Leave, Vacation and City Physician Ordinance, presented last week at a public hearing of the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee at City Hall, were objected to by nearly 200 police, firemen and city employees.

They said they were satisfied with the present law, and that the new ordinance penalizes older employees. They opposed the provision that gives an employee only six days a year after an accumulation of 100 days sick leave has been used up. They objected to the change in sick leave, which falls to renew full benefits each year, and to the provision that allows new men no sick leave for the first two months of employment. The objection was raised that employees should have been consulted when the ordinance was being drawn up.

Executive Director of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., reported that the Association directors approved the principal of incentive vacation and the expansion of the City Physician's duties. An employee who has accumulated unused 100 days sick leave would receive an extra week vacation each year, which would be granted even though an employee later uses up the accumulated sick leave.

Our Lady's to Face St. John's and Cambridge

Catholic League Division 2 leaders, St. John's of Cambridge (5-0) visits Cabot Park tomorrow to face an up and down Our Lady nine (1-4) which is due for an "up" game after their disgraceful showing against St. Mary's of Waltham. Jim Sullivan will call on lanky Jim Murphy to pitch Newton out of its pitfall.

After dropping the opener to Matignon, Murphy has turned in creditable performances in beating Columbkille and losing a heartbreaker to St. Mary's of Brookline. Christopher Columbus plays host to O.L. on Sunday. George Petee who topped Cathedral in his first and only start should get the pitching assignment. O.L. has an overall 2-5 record.

St. Mary's (W) Drubs O.L. Sullivan Were "Awful"

The simple word "awful" actually described Our Lady's in their 12-7 loss to St. Mary's of Waltham last Tuesday. The score in no way told the true story of their poor spirit, poor play and poor sportsmanship. After "Crungle" Cronin drove in two runs with a triple in the first inning, the account of the game was all a tale of woe.

Brookline Nips Newton For First League Loss

Because they were unable to find the hitting range as they did against Waltham (9-1) Newton lost its first Suburban League game, their second in seven starts, to lefty Howie Kaplan and Brookline Co. 3-2 last Friday at Tech Field. Kaplan allowed the Tigers but si hits, one of them a first inning home run by Fred Keith.

Bob Schlosberg went all the way for the Fergusons and lost his first game in two seasons. Bob Conway, Frank Salmaine and Tom Roche and a double by pitcher Kaplan. Roche was out at the plate trying to score on a fine relay from outfielder Danny Coffey to shortstop Don Flagg to Lee Carder. From then on "Schlos" twirled three hit ball, gave up two walks and permitted what turned out to be the winning run in the 5th when Salmaine drove in Dick Wilkins from second base, after Dick walked and was sacrificed. All Brookline runs came on two out.

Newton's other tally came in the 9th. After leadoff man Johnnie Kreider fanned, Flagg walked and Bob Sheppard pinch-hitting for Carder, singled him to third. Schlosberg popped to short right field yet Flagg scored after the catch. Don Thompson running for Sheppard stole second as pinch-hitter Neil Campbell was at bat but "Zipper" remained there as Neil grounded out to end the game. The Tigers best scoring chance came in the 4th but Schlosberg fanned with the bases loaded. Ferguson was without the services of Catcher Freddy Dauten, who was unable to play because of illness. Carder, his replacement, made a spectacular play in the first inning, tagging Roche out at home, although the strappy grid-outfielder barged into him and spiked Lee on the thigh. When Roche came to bat in the 4th, Schlosberg accidentally hit him on the shoulder and the Brookline player went out to the mound to have a few words with Bob. Carder raced out and pushed Roche. That started a fracas which saw both teams squabble and throw some punches. The battle soon ended however and play was resumed with Carder and Larry Wilson of Brookline being thrown-out.

Of Newton's impotent bats, Keith had the best blow, his homer in the first. Dave Bonnar, Barkey Boole, Lou Phinney, Pinky Higgins, and Sheppard got the other hits. The loss meant that Newton was then tied with Watertown and Cambridge Latin for first place, all had 3-1 records.

Newton Track Team Goes to Amherst For University of Massachusetts Relays

Newton's array of track stars journey to Amherst this Saturday, to compete in the annual Univ. of Mass. relays. If the "Terriers" can come back home with the winning cup, then Newton should be a top contender in the coming State meet.

As the GRAPHIC went to press yesterday Wednesday, May 2, the tracksters were racing in their third meet of the year, another Quad gathering with Brockton, Brookline and Medford the visiting teams. Brookline was to be the team most probable to upset the high-flying Boiler-makers.

Newton With 63 1-2 Pts. Cops Opening Quad Meet at Home
Coaches Lem Boyle and Mal Gallagher were more than satisfied seeing their large squad of track hopefuls come through with an opening Quad meet victory against Rindge, Boston Teen and Watertown. Newton ran away with 63 1-2 points, while Tech (34), Watertown (24 1-2) and Rindge (11) trailed. Biggest surprise was the winning of the mile event by newcomer Junior Phil Williams, running in his first meet. Other five-pointers were Bob Morrison, crackerjack 440 ace; Norm Di Giovanni and Dave Savoy in the low and high hurdles respectively and Johnnie Tripp in the dash. Savoy also took a second in the high jump making him the leading Newton scorer with 8 points. Tripp's third in the pole vault (a new event) gave him 7 points. Capt. 50b Shannon placing second in the broad jump and third in the dash totaled 5 points.

Paul Gould, Lou Snyder and Arnie Haywood were second, third and fourth in the 220. Rolfe Pollard took a third and Dick Dunbar tied for fourth in the high jump which saw Savoy end up second with 5 feet 8, a mild upset. Walter Kett was 5 yards behind Savoy in the high hurdles for a 1-2 and it was Di Giovanni all alone and all the way in the low hurdles. Morrison couldn't be matched in the 440 and George Flynn almost eked past second place Jim Murraie (Watertown). Tripp and Shannon gave Newton 7 points in the dash. Tripp and Kett surprised in the pole vault, getting a third and fourth. Tripp did 8 feet, 6. The closest race was the 880 with Rindge's Fran Looney just squeaking by George Higgins who in turn squeaked by teammate Don French. Al Rowlings and Scotty Price took a second and fourth in the shot-put. But the best event was the Mile in which little Williams raced past Newtonite Dick Perry and Watertown's ace Tom Woodbury in the final lap to win just a few steps ahead of the latter. The relay was a second team quartet of Snyder, Meade, Haywood and Gould which could only scrape up a third.

Orange Runs Wild Beats Milton 85 1-2 to 27 1-2
In dual competition, Newton won its second meet of the season, running wild over Milton, at Milton. 85 1-2 to 27 1-2. The "Boilermakers" fresh from their opening Quad smash victory, swept the dash, 880 and broad-jump and only gave way to their hosts in the javelin (another new event). Dave Savoy was again top scorer this time getting 10 points for firsts in the high-jump and high hurdles. "Dodo" Shannon took a first in the broad-jump and third in the dash. Johnnie Tripp finished second in both the dash and pole vault for runner-up honors.

Al Rowling's winning 47-8 heave in the shot-put was most surprising with Scotty Price doing 43-2 for a second. Tripp's 10 foot leap for second in the pole vault was outstanding; Kett tied for third. Norm DiGiovanni took a second in the low hurdles, Dunbar was third in the high-hurdles, Gould, Tripp and Shannon were 1-2-3 in the dash. Snyder and Haywood were 1-2 in the 220. Morrison and Lyons were 1-3 in the 440. It was French, Flynn and the kid Williams in that order in the 880 and Perry and Higgins ran first and second in the Mile. Shannon, Farragher and DiGiovanni swept the broad-jump. Pollard was third to Savoy in the high-jump. Moss and Kett were second and third in the javelin. And Shannon, Gruber, Moss and Gould won the relay.

Sacred Heart Is Off to A Winning Streak Again

There seems to be no stopping Sacred Heart of Newton Center. Off to a fine 5-0 start in the Catholic League Division 3 race, it looks like they're on the way to their third successive baseball championship.

The Hanky Barry nine won the title in 1949 and 1950. Their winning streak in league play is now 14 straight. They have an overall 6-2 mark for the season. Non-league games were against St. Clements (Division 2), an opening day loss, then a win over Our Lady's (Division 2) and another loss to St. Sebastian (independent). Hank Barry has a veteran squad which has the following winning line-up: Lynch, second; Frawley, ss; Damon, first; Sullivan, left; Flynn, center; C. Kelley, right; J. Kelley, catcher; and McNulty, third. Paul Donnelly, Tom Sullivan and Charlie Kelley have been sharing the pitching duties and outfield patrol. Their recent win was a 23-7 drubbing over Sacred Heart of Weymouth last Sunday.

May Procession of Newton Parishes, Schools To Be Held Sunday Evening

About seven hundred representatives of Newton schools and parishes will take part in a procession in honor of Our Lady Sunday, from six to seven o'clock in the evening, which will end with the giving of outdoor Benediction by Archbishop Richard Cushing. The Archbishop, at a meeting with priests from the Newton parishes at Newton College of the Sacred Heart Monday, April 30, announced plans for the colorful demonstration in which several local choirs and the CYO band will participate.

City Hall Tulip Display Is Now At Its Finest

One of the most beautiful display of tulips can now be seen in the garden in front of the main entrance of City Hall.

This tulip display, containing approximately 2,000 bulbs, is now at its best and Newton residents should not fail to view the beauty of this display.

The bed was planted under the direction of superintendent of streets Harold Young and his crew of men.

Band Wins A Superior Rating

Over 60 bands and 3,000 people participated. The day was highlighted with a huge parade by the combined bands through the main streets of Marblehead.

Wesley Merritt is the musical instructor for the band and its drill master is Major Joseph Ward.

Parking Meters to Be Installed Here

After months of agitation for possible solution to the parking problem in the several business sections of the city, the Board of Aldermen, with three members dissenting, at its meeting Monday night, voted to set up parking meters in the city.

Vets Oppose Telephone Appeals

Unanimous opposition to telephone solicitations for the sale of tickets and goods, claiming that the proceeds, or part of the proceeds, of these sales is to be used for veterans' welfare was voted by delegates to the United Veterans' Organizations of Newton at their regular monthly meeting at the War Memorial Building last week.

It was pointed out that no Newton veteran organization uses this method of raising funds so that any one of these solicitations are for organizations outside the city and the proceeds of such will in no way benefit Newton veterans.

POLICEWOMEN TO MARCH

The members also voted to seek representation on the Mayor's Veterans' Advisory Committee a committee which advises on and discusses only veteran affairs. The committee Chairman Robert Tennant will be contacted regarding this request.

Chairman William J. Maloney announced that twenty-four Newton Policewomen will march in Newton's Memorial Day parade, under the direction of Traffic Sgt. William H. Dowling.

The Newton Police-Firemen's Glee Club also will take an active part in the memorial exercises on that day.

FOUR BANDS

Four bands will participate in the parade: The Fort Devens Band, the Navy Band from Boston, the Newton High School Band, also the Weeks Junior High School Band.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall will lead the parade as Chief of Staff with Mayor Theodore Lockwood as Chief Marshal and William Maloney as Adjutant General.

The parade will start from Washington street, at Lowell avenue, Newtonville at 10:30 a. m. on Memorial Day with exercises at the Newton Cemetery.

200 Damage Claims Are Entered

The largest single entry in the annals of Middlesex Court, if not the entire State, took place Monday when 104 insurance companies entered claims for two hundred Newton homesteads said to have been damaged by blasting during the construction of the Hultman Aqueduct in this city. The total claims amount to approximately $267,000.

The suits were brought against B. Perini & Sons, Inc., C. J. Maney Company, Inc., Walsh Construction Company, and the Rugo Construction Company, Inc.

In addition it is thought likely that close to 500 cases will eventually be entered as a result of the blasting damage.

Street Commissioner Young was authorized to proceed with negotiations relative to acquisition, installation and maintenance of the parking meters in those parts of the city where off-street parking is provided.

THREE OPPOSE

Opposing the meters were Aldermen Edward A. Fahey, Arthur S. Scipione and President Wendell R. Bauckman.

At the same time the Board voted to take a lot of land on Cypress street, Newton Centre, for off-street parking. Five aldermen opposed this action. The taking of the land will cost $25,000 plus the 1951 taxes. The action taken was approved by a vote of 12 to 5 and the money was appropriated. Opposing the taking were Aldermen Winfield C. Anderson, V. Stoddard Bigelow, Arthur S. Scipione, Edwin A. Terkelsen and Earle D. Wood.

Vote Not To Oppose Fare Increase

As a result of a hearing held before the Franchises and Licenses Committee last week, the Board of Aldermen voted Monday night not to oppose the request of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway for a rise in fares.

The Franchises and Licenses Committee, through Chairman Winfield C. Anderson, stated that representatives of the railway appeared at an informal hearing and stated that there has been no increase in fares by the company since 1919 and that the road has been operating at a deficit for some years.

They also stated that a zone system of fares would not be practical. Consequently the Board voted not to oppose the company's petition at the hearing Tuesday at the State House by the Department of Public Utilities.

Name Society In Honor of Dr. Ernest M. Daland

A unique honor was conferred this week upon Dr. Ernest M. Daland of 85 Homer street, Newton, president of the American Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division and Chief of Staff at Pondville State Cancer Hospital for nearly a quarter of a century, when physicians and surgeons who received their training at Pondville, announced the formation of the "Daland Society," to be composed of past and present resident physicians at the hospital.

The decision to form the Society was made at an informal dinner meeting of the many prominent cancer specialists who received their training at Pondville, the nation's first state-supported cancer hospital.

The announcement of the tribute to Dr. Daland came during the closing days of the fund-raising campaign of the American Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division of which he is president.

DRAW UP BY-LAWS

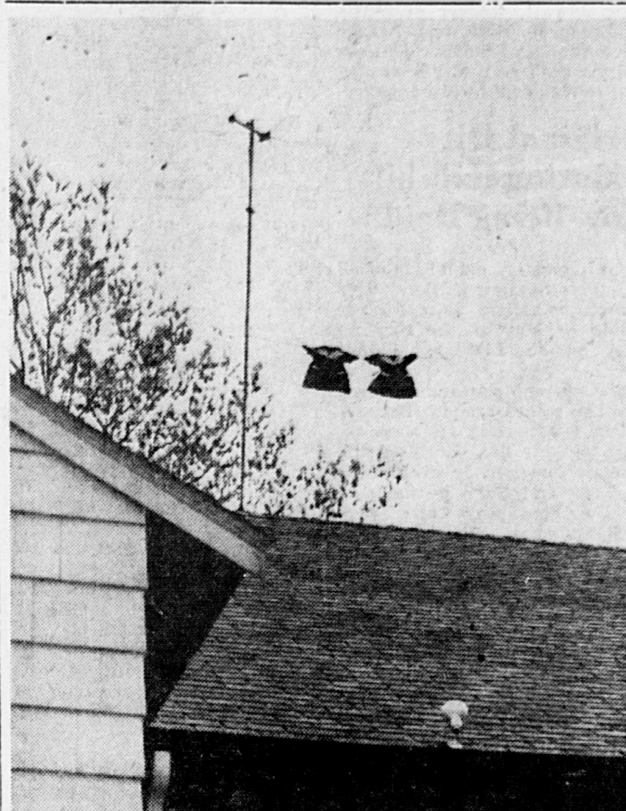

Named to draw up by-laws and a constitution for the Daland Society were Dr. Gerald G. Garcelon, Dr. Ira T. Nathanson and Dr. George White. The three, a surgeon, a physician and a radiologist, received their training at Pondville, and are now on the staff of the hospital as well as being in practice in Boston.

Altogether, nearly 150 physicians and surgeons have been residents at the 24-year-old cancer hospital. Of these, 73 have settled in the Boston area, and others are scattered throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

School Defence Program Held Model for Other Communities

A UNIQUE METHOD of informing the neighbors of the birth of twin daughters was originated by Guy DeSantis of 30 Sunhill Lane, Newton Centre, who hung two girls dresses from the television aerial on his home to proudly proclaim the happy event. The twins were born to Mrs. DeSantis last Friday at the Bay State Hospital, Boston.

Confidence To Overcome Panic Basic of Study

BY GWEN LONDON

Harry L. Walen, English teacher in the Newton schools, has done a remarkable job as Chairman of the Committee on School Preparedness in Newton. Appointed by Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores to this position early in September, 1950, his committee has instituted a successful program of civil defense throughout the Newton public school system.

Many other communities and educational associations have requested information regarding the program, and Mr. Walen has made speeches to many groups in an effort to acquaint the public with his ideas.

The fall program was concerned entirely with school personnel, and it was emphasized by the committee, which included members of the city departments concerned with safety, and the American Red Cross, that no information was to be given to the children. The understanding was that were not to be brought into the plans until public opinion or the course of events made it necessary to tell them of the situation.

Alice was a member of the Rally Committee, the Neophytes, and the Debating Club, in her sophomore year; the National Honor Society, and Tusitania, in her junior year; and Tusitania, the Senior Play, and an Editor of the Newtonite, in her Senior year.

Your Best Girl

By Winfield C. Anderson, Alderman-at-Large, Ward 7, and Editor of "The Atlantic Log," "Clear Cuttings," and "Andirons."

She never asks for much—just your love and respect and the privilege to call you her own.

Whenever things get tough, you can count on her to be on your side all the way. In good times she takes a back seat and lets you bask in the spotlight.

In the ordeal of childbirth she didn't complain but found indescribable joy in the pain which brought you into being. Your slightest achievement she views as a triumph. The least bit of adversity for you is apt to cause her concern way out of proportion to the circumstance.

When you are broken in body or spirit, there is no greater healing than her comforting words of understanding. If Fate deals you an unkind blow, her sympathetic nature gives you the incentive to bounce back.

Her level-headed common sense taught you to evaluate properly. You can thank her for showing you how to make molehills out of mountains.

In illness she comforted and reassured you. In the interest of your happiness, self-denial robbed her of a great many little pleasures.

You are always in her prayers and in her hopes. You always come first in any kind of situation.

She has a boundless faith in your deeds and dreams. Never will she accept defeat nor will she despair over anything involving you.

Until her dying day you are the apple of her eye—even when others may infer that you don't know the score.

If you still have your Mom, a thousand blessings are upon you. If she has passed on, let the memories of her kindness and gentleness bring joy to you as you reminisce.

In either case, she always should hold a special place in your heart . . . always be the special kind of "best girl" who rates your respect and devotion the whole year round. After all . . . no one deserves greater credit for making you what you are today!

New England's INDUSTRIAL LEADERSHIP is built on ELECTRIC POWER

All over New England there's abundant electric power . . . which New England's skilled workers use in abundance to make a huge share of America's goods. In addition there's plenty of electricity for commercial and home uses. And the reason New England has plenty of electric power is because New England business men made it their business to build huge new generating units as fast as possible after World War II. They are still building — so as to serve tomorrow as amply as today.

Newton Profile

By Helen A. Cohen

Blue-eyed, grey-haired, motherly-looking, she is affectionately known as the birthday cake lady at the Murphy General Hospital in Waltham. Officially, she is Mrs. Etta Haverty of Tolman street, West Newton, president of the Newton Chapter of the

MRS. ETTA HAVERTY

Gold Star Mothers of America, and both committeewoman and publicity agent for the State Gold Star Mothers.

Mrs. Haverty, mother of three sons and one daughter, became a Gold Star mother Dec. 9, 1944, when her son, Staff Sgt. Robert Leslie Haverty, aged 19, was declared missing in action over the Adriatic Sea.

"For a long time," Mrs. Haverty says, "life had no real meaning. I did the things I had to do automatically, as far as I was concerned, things had just come to a dead stop."

But in December of 1948, Mrs. Haverty became interested in the Gold Star mothers of Newton. This chapter was being formed with a nucleus of ten women. Banded together with a group of women suffering the same loss, Etta Haverty finally found a new purpose in living.

To quote Mrs. Haverty, "It has given me a new life in my present one, and a purposeful meaning to everything around me."

Her eyes mist over when she talks of her fallen son, but Etta Haverty believes she is doing something her son would want her to do.

"I am just being Mom to someone else's boy. It is what I would want some other mother to do for my boy if the situation was somewhat different."

Spreading her arms wide, and with a twinkle in her eyes, Etta Haverty said, "I wish these arms were long enough to mother all the lonesome veterans that need mothering."

Mrs. Haverty believes in getting things done, and to that end, spares neither herself nor the able and willing members of her organization. The phone rings incessantly; people at the door; cakes decorated for some homesick lady, sit in orderly rows waiting for the Red Cross to get them for delivery to the hospital; questions about chairs for a card party; these are just a few of the things that make up part of her day.

Bubbling with enthusiasm and vitality, Etta Haverty spoke of the wonderful work that is being done by the Gold Star Mothers of Newton. They inaugurated the birthday cake idea, and beginning with April of this year, and in cooperation with the Red Cross, have managed to present a birthday cake to each veteran whose birthday occurred during the month. Now that the Gold Star mothers have started this ball rolling, other organizations will supply birthday cakes for the remaining part of the year.

At Eastertime, the mothers brought to the Murphy General Hospital four dozen of hard cooked eggs, lace, ribbons, bits of colored cloth, glue and paints. The veterans were asked to create characters from the eggs, and free telephone calls to their families back home were awarded to the winners. An egg that emerged as a leprechaun won the first prize and it brought to a lonesome, homesick boy the voice of his loved ones.

Mrs. Haverty headed the group

Miss Mary T. Gilday Wed to Mr. Dargan

Wearing an ivory satin gown, trimmed with lace, and a full length illusion veil, and carrying a prayer book with a white orchid resting upon it, Mary T. Gilday exchanged her marriage vows with James J. Dargan, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Dargan of Brighton, Mass., May 5 at Our Lady Help of Christians Church, Newton.

The Rev. John A. King, S. J., cousin of the bride, officiated at the ceremony, the altar banked with pink and white gladioli for the occasion.

Miss Gilday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilday of Gardner street, Newton, was given away in marriage by her father.

The maid-of-honor, Anne M. Mooney of Lynn, Mass., wore a green net with a large picture hat and carried spring flowers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gilday wore light blue lace with a matching hat, and wore pink roses. Mrs. Dargan, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in aqua crepe and pink hat. Her flowers were pink camellias.

Mr. Thomas F. Dargan of Brighton, performed as best man at his brother's wedding, the role of ushers fell to Thomas E. Dargan, Newtonville, and Robert J. Dunn, Brighton.

A reception at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, followed immediately after the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Dargan will be at home at 65 Ellery road, Waltham.

that presented the Veterans Hospital at West Roxbury with a light-weight wheel chair.

On Armistice Day, 1950, Mrs. Haverty unveiled a memorial to the 62 Newton heroes missing in action. This memorial is believed to be the only one of its kind in the country.

Mrs. Haverty and her mother group participate in the annual Memorial Day parade, and place their own wreath at the memorial to the dead heroes. They even attend services and funeral for veterans.

On Friday, May 11, a mother's day party will be held by the Newton Gold Star Mothers at Murphy General Hospital. Telephone calls home, and flowers wired back to mother are only part of the program planned by Mrs. Haverty.

Funds for all these projects? The amazing part of all this is that all money spent is raised by the mothers themselves thru card parties or cake sales. The birthday cakes are made and given by the mothers or by a timid donor that will leave a cake quietly, without any fanfare, at Etta Haverty's door.

In spite of the tremendous amount of work she has done, and her enthusiastic plans for future doing, Mrs. Haverty is essentially modest and unassuming. She believes that a great amount of the credit should go to the very active members of the organization.

"Without these women — Mrs. Winifred Doherty, Mrs. Mary Gallagher, Mrs. Marie Morgan, Mrs. Rose Casagagnini, I could not have accomplished nearly half the things I have been able to do." Much, much credit is due them, for the cooperation and unquestioning loyalty in doing all the little things that make a big wheel turn smoothly.

Questioned about her aims for the future, Mrs. Haverty says, "There is so much to do, that I don't want to look too far ahead. I only know that I am doing something so soul-satisfying, that I wish I could encourage every Gold Star Mother in Newton to join our ranks."

"I only know that by doing this work I have become both contented and happy, and if my son knows what I am doing, as I am sure he does, I know he is saying, 'THANKS, MOM!'"

With her three older sisters in attendance and wearing the gown they had all worn at their weddings, Olga Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wells of Waban and "Wellswood," New Boston, N. H., will be married this Saturday evening (May 12) to Dr. John Caulfield Dalton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robert Dalton of Norfolk, Va. The ceremony will take place in the Union Church, Waban, with the Rev. Joseph Cony MacDonald officiating.

Since there's sort of a "gentleman's code" among society writers not to describe clothes until the day AFTER the wedding, we'll say nothing more about Olga's gown or those that her sisters, Mrs. S. Doane Cook of Natick, the matron of honor, and Mrs. Raymond A. Ilg, Jr. of Newtonville and Mrs. James R. Chandler, Jr. of Natick, the bridesmaids, will wear. The other three bridesmaids will be Barbara Henderson of Wellesley, Mrs. W. Chester Brimblecom of Waban, and Mrs. Girard F. Oberrender, Jr. of Syracuse, N. Y.

The Wells-Dalton wedding is one gathering where there'll be plenty of "doctors in the house," should any be needed! Ushering will be Dr. Glenn B. Updike of Danville, Va., Dr. Thomas G. Hardy of Farmville, Va., Dr. Daniel Shields of Sugar Grove, Ill., and Dr. Richard Creedon of Metuchen, N. J.; also Joseph M. Harris and Frank Batten of Norfolk, Va., with Charles R. Dalton, Jr. coming up from there too, to be his brother's best man.

Oggie was graduated from Newton High School, where she was elected one of the most attractive girls in her class, in 1945. She's also a graduate of Colby Junior College, Johnnie studied at the Episcopal High School, Alexandria, Va., at the University of Virginia, and at Harvard Medical School. He's on the Harvard Service at Boston City Hospital, and their future home will be Weston.

There's romance in the family of Newton's former mayor, Paul M. Giddard of Auburndale. The Giddard's daughter, Barbara, has a September date set for her wedding to Peter P. Theng, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Theng of Chestnut Hill. Barbara, an alumnus of Abbot Academy, '47, is a member of the graduating class at Wellesley College. Peter prepared at Mt. Herman for Harvard University and also studied at the University of Tennessee.

In the Old South Church, Copley Square, Boston, last Saturday afternoon, May 5, Nathaniel C. Merrill of Newtonville, better known as "Nat," and Barbara Jo Curry of Kokomo, Ind., were married. The bride, a student at the New England Conservatory of Music is soprano soloist at the church. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Curry who came on from Kokomo for the wedding, she had Florence Dunn of Williamstown as her maid of honor and Corine Haller of Salem as bridesmaid.

Nat's father, Mr. Henry W. Merrill, was his best man and a brother, Henry W. Merrill, Jr. of Greensboro, Vt., ushered with Henry H. Williams, Jr. of Dalton, Nelson T. (Bud) Everts of Newtonville, and John L. Cunningham of Fort Worth, Texas. Nat's on the faculty at Boston University and also studies at the Conservatory. He was graduated from Dartmouth in 1948, and is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Janet Goff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke L. Goff of Newton, will be a bride in the not-so-far future. She's engaged to John Andrew Guitai, Jr., son of the John A. Guitais of Merrick, New York. Janet was graduated from Dana Hall and Mt. Holyoke College, and has been doing cancer research. Her fiance is a graduate of M. I. T., where he is now working for his master's degree. He's a member of Phi Sigma Kappa and Kappa Kappa Sigma, honorary chemical society, and he served with the Army Medical Corps during the war.

Merrill-Curry Nuptials Held In Old South Church, Boston

Miss Barbara Jo Curry was married to Mr. Nathaniel C. Merrill, son of Mr. Henry W. Merrill and the late Mrs. Merrill, of Kirtland road, Newtonville, at the chapel of Old South Church, Boston, May 5. Dr. Frederick M. Meek, officiating at a double ring ceremony.

Miss Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Curry, Kokomo, Indiana, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina length gown with an illusion veil, and carried white orchids and Stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Florence Dunn, of Williamstown, Mass., wore iridescent taffeta and carried a nosegay of spring flowers. The bridesmaid, Miss Corine Haller, Salem, Mass., wore peach iridescent taffeta and carried a nosegay of spring flowers. The mother of the bride wore a dusky rose lace over taffeta with a flower hat. Her flowers were orchids.

Mr. Henry W. Merrill, father of the bridegroom, was his son's best man. The ushers were Henry H. Williams, Dalton, Mass.; Nelson Everts, Newtonville; John L. Cunningham, Ft. Worth, Texas; Henry W. Merrill, Jr., Greensboro, Vt.

A reception in the vestry of the Old South Church followed immediately after the ceremony.

Mother's Day

Mother's Day will be observed on next Sunday, May 13. On this day America pays its tribute of love and affection to the mothers of the nation, when God's harbinger of the Spring, bright flowers, are worn as a symbolic expression of respect for man's best friend, "Mother."

Year after year young and old alike thus become boys and girls again on this day as they gaze down the long vista of life in recalling the years when gentle arms shielded them from pain and when wise words of counsel solved problems that loomed large in young eyes.

This innate wisdom of mothers guides and strengthens them in all their trials, transmuting sacrifice into joy, giving significance to every task, and infusing them with a superlative degree of courage to face down adversity.

As a result, these consecrated lives, imbued with love and devotion, exert a benign influence over the family circle, and under this hallowed reign early training in religious principles, social behavior and civic uprightness are firmly rooted.

As we look out upon the troubled world we know today, we can well give thanks then for the mothers of America who persevere in their unselfish devotion to their children, nurturing them in bodily strength while at the same time providing the sound moral training on which sound character must be founded.

Healthy family groups are the foundation stone of our nation. With the continuity of happy and peaceful home living, our country, regardless of exterior pressures, will remain strong and united from within. To the degree that our family ties, under the watchful and prayerful guidance of good mothers, represent ties of silken cords will our homes "reflect an image of heaven."

Is Newton Going To The Dogs?

Newton is going to the dogs! Actually, this is not as frightening as it sounds. According to figures compiled by the City Clerk, the figures on dog registrations are steadily increasing. In 1950, 4,644 dogs were licensed in this city. This is an approximate increase of 25 percent in the past ten years.

For this year, up to and including the month of April, which is usually the heaviest registration month, 3,312 dogs signed in. From all indications, it looks like 1951 may be a banner year here.

The Third Anniversary

This month marks the third anniversary of the Declaration of Independence for the State of Israel, conceived, like our own country, by a handful of visionaries eager to found a nation which would serve as a haven of safety for persecuted peoples.

In commemoration of its third anniversary, the State of Israel has instituted a half billion dollar Independence Bond issue, proceeds of which will be used to carry out the country's economic expansion program, which is designed to establish Israel as a financially sound nation.

This gallant nation has already established itself as a bulwark of democracy in the Near East and as one of our strongest allies in the struggle to preserve the ideals of liberty and justice throughout the world.

The bond issue and the young democratic State of Israel merit the support, not only of Jews of our community, but of freedom-loving citizens everywhere.

Current Comment

Unemployment Compensation Bill Delayed; Court Voids Old Age Assistance Bill . . .

Chiselers are carrying away millions of dollars in unemployment compensation funds as a result of the chicanery of employees and employers.

There is a serious danger that the fund created to protect honest and bona fide workers may go broke.

Massachusetts industry is being placed at a distinct disadvantage in its efforts to compete with businesses in the rest of the country.

Officials in the State employment security division declare that the trouble lies with the present law and that its loopholes and leaks should be plugged and the legal plundering halted.

Attorney General Francis E. Kelly is now preparing to go into court to prosecute the most flagrant chiselers, not those who climbed through the loopholes in the law but those who violated the law entirely and lied and created in order to secure benefits.

So one group of legislators, on whom the responsibility rests for doing something about the situation have come up with a bright idea. Their suggestion is that the matter be referred to a recess commission which would study the problem later in the year after the Legislature completes its business and recesses until 1952.

That, of course, would accomplish nothing. It is highly improbable that any recess commission would come up with any facts which aren't known now or that some of our law-makers would display any more courage about meeting the problem than they show now.

The fact is that there is an urgent and pressing need for revising the law this year to weed out the spongers, the loafers and the leeches, and that to sidetrack that issue would be to avoid a responsibility which clearly confronts the Legislature.

The amount of backing and filling on the entire matter, however, has been amazing. Some law-makers obviously are apprehensive about incurring the displeasure of certain labor agents who seemingly oppose any reforms in the present law, even though they are necessary for the protection of the vast majority of workers.

This is not to imply that all legislators are lacking in courage. A very great number have both the courage of their convictions and the will to put their views into action. But if you follow closely the present controversy on Beacon Hill you may be surprised at the number who would be perfectly content to allow the present abuses to continue along uncorrected.

Drive Will Be Made for New Old Age Bill

The august members of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court took our State legislators off the spot and placed Attorney General Francis E. Kelly on it the other day when they ruled out the old age assistance referendum which was approved by the voters last November.

Until that unanimous decision was made, the lawmakers were seated on the sharp horns of a dilemma, hopefully waiting for someone to remove them from it.

They didn't want the poorly drawn and extremely costly old age measure to go onto the statute books of the Commonwealth, and they were wary of the political consequences if they took it off by their own action.

The fact that Attorney General Kelly disregarded some salient points in framing the summary of the issue, which was printed on the ballots, left the opening for the Supreme Court to rule the entire matter invalid.

Now, however, the Legislature is back in a position where it is facing the issue all over again, with the problem still of determining just how far it will go in liberalizing the old age assistance law and how it will finance the additional cost involved.

There isn't much doubt but that a strong drive will be made on Beacon Hill to grant greater benefits to elderly men and women in needy circumstances but that some features of the referendum will be carefully discarded.

The provision that sons and daughters, regardless of their financial status, are relieved of any responsibility for supporting needy parents will be dropped as, of course, it should be.

Non-citizens probably will not be made eligible for the old-age benefits, and there is little likelihood of the eligibility age being lowered from 65 to 63 as provided in the referendum.

The main step to be taken will be to increase the amount of assistance for the men and women now on the old age rolls or who become eligible for it in the future, and it is expected that this revision will be approximately along the lines specified in the referendum.

Now that they are down to cold realities, the most perplexing problem facing the law-makers is where they are going to get the money for whatever changes they do make in the old age assistance measure.

With almost everyone feeling the pinch of higher living costs and mounting taxes, it is pretty well accepted that there no longer are any "painless" taxes, and if this Legislature can come up with any ideas for any it will be a rather spectacular discovery.

Our guess is that the additional expense will be met with another penny assessment on cigarettes and probably another boost in the State income taxes.

A strong-armed thief broke into the Mall-eable Casting Co. in St. Louis and stole 140 lead bars weighing 3½ tons.

Mrs. Richard Biddle of Highland Park, Ill., finally received her 1951 automobile registration plates after they had been sent by mistake to her soldier husband at Fort Sheridan and had been forwarded from there to Japan and then to Korea.

An advertisement in the Seattle, Wash., Times told of a "good opportunity for an inefficient stenographer to work until we can secure an efficient one."

A dispute at a meeting of the Austrian Dove Breeders' Association in Kufstein, Austria, saw four men and two women, all raisers of the birds of peace, removed to a hospital. The damage was estimated at $50.

Seeking higher wages from the O'Connell Packing Co., makers of dog and cat foods, the Cannery Workers' Union picketed the plant with two packing house workers and two Dalmatian dogs.

Innkeeper George North had to hike out into the snows on Mount Hood, Ore., to rescue his St. Bernard dog which was stranded for four days on a rocky ledge. That comes in the man-bites-dog category.

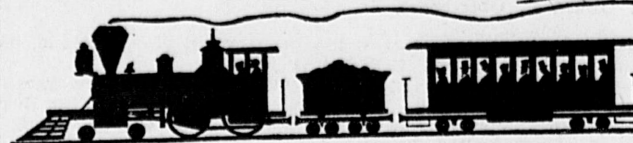

Trolley Car Island

In the middle of my town there stands a lifted isle, Concrete and granite-curbed. You may discover every style Of person there, waiting to pay for a seat to town, Eager to pillage a neighbor of gold's competing crown.

Like waves the people crowd the narrow spot Some aching for all that is—and some for what is not. Men who have lost a dream but still go dreaming on And the dream carves wrinkles on their brows of stone. Women are there, quite unrewarded, quite disowned By every promise that vanished years had shown; Still they crowd the trolley, hiding the secret pity That attends the purchase of a dress,—there in the city!

'Tis a sea of people all day long around my island's shore! Waves of humans loaded with precious invisible store! They know me not. I know them not. Yet still I dare to say That through the trolley's granite mass there shines the light of day!

On Wednesday of last week the new car house of the Boston Elevated railway on Galen street Watertown, was used for the first time. The new building is a model structure. Besides the fine waiting-room in front, which is as yet unused, there are separate locker rooms for the motor cars, which are arranged on two floors, are made of black steel wire and are large and airy. The car-house can accommodate 130 cars; but as yet is only partly occupied. The entrance is by two tracks, which branch out finally into ten. In the rear are the repair and blacksmith shops.

We have it on the best authority that the L road does not intend to make this car-barn the terminal of the Newton cars, and that the crowding of cars every night and morning in Nonantum square will still continue unless the public remonstrates.

In the face of the crying needs for additional school accommodations all over the city, the proposed new police station appears to be in the nature of a luxury.

The Boston Music Hall announces a showing of vaudeville soon. Vaudeville novelties are difficult to obtain these days, but one will be featured in the program of the week of May 13, in the person of Sam Elton, who appears in an eccentric sketch called "Speechless, or Domestic Mishaps." The act is noteworthy for its quiet comedy and the oddly employed agility of the performer and should be a great laughmaker.

With a remarkable series of meetings awakening memories of earlier days and full of inspiration for a future of growing influence, Channing Church observed its 75th anniversary on May 9 and 10.

The Unitarian Parish Playhouse at Newton Centre was filled with large audiences on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings of last week, when The Village Players presented "Say It With Diamonds," a 3-act play by Lawrence Stern.

If you love birds and are anxious to know more about their habits and their songs, this is the ideal time of the year to study them. The Newton Free Library has a large list of bird books, many of them beautifully illustrated, to help you in your search.

-Volunteers Are Serving Hospital In Many Ways-

66 Years of Service Marked By Hospital Aid

Back in 1885, the year before the Newton Cottage Hospital was built, 33 ladies met in the parlors of the Elliot Church in response to a call issued by the trustees. To quote the report of the times, "Not a few of them, in their visits of kindness among the poor, had seen the need for a clean, well-ventilated room for the sick." The following resolution was adopted: "That the ladies of Newton associate themselves as a Ladies Aid Association for the purpose of working for the hospital." How well they have achieved that aim is reflected in the vigorous condition of today's hospital auxiliary, which numbers over two thousand women. Over the past sixty-six years they have contributed goods, services, scholarships and money grants in excess of $200,000.

MRS. GEORGE GRAVES. Newton Center, Volunteer Ward Helper on 3-s, men's ward, has been coming to the hospital two mornings a week since 1943. She makes a special point of being in on Thanksgiving and Christmas and other holidays when staff likes to have some free time.

There have been only ten presidents in seven decades: Mrs. Alvah Hovey, Mrs. N. Emmmons Paine, Mrs. James P. Tolman, Mrs. H. H. Carter, Mrs. George H. Talbot, Mrs. Maynard Hutchins, Mrs. Charles B. Floyd, Mrs. Theron B. Walker, and Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback. Mrs. Robert Moore has been president an outstanding success is amply demonstrated by its constant patronage by graduate and student nurses, doctors, employees, volunteers and visitors.

Dues from members account for only part of the funds raised by the Hospital Aid. Bridge and fashion shows have been run during many years, resulting in substantial profits to the Aid and concerts and lectures have been well attended. Last year the Lowell Thomas, Jr. lecture at Symphony Hall brought in $2,212. These funds have been expended in a large number of ways to benefit the hospital. Each year scholarships are provided for nurses and special financial assistance is available when needed. The new infant formula room, costing more than $8,000 was a gift of the Hospital Aid as was the furnishing of the Father's Room in the obstetrical department. Sterilizers, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, wheelchairs, humidifiers and mannequin dolls for use in the School of Nursing are but a few of the hundreds of useful items that have been presented to the hospital.

Two major pledges totalling $50,000 were made to the hospital's building fund drive and to date, $35,000 has been paid against these commitments. This is truly an impressive achievement for the ladies of Newton and Wellesley.

A relatively recent innovation has been the formation of the Junior Aid which has grown rapidly since its inception during the presidency of Mrs. Ernest Rallsback. According to its by-laws, the Junior Aid is organized for the purpose of helping the hospital and enlarging the membership to interest more women in this worthwhile work. Membership is open to all who have an interest in the hospital.

The Junior Aid has selected the nursery as its pet project and has already contributed an oxygen hood, two incubators and other equipment. Funds are raised by conducting dances, evenings of bridge and lectures. Many members of the junior group work as volunteers and its earning president, Mrs. J. Munro, of Wellesley has been most faithful as a ward helper in the maternity ward.

As Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, Director of the hospital, said in his annual report to the trustees,

Volunteers Fulfill 24 Different Types of Jobs

You don't have to be a nurse, or even particularly interested in medicine, to work effectively as a volunteer at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital local Red Feather Service. Altogether last year more than six hundred people gave of their skills to the hospital, filling twenty-four different categories of work. And we could have used more.

Volunteer workers helped in the dietary department, in Central Supply, in the library, in the Record Office, as typists, stenographers and filing clerks. They filled in as ward helpers, hospital aides and orderlies. They worked in sewing groups and made surgical dressings. There were volunteer readers, laboratory workers and registered nurses. They worked in the accountants' office, with the Occupational Therapy department and in X-ray. Virtually every aspect of hospital activity offered some opportunity to the volunteers. From both Newton and Wellesley came some 385 independent hospital volunteers to contribute almost 14,000 hours of assistance. The Coffee Shop was largely staffed by ladies of the Hospital Aid, of whom some 175 gave approximately 16,000 hours.

Let us look for a moment at an average day of volunteer work at the hospital. During the day there were 30 people engaged in voluntary activities, giving a total of 102 hours. There were 15 Red Cross Nurse's Aides, including four men, who worked an average of three hours apiece. One production worker gave five hours, and one secretary four hours. Eight ward helpers were on duty for four hours apiece. Two typists gave a total of ten hours. A reader, Miss Brady, read for two and one half hours. Perry Dickinson was kept busy for two and one half hours in central supply and one lady worked for an hour in the library.

For those who have the necessary physical and emotional stamina there is much interesting work that can be done in actively assisting with patient care. For this work training is essential and can be obtained through the several services of the Red Cross. For others there are many other opportunities to be found among the categories listed above.

FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE TO NEWTON EVERY WEEK. Mrs. William Bailey, of Goffstown, N. H., accompanies her husband to Boston every week while he is here on business. She spends a full day each week at the hospital working as a volunteer secretary and typist, and, when work is heavy, devotes a second day to her free duties.

The value of the volunteer worker was dramatically proven at the time of the Waltham fire and explosion. All of the professional staff at the hospital was mobilized to care for these horribly burned and injured men, but their efforts alone could not have coped with the tremendous work burden that was suddenly imposed on the hospital, so the volunteers stepped in and worked side by side with the professional staff. Volunteers kept track of the countless messages and answered inquiries about the condition of the individual men. Others helped lift and carry, while still others ran errands. The more experienced of the volunteers helped with the nursing care—made beds, sat with seriously ill patients and in general did whatever heavy work they were equipped to handle. A number of them worked all night for several nights. When the dust had finally settled and there was a chance to evaluate the situation, the director stated that without the willing co-operation of the volunteers the hospital would have been hard pressed to meet its challenge.

There is something of an especial satisfaction that comes to those who work at the hospital. Almost without exception those who do give time to this type of work feel that they are repaid many times over. An appreciative word, a sigh of relief or sometimes even a glance can convey a reward that compensates many times over for the effort put into the work.

Children Welcome Miss Brady's Songs, Stories

Hundreds of children look back on their stay at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and remember the enchantment wrought by the story telling of Miss Alice Brady. For many of them the days have gone faster and they have been able to forget for a while their pain and discomfort because of the talented devotion of this warm-hearted woman. Miss Brady comes to Porter-Dennison Ward, the Pediatric section of the hospital, every day and brings with her a magic carpet of songs and stories to make hospital routines and homesickness vanish into the world of fiction.

Born in England, Miss Brady was educated at private schools abroad and at the Universities of Michigan and California at Los Angeles. During the First World War, Miss Brady was a 1st Lieutenant in Queen Mary's Auxiliary Army Corps. She came to this country in 1921 and embarked on a career of social service in the United States, during which time she specialized in Child Welfare and Mental Hygiene. For twelve years, Miss Brady directed her own nursery school in California.

When war clouds re-appeared on the horizon at the start of children react under stress, for she was engaged in mental hygiene work for evacuee children in England for a considerable period during the recent war. She has preserved some of her experiences in the book, "Children Under Fire," which she wrote in order to convey a clearer understanding of the reactions of youngsters to world-shaking events and terrifying personal experiences.

Miss Brady brings to her volunteer work at the hospital this great wealth of background and experience in dealing with children who are forced by illness to be away from their homes and their normal routines. "It takes us a couple of days to win their confidence," Miss Brady smiles, "but before long they forget their tears and fears and learn that the hospital is really a very nice place after all." Realizing that a child whose body is sick undoubtedly is struggling with an emotional problem as well in being away from their families, Miss Brady's gentle manner and winning reassurance go far towards putting the youngsters on the road back to health.

Hospital days could be both dreary and frightening if it were not for the welcome distraction

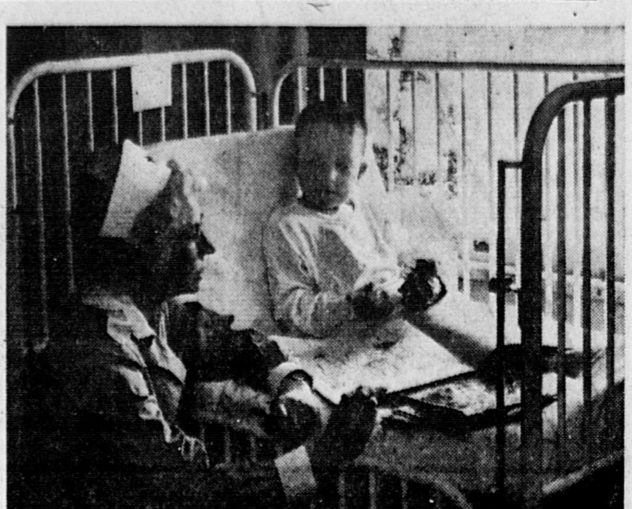

STORY HOUR COMES TO THE CHILDREN'S WARD—Miss Alice Brady captures her young audience by reading an engrossing story. Charles James Murphy, of West Newton, lies in bed and listens, while Neil Buchanan of Newton Highlands and Kathleen Riley, of Newton Center, sit spell-bound in their wheelchairs.

World War II, Miss Brady was appointed Chief Escort and Liaison Officer in charge of welfare and recreation during the evacuation of British children from bomb-ravaged England. This work was carried forward under the direction of the United States Committee for the Care of European Children. During this difficult period, she lectured in the United States for the U. S. Committee on Child Welfare and Evacuation in War. She also made a number of radio and television appearances for the same cause.

She had the opportunity to observe at first hand how chilprovided by a song, a lullaby or a tale of cowboys and Indians. It is hard to think of a pain in the tummy or a sore throat or the discomfort of a cast when pursuing a band of Navahoes down the draw or walking through Sherwood Forest with Robin Hood or climbing the stairs with Christopher Robin. And the nurses find that it is easier to persuade Tom to take his pill and Mary to stand her injection if the promise of a story goes with the treatment. With a heart as generous as her smile, Miss Brady, with her songs and stories has won her way into the hearts of literally hundreds of children.

A GRAY LADY AND A COLORING BOOK AND SICKNESS IS FORGOTTEN—Mrs. Ruth N. Grant, Red Cross Gray Lady, helps Andrew Rutkowski select the 'zack right color crayon.' Mrs. Grant has served almost 3,000 hours as a Gray Lady at the hospital.

Seven Red Cross Services Function At Hospital

Both Newton and Wellesley Chapters of the American Red Cross play a vital role in volunteer activities at your Newton-Wellesley Hospital. And as the threat of war looms ever larger, there is an accelerated need for additional trained workers at the hospital. This past year, for the first time since 1947, new courses for Nurse's Aides and Gray Ladies have been conducted at the hospital by the Red Cross. One striking innovation has been the completion of a course in Nurse's Aide work for a pilot group for men, the first of its kind in the country. Altogether seven men—three from Wellesley and four from Newton—have completed the requisite 80 hours of classroom teaching and actual ward experience and have received their certificates.

21 Gray Ladies from Newton and Wellesley gave more than 1,100 hours of service last year. They worked both in the Out-Patient Department and on the wards. They helped patients with correspondence; undertook shopping errands, taught simple crafts; ran countless errands; they filled water pitchers and arranged bouquets of flowers; to and from the hospital, transferring patients and obtaining bloods and supplies. The members of this service must be over 18 years of age, prove that they are experienced drivers with good records and meet the physical requirements.

Perhaps less well known, but certainly of tremendous value to the hospital are volunteer Red Cross Production workers. Rollers of bandages, packers of dressings, skilled in the preparation of materials for sterilization, 15 ladies from the two communities gave over 1600 hours of time to the hospital in 1950.

Sometimes it almost seems as if a hospital demands as much paper work as an army. Red Cross Staff Assistants helped to type, file and keep a myriad of records. The Volunteer Office at the hospital was staffed in part by Red Cross Staff Aides. Their office skills helped maintain the order that is so vital to the successful functioning of this type of non-profit institution.

567 pints of blood were made available to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital last year by the Red Cross. And about 100 more walk-in donors were Red Cross re-they supplied secretarial help on the wards and worked in the library. They brought with them a charm, skill and tact that went far to build the high morale enjoyed by your hospital.

During 1950, 35 Nurse's Aides helped share the burden of providing good nursing care. Together they contributed over 1600 hours of valuable assistance. They took and recorded temperatures, pulses and respirations; they gave morning and evening cares, made hundreds of beds and rubbed numberless backs. They helped to keep supplies and equipment in order; they worked in emergency rooms and in the obstetrical department. Indeed, one of them Mrs. Theron B. Walker, has, since 1943, totalled 1680 hours working in the delivery rooms. These ladies worked in clinics, with the blood program and with the pilot heart study. Their duties are implied by their title—they are nurse's aides in the truest sense of the word and do nurses are being called back into service and as Civil Defense plans expand, many more Nurse's Aides are needed and additional training groups are constantly being formed. Almost as if to prove that this type of work can be fitted into a busy schedule, Mrs. E. P. Benjamin of Wellesley has given 1,060 volunteer hours as an aide since 1945 and has taken time out to have two children!

The Motor Service supplied 81 drivers last year who gave almost 900 hours transporting patients crucited. Dr. Skinner, laboratory Chief at the hospital, credits the Red Cross with supplying about 40% of the blood used locally. Last year, in Newton, about 1200 pints of blood were given through Bloodmobiles and other sources, of which almost half was returned for use right here at home. Blood was also made available to patients from the two communities who were hospitalized in Boston. And, of course, much blood was sent overseas for use by the men in our armed forces. The Red Cross points out that no blood is wasted. If it becomes outdated, it is fractionated and processed for many other life-giving uses. It is a constant challenge to your local Red Cross to see that blood quotas are met. Give your blood if you can. It is painless. And the life that you save may be your own.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert W. Moore, of Waban, who is also President of the Hospital Aid, the Volunteer Services of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross look forward to another year of unselfish devotion to the community's interests. In Wellesley, a like group under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry B. Rising anticipates a healthy growth in interest in and activity for the Red Cross.

VOLUNTEERS ORDER SNACK IN COFFEE SHOP—Miss Leah Keever, 1st Vice President of the Hospital's Junior Aid, Mrs. Rollin B. Fisher, of Wellesley, a volunteer in the Gift Shop, and Mrs. James Munro, of Wellesley, President of the Junior Aid give their orders to volunteer Mrs. Henry L. Johnson, of Newton. Members of the teaching staff of the hospital's school of nursing are seated at the fountain.

during 1950 and 1951. Miss Maida Flanders has served as Treasurer of the Aid for years.

In 1944, when the hospital became the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the name of the hospital aid was changed accordingly. The previous year had seen the opening of the Coffee Shop under the able direction of Mrs. Walter McGill and Mrs. Theron B. Walker. Mrs. Henry T. Patch has given every Monday to work in the Coffee Shop for many years. These ladies have closely supervised the development of the Coffee Shop to the point where it now brings in an annual gross revenue of over $40,000. In 1950 the Coffee Shop gave $5,000 to the Hospital Aid, and from 1944 to 1950 the shop has given $23,000 to the hospital.

Situated in an abandoned operating suite the shop consists of a main restaurant equipped with a fountain which can serve 88 customers at one time, a kitchen, office, storeroom and gift shop. Most of the customers are hospital personnel and visitors; there being no other good eating place in the vicinity. Largely staffed by volunteers (with the exception of two paid dieticians, a director of volunteers, a cleaning man and a part-time bookkeeper) the shop last year showed the impressive total of 16,000 volunteer hours. In 1950, 105,247 food customers were served. Gross sales in the gift shop under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Paul Ingraham and Mrs. George Prather for the same year came to $10,000. That the Coffee Shop has proven your hospital needs your help. Find out how good it feels to be a hospital volunteer.

Mrs. Frank Clark, wife of Dr. Clark, is responsible for Hospital Aid recruiting in Newton. Mrs. Paul T. Babson is co-chairman for Wellesley.

JOSEPH COLLELIA IS MORE INTERESTED IN THE CAMERA THAN IN HIS MILK. But Mrs. H. Drew Flegal, of Auburndale, an independent ward aide at the hospital, will see to it that Joe finishes every drop. Mrs. Flegal works from 9-3 one day each week.

GIFT SHOP BRINGS WELLS-COME REVENUE. Mrs. Townsend Cushman prepares to wrap a gift for Mrs. A. S. Karfi, of Newton Center, Volunteer Secretary in Personnel Office one afternoon a week. The shop is stocked with a most attractive display of gifts and sold more than $10,000 of goods last year.

Mr. Jack Andelman of Chestnut Hill, has worked at the hospital as a volunteer orderly Saturday mornings from 8 to 12 for more than two years.

College groups are active at the hospital—girls coming from Wellesley College, from Dana Hall and from Lasell Junior College. From Newton High School come girls over sixteen years old. Orientation for these groups is given in classes by the Volunteer Director.

MRS. FRANK WATSON'S STORY DRAWS A SMILE FROM LADIES OF SEWING GROUP.
—All during the year, ladies from church and community groups meet at the hospital to sew the many items needed to keep the hospital going. Pictured here are ladies from the Union Church of Waban and the Community Service Club of West Newton. Reading from left to right: Mrs. Herbert Cotton, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. T. J. Ferguson, Mrs. Payson Upham, Mrs. Edward Landers, Chairman, Union Church Group, Mrs. John L. Esart, Mrs. Chester Wilson, Chairman, West Newton Group, Mrs. Woods Coty, Miss Hattie Linnell, Mrs. Frank Watson, Mrs. George Thompson.

Sewing Group Take Many Stitches and Save Time

Dressing towels and draw sheets, bed pan covers and basin pads, pot holders and pitcher covers, dresses and dish towels, sheets and syringe covers, tub cloths and table covers for the operating room, all these and thousands of other items are made for the hospital each year through the volunteer efforts of ladies' sewing groups. Working either as church organizations, as community groups, or as individuals, altogether some five thousand separate pieces were produced by the facile fingers of volunteer sewers last year.

The Wellesley Junior Service League, the Wellesley Friendly Aid, the West Newton Community Group, the Waban Union Church Group and the Second Congregational Church Group of West Newton were but a few among the many sewing circles benefit during 1950.

Some of the work is done at home, some in meetings at church and a large part is carried on right at the hospital. The West Newton Community Group comes to the hospital on the first Tuesday of each month right through the year, and the Union Church Group is on hand on the second Wednesday of each month, except during the summer.

Woman's Club, the Daughters of the British Empire, the Hospital Junior Auxiliary, the Noyes Sewing Group, the Church of the Messiah, the Newton Centre Congregational Church, the Baptist Church in Newton Centre, Trinity, Wellesley Congregational Church, Eliot Congregational and St. Philip Neri of Waban all meet to sew for the hospital.

In addition, 347,000 surgical dressings of all types were made by women volunteers working at home, in churches and in hospitals.

Grace Church To Hold Parish Fair Saturday, May 19

Grace Church, Newton, is holding a Parish Fair Saturday, May 19, to raise funds for scholarships at the Episcopal Theological School. Sad to relate, the accumulation of scholarship funds at this Cambridge school has failed to keep pace with an enrollment trebled in the last 25 years. Unlike the students of the lush Twenties, most of today's young seminarians are quite on their own financially and need far more scholarship aid. It is to help bridge this gap that the people of Grace Church are bending their not inconsiderable energies.

All who come to the Fair at the corner of Church and Elbridge streets will be entitled to vote in the contest for the most attractively decorated booth for which a prize will be awarded. But there is a prize for everyone in the exceptional values this Fair provides.

Homemade bread, cookies, cakes and pies will be offered by Mrs. H. William Kugler, chairman, and Mmes. F. Stuart Friend, George P. Buell, John Collier, Frank K. Perkins, William Pyatt and Lucius Wheeler.

Needlework of infinite variety and exquisite workmanship will be sold by Mrs. Donald MacKenzie, chairman, and Miss Kathleen Crowley, Mmes. Agnes Downie, Mmes. Lester Gee, Ezekiel Myra, Robert Schliephake and Daniel White.

Baby clothes and stuffed toys will be found in the Kiddie Shop supervised by Mrs. John McKittrick, chairman, and Miss Margaret Bickstaffe, Mmes. Clinton C. Brown, Robert E. Clark, Benjamin Dasher, Amos Hall, Miss Martha Stickey, and Mrs. H. Frederick Weston, Jr.

The Gift Shop's painted trays and boxes are sponsored by Mrs. Fitz W. Perkins, chairman, and Mrs. John Chant, Miss Mabel Chase, Mmes. F. D. Mahood, John Newall, and William Van Buskirk.

Delicious homemade candy may be bought from Mrs. Arthur E. Akeroyd, chairman and Mmes. Robert D. Bickstaffe, Julius W. Kohler and James L. Tullis.

Objects d'art, useful objects and objects of no use whatsoever will be found among the White Elephants of Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, chairman, and Mmes. Louis Aronson, Reinier Beuwkes Jr., John P. Cochran, Edward A. Craddock, Charles Dearborn, Elmer L. Ford, David Hamblen, Sterling N. Loveland, Arthur D. Quimby, John Swanton, Kenneth L. N. Yukes, and George K. Zipp.

The Green Grocer's fresh fruits and vegetables are the province of Mr. Frederick F. Hossbach, chairman and Mrs. Hossbach, Mr. and Mrs. Milford E. Fillmore, Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Knights and Mr. and Mrs. August C. Schluter.

Light lunches will be cooked on the spot and on short order by Mr. William J. Ford, Jr., chairman, and Mrs. Joseph C. Cosman, Miss Sally Ann Larsen, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Prescott and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wall.

Ice cream and pop will be dispensed from the Soda Fountain tal's Central Supply Department. It would be staggering to think of what the cost to the hospital might be, were we forced to pay for this type of assistance. Certainly the added cost would be reflected in higher rates, so these loyal ladies are making a very direct contribution to the community's welfare.

Then, too, there is much mending to be done and a constant backlog of materials which can be reclaimed and processed for re-use. It would be impossible to reckon the total contribution that the sewing groups and production workers have made to the hospital over the years, but their efforts fulfill a need that is ever with us and will always exist as long as we have voluntary hospitals.

Doors open at 10 a.m. and shut at 5 p.m. Auction sales will be conducted by Mr. Joseph J. Gura at 11, 2 and 5, while Miss Elizabeth S. Bell's pretty vendors Mrs. Edgar S. Burkhardt, Jr., Mrs. Harold E. Crowley, Miss Persis E. Gleason, and Mrs. Harry W. Romsey will carry their trays of wares through the throng all day long. In addition there will be square dancing in the street from 7 to 9 p.m. with the best of callers under the management of Mr. Harold E. Crowley, chairman.

The arrangements for all this bustle of activity are the responsibility of Mr. Alfred W. Boltenback, chairman, and Messrs. John S. Chant, William J. Ford, Sr., Edmund J. MacDonald and William L. Scout Exposition Is Huge Success

"Never realized that the Exposition would be so big," was the comment of one visitor to "Your Scouts in Action," held last Saturday at the Newton High School. Actually, it was a mammoth show, filling the gym, the nearby drill shed and the grounds between with a spirited display of Scouting zeal.

It would not be possible to give individual credit to all the Scout groups who contributed to the success of the Exposition. Each of the 70-odd booths presented a graphic display, revealing that a great amount of initiative and endeavor had gone into its preparation. They added up to a better conception of what Scouting is and does than a thousand words.

About 7,500 people attended the Exposition. The profits are to be devoted to much-needed permanent facilities at the winter and summer camping areas of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Booklet Issued by Newton Health Department Serving as Model for Many States in the Country

In the four months since publication of the booklet, "Planning Low Sodium Meals," by the Newton Health Department, requests have been received from thirty-one States for nearly 10,000 copies. Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Public Health, announced today. Requests have come from physicians, hospitals, medical schools, schools of public health, State health departments, and voluntary health agencies.

Dr. Morris said the booklet, along with a "Low Sodium Cookbook" produced by the Massachusetts Heart Association, will soon serve as a model for a similar publication by national organizations.

PUBLISHED IN DECEMBER
Designed to help patients with certain heart conditions and other patients who are placed on sodium restriction, the Newton booklet was published in December by the Newton Health Department in cooperation with Newton Nutrition Center, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and Massachusetts Department of Public Health. The project, undertaken as part of the Health Department's Heart Demonstration Program, is an outstanding example of cooperative action.

The Heart Program's medical advisory group, the Cardiac Program Committee, recognized the need for helping patients stay on low sodium diets. The physicians on this committee, all from the staff of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, pointed out the importance of low sodium diets in treating congestive heart failure and high blood pressure as well as certain other conditions. But they found that many patients had difficulty following a diet which omitted salt, baking soda, baking powder, and foods containing sodium.

To study possible approaches, the Cardiac Program Committee's Subcommittee on Nutrition, headed by Dr. Arthur D. Baldwin, made plans for a survey of problems encountered by patients who had been placed on a low sodium diet.

KEEPS RECORD
Miss Pearl A. Thoreson, nutritionist with the Heart Demonstration Program, gave diet instruction to forty-one patients over a six-month period and kept a record of their suggestions. This survey revealed: (1) a need for standardization so that physicians, hospital nurses and dietitians, and public health nutritionists and nurses would all be teaching similar diets, reducing unnecessary confusion for patients; and, (2) a need for more understandable information about ways of making low sodium diets appetizing and nutritious.

Acting on these findings, representatives of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Newton Nutrition Center, and Newton Health Department conferred many times to work out an acceptable solution. These representatives were Miss Muriel Russell, dietitian, and Mrs. Catherine Barker, instructor in nutrition at the hospital; Miss Marjorie Cantoni, formerly nutritionist-in-charge at the Nutrition Center; and Miss Thoreson from the Health Department's Heart Program. The doctors of the Subcommittee on Nutrition provided medical guidance.

In order to make the information available to patients in understandable form, it was decided to prepare a booklet with nine accompanying diet lists. Mrs. Gloria Fischer, information specialist, and Daniel Sullivan, health educator with the Health Department's Heart Program, put the various messages in simple, interesting language and designed an attractive, practical arrangement of the material by food groups, with tabs for easy reference.

To Consider Proposed By-Law Changes Monday

MANY CONSULTED

Many local and outside professional workers were consulted for opinions, including public health nurses with the Newton Health Department and Newton District Nursing Association, teachers with the Newton School Department, and nutritionists and health educators from other areas. Mrs. Elizabeth Caso, nutrition consultant with the Diabetes Section of the Public Health Service, was especially active in helping to plan the booklet.

To make certain that the booklet really met the needs of patients, a preliminary draft was pretested on thirty Newton patients. Their suggestions were incorporated into the final product.

Students at the Newton Trade School, under the supervision of Mr. J. Joseph Ward, played an important role by printing and folding the diet lists. Personnel of the Newton Engineering Department contributed by multilithing explanatory materials which accompany the booklet and by preparing plates for further printing of the diet lists. The first printing of both the booklet and the diet lists has been exhausted. A second printing will be completed within two weeks.

Booklets are given to patients primarily by physicians. Hospital dietitians, community nutritionists, and public health nurses also use them in interpreting diets to patients who have been placed on sodium restriction by their physicians. Booklets are given to patients only on a physician's order, since the type of diet needed varies according to the patient's condition.

SERVE AS HELPFUL GUIDE
Besides this use in individual instruction, the booklets have served as a helpful guide in the development of a new approach to low sodium diet instruction. Last week a group of ten Newton patients completed a series of four weekly discussions under the guidance of Miss Margaret Phillips, head therapeutic dietitian of Newton-Wellesley Hospital; Miss Ruth Irwin, nutritionist-in-charge of the Newton Nutrition Center; and Miss Pearl A. Thoreson, nutritionist with the Health Department's Heart Demonstration Program.

These meetings, which were held in the lounge of the Newton Y.M.C.A., covered such practical problems as fitting a low sodium diet into regular family meals, making the low sodium diet appetizing, combining the low sodium diet with a weight control diet, and maintaining a low sodium diet when eating out.

Delegates and alternates, nominated to represent the First Unitarian Society in Newton at the annual meeting and Anniversary Week of the American Unitarian Association, to be held in Boston May 20-25, will be voted upon by the parish next Monday. The nominees are Marshall I. Stone, alternate, Mrs. Stone; Lowell V. Coulter, alternate, Edward W. Whorf; Mrs. William J. Tyler, alternate, Fred L. Mason; Mrs. Leonard A. Monzert, alternate, Mrs. John F. Carroll; Joseph C. Skinner, alternate, Mrs. David Skinner; Willard B. Weissblatt, alternate, Mrs. Weissblatt; Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach Jr., alternate, Dr. Hans Waine. Additional delegates nominated to represent parish organizations at the May meeting of the A.U.A. are Mrs. William Carroll Hill, Women's Alliance, alternate, Miss Elizabeth Hartshorne; Laymen's League, A. NEW NURSE'S AIDES HELP WITH ACCIDENT CASE—Preparing to help Newton Police admit an accident case to the Emergency Ward of Newton-Wellesley Hospital are three new members of Red Cross Nurse's Aide Service. The two men, Will G. Wilton, of Newton Centre and E. Graham Bates, of Auburndale are members of a pilot group of men who have just received their certificates as Red Cross Nurse's Aides. Between them stands Miss Pauline Lamoureux, of Wellesley, graduate of a like course for women. Patrolmen James Treddin and James McManus of the Newton Police Department are both holders of Red Cross First Aid Certificates. Mr. Wilton and Mr. Bates, along with five other Newton and Wellesley men recently completed the standard 80 hour Nurse's Aide Course. This group is the first of its kind in the country and its efforts and achievements have been followed with great interest by the National Red Cross organization.

Sunday Admission Fees To Sports Is Discussed

At a hearing before the Board of Aldermen Monday night no opposition was expressed to the collection of voluntary contributions at Sunday athletic contests but the petition of Our Lady's Athletic Association for acceptance of Chapter 136, Sections 21 to 25, permitting the charging of admission fees on Sundays was opposed by the Recreation Department.

Lorenz Muther, Executive Director of the Newton Taxpayers Association, in speaking on the subject, among other things stated: "With respect to the petition for acceptance of G. L., Ch. 136, Secs. 21-25 inclusive, it is my opinion that the petition should be denied, and that alternative steps taken which will allow the Recreation Commission to issue permits of Sunday sports and games at which voluntary collections may be made, without accepting a law which denies to the municipality the local option, the varying circumstances, of which or not admissions should be charged."

QUOTES ACT

Continuing he said: "As you no doubt know, Newton operates now under Acts of 1920, Chapter 240, Section 5 of that Act is as follows: 'No admission fee shall be charged, directly or indirectly, and no business or other enterprise shall be conducted, and no collection shall be made at any such sport or game.' While many citizens of Newton may believe that this is a wise and proper law, it is my opinion that that too, regulates the local authority too greatly, and also that for better or worse the general attitude which it reflects toward the Lord's Day no longer is the predominant attitude seen in this city today. Today there is greater emphasis than ever placed on Sunday recreation, whether it be participating or spectator sports games or activities generally."

WANTS HOME RULE

Muther further stated: "In any event, once the city adopts the acceptance proposal in the instant petition, the power to decide locally as different conditions arise whether admission fees are to be charged or not on a public playground on Sundays is not provided for, and the chances are that it never will. That is the nub of my opposition to the present petition. In short, I recommend local home rule vested in the Recreation Commission in this matter, and that is something which Chapter 136 does not provide."

Following the hearing the matter was taken under advisement.

Council of Parent-Teachers Ass'ns To Hold Annual Meeting Monday

The annual meeting of the Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will be held Monday evening, May 14, in the Memorial School Gymnasium, Oak Hill Park. Dessert will be served at seven thirty o'clock, and all PTA presidents, school principals and delegates are invited to attend.

In addition to election of officers for the coming year, the following committee chairmen will report: Dr. Harold Berk, Oak Hill school, on Recreation and Playground; and Mrs. George Koller, Davis school, on Curriculum. The following resumes of work will also be reported: Program committee by Darwin Neumeister, Angier school; Building committee by Mark Stone, Ward school; and Health and Safety committee by Dr. Frank Shipp, Hamilton school.

Vote Provisions To Have MDC Supply Water to City

Monday night the Board of Aldermen voted to approve the provisions of the Metropolitan District Commission for supplying water to the city.

Chairman Kenneth E. Prior of the Public Works Committee called the provisions presented by the M. D. C. a "satisfactory solution" to the problems arising from the transfer to the MDC water system.

Under the provisions, the MDC will require the division of the city's distribution system into northern and southern pressure districts; payment by the city of one-half the cost of constructing a 30-inch main between Chestnut and Centre streets, and the transfer by the city to the MDC of the Ward street pumping station.

The city is to assume the responsibility for installing small booster pumping units and storage tanks to furnish water under pressure to remote areas.

A new device makes an automobile's head and tail lights flash to protect the owner while parked for repairs on a busy highway.

An overwhelming majority of motor vehicles involved in accidents last year were reported in apparently good condition.

This Week In Sports

Friday, May 11:

Baseball—Rindge Tech visits Newton to average an opening day 9-1 loss to Ron Rufo. Depending on how the Tigers (4-2) made out against Arlington yesterday (Wednesday, May 9) this game could be the difference between first and second division for the Tigers. Tech shouldn't be too troubled by the Ferguson's don't taken any game lightly as was the case of the Cambridge Latin upset. Rindge has a 3-4 League record but beat Watertown 3-2 last time out.

Our Lady's plays host to Christopher Columbus at Cabot Park and if George Pettee gets the pitching assignment O.L. could win their second straight. George beat Columbus last Sunday. Up until Wednesday O.L. had a League record of 2-5, Columbus was 3-4 so both teams are about equal.

Saturday, May 12:

Track—Newton's prize tracksters will try to win their second straight Big Relays at the State Relay Meet at Belmont. Newton just edged Boston English 25-24 last week at the Mass. U. Relays so these two teams should be the ones to watch. As the Graphic went to press (Wednesday, May 9) Newton was playing host to English, Lynn Classical and Malden in their third Quad Meet of the year. English was to give the Terriers the only competition here, and if Newton finished on top, then they will go to Belmont still undefeated. The Orange have already won two Quads, one duel and the Mass. Relays.

Tuesday, May 15:

Baseball—Thayer Academy comes to Newton for their annual visit. This is a non-League game.

Our Lady's travels to Cambridge to meet St. John's, the League leaders. Don't expect much here. St. John's drubbed O.L. 13-7 last time out.

Wednesday, May 16:
Baseball—O.L. visits Cathedral in a non-League game. Last time George Pettee upset the Division 3 boys 5-4 and Cathedral didn't like it one bit. So they'll be after revenge.

Track—Another Quad Meet. This time Newton takes on (at home) Belmont, Lowell and Somerville and of course if the Terriers did anything worthy of mention in their last Quad meeting, then naturally place them way ahead of the others in this Meet.

(Opening Games)

American Division
Mullen Bros. 0 0 1 1 0-1-3
Cabot 1 0 1 0 3 x-5-5

Manager Phil Pattison pitched his Cabots to a 5-1 win, fanning 11, walking one and giving up but 3 hits in the 6th inning game. Ex BC'ers Bill Ryan and Frank O'Sullivan got two hits each. Don Callanan turned in a good mound game for the Mullens, also striking out 11.

Royals 0 0 0 1 1 0-2-3
St. John's 2 0 1 0 1 x-3-6
Norm McLea gave up 3 hits and got two himself to lead his St. John's nine to a 3-2, 6-inning victory. Outfielder Fred Wilde hit a 2-run homer in the first. Gleason got 2 hits for St. John's. Citino smacked 3 for the losers.

National A 3 0 2 2-7-8
Tigers 1 0 0 2-3-4
Lou Wernick's triple in the first was the damaging blow coming after 2 singles and an error. Rogers of the Tigers was the only one to get 2 hits, in the 4-inning game.

National B 0 0 1 1 1 0-3-1
Corpus Christi 3 0 0 1 1 x-4-3
Vic Foran pitched 1 hit ball in the 6th inning game. He fanned 13. Christ only got 3 hits themselves, two by Foran. Winning run came in the 5th on a passed ball and the catcher's error on a throw into left field trying to nab a runner stealing third.

Newton 8 Watertown 4:

Capt. Barkey Boole and Gib Studley sparked Newton to its fourth Suburban win last Wednesday at Watertown and boosted the Tigers into first place. Barkey got two hits but it was his clutch fielding that saved the game. It came in the 2nd inning after Gib Studley relieved starting pitcher Ron Rufo with the bases loaded and two out. Jim Lopez greeted Gib with a drive down the third base line which was labeled for extra bases but Barkey made a sensational stop, then tagged third to force a runner for the final out. Newton was leading at the time 3-1. Studley went on to give up three more runs but his teammates in the meanwhile rallied for four themselves in the 4th and then added another in the 9th. A double by Leo Carder and a two run single by Studley in that 4th were the big blows. Rightfielder Dave Bonnar saved Studley some trouble in the 8th when after the Arsenal's scored a run he tossed out a runner trying to go from first to third on a single. It was Studley's third straight victory. Newton got 9 hits. Higgins, Carder and Boole (2 each), Phinney, Bonnar and Studley (1 each).

Watertown 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 1-0 4 6 1

Cambridge Latin 4 Newton 3 (11 innings):

Newton threw this game away. It was their second loss in six League games, dropping them into a 3 way tie for first with Waltham and Latin. A first inning error, two stolen bases, two passed-balls, a fielding lapse, and a boner played important parts in the loss. Bob Buanato in his first big pitching role was deprived of a well-pitched game. Bob Schlossberg who relieved in the 10th was credited with the loss after he walked the lead-off batter in the 11th and then saw first baseman Lou Phinney fail to tag the next batter on a sacrifice, and third-string catcher Danny Coffey let two pitched balls get away from him for two passed-balls and the winning run. Shortstop Don Flagg's error in the first gave Latin one of their two opening runs but the leadoff man stole second on catcher Lee Carder. This same man (Hennessey) led-off the 9th with a single, stole second again and scored their 3rd run.

Freddy Keith hit what should have been a home run in Newton's first turn at the bat but he neglected to touch second and only got a double. In the 9th he was almost the hero, teaming up with Coffey on a thrilling play. Danny had just driven in the tying run and was on first when Keith hit a blooper into right. When the rightfielder fumbled the ball Danny sped for home but broke his stride near third and was out at the plate by inches, only because of a perfect relay from the outfielder to the first baseman to the catcher. Buanato gave up six hits but from the first to the ninth he was immense. Newton got a run in the 2nd and 5th with Carder and Phinney driving in the runs but they left nine men on bases. They had the bases loaded with one out in the 4th, a man on third and one out in the 6th but couldn't score. Of their 13 hits, Coffey, Bonnar, Keith and Flagg got 2 each, Carder, Boole, Phinney, pinch-hitter Sheppard and Kreider, 1 each.

St. John's 13 Our Lady's 7:

League-leaders St. John's were too tough for second-division Our Lady's and the Purple and Gold lost their fifth game in six League starts. St. John's jumped out front with a 2-run lead in the first but O.L. got 3 runs in their half. But then the Cambridge club gathered in 4 more markers in the 2nd, and coasted home to victory although O.L. rallied for 4 runs in the last of the 7th on Dick Lord's single, a walk to Billy Bertrand, a single by Jackie Glynn to load the bases, a passed ball, a two-run triple by George Pettee and a run scoring fly by Billy Cronin. Jim Murphy was the losing pitcher. Of their 9 hits, Berty and Glynn got 2 each. Pettee, Cronin, Dillon, Murphy and Lord got 1 apiece.

St. John's 2 4 0 1 0 2 3 0-13 14 2

Our Lady's 3 Christopher Columbus 2:

How George Pettee goes, so goes O.L. Big George fanned 15 Columbus batters and allowed only six hits as he led O.L. to its second League win. (He previously defeated non-League opponent Cathedral 5-4). O.L. scored first in the 2nd then added single runs in the 6th and 7th. It was new catcher Gino Tambascio's single scoring Stan Oldfield from third in the 7th which turned out to be the deciding run. (Oldfield had led off with a double and Tom Dillon sacrificed him to third). Pettee fanned the last batter when Columbus threatened in the last of the 9th, scoring a run on a single and double. O.L. went errorless for a change and Tambascio looked good behind the plate and at bat. He and Oldfield got 2 apiece of O.L.'s 7 hits. Pettee (a triple), his third of the year), Cronin, Glynn, got one each.

St. Thomas 11 Sacred Heart 3:

Leading 2-0 going into the last of the 4th Sacred Heart fell apart at the seams and St. Thomas pushed across all 11 runs to revenge an earlier 4-2 loss. It was S.H.'s first Division 3 loss in six games. But they still held onto first place. Charlie Kelley was the losing twirler. The Newton Centre club got 9 hits but made 7 errors, three miscues doing much damage in that 11 inning spread. Joe Lynch led the local attack with 3 hits.

Sacred Heart 4 St. Pat's 3:

Hank Barry's pace-setters in the Division 3 race won their 6th game in 7 League starts beating closest rival, St. Patrick's from Watertown 4-3 last Tuesday. It assured the Newton Centre gang of their third straight Division title. St. Pat's with a 3-2 standing is in second place.

Mendelssohn's Oratorio Elijah To Be Presented

Newton High School Music Department will present Mendelssohn's oratorio Elijah at the Spring Vesper Sunday, at 4 p. m. Participating will be the A Cappella Choir, the Glee Club, the Sophomore Girls Chorus, and the Symphony Orchestra.

George Thornton, president of the Drama Club, will speak the part of Elijah; LeRoy VanPatton, practice teacher from the New England Conservatory of Music, will be the tenor soloist. The conductor will be Mr. James Remley. Directors of the concert are Mr. Donald March, Mr. Henry Lasker, and Mr. Wesley Merritt. Elijah is the story of the Israelite prophet Elijah. As an oratorio, it is similar to an opera but lacks costumes and stage actions. According to Mr. Wesley Merritt: "Newton High School is probably about the only high school ever to attempt to produce Elijah. It's difficult but beautiful."

By RODD EXELBERT

When Newton's track team won the Mass. U. relays last Saturday by edging past closest competitor Boston English 25-24, they did it in "the field," where Newton isn't usually at its peak. The "Terriers" grabbed three first places, three seconds and one third. It was winning the javelin that surprised most local followers. It was Newton's first attempt at the event and the team of Kett, Moss and Pollard proved to be the best. In the shot-put where Newton is so-so, the trio of Price, Rowlings and Luciano came through for a second. Price beating Rowlings' heave was also a "stunner." Another second came in the high-jump with Pollard, Savoy and Dunbar doing the honors. It was the second time in a row that Pollard jumped higher than usually top-man, Savoy. Tripp, Shannon and Salt couldn't do any better than third in the broad jump which was a disappointment. As for the races, the "Terriers" only won the medley with Higgins, Haywood, Morrison and Williams coping in grand form. In the 440, Shannon, Gould, Snyder and Tripp took a second and in the hurdles, DiGiovanni, Moss, Salt and Savoy also finished second. In overall it was a neat victory for the Orange, well-planned, well-done.

A Little on Baseball:

Don "Zipper" Thompson, reserve varsity outfielder, went down to join the JV's for a game last Monday and belted out a grand slam homer and a triple to lead the squad to an 18-0 victory over Sudbury High. Which should mean he's varsity material all right. "Zip" is only a junior. Sophomore Bill Sheppard, another utility player in the varsity, has two singles in his last two pinch-hitting trips which also may get him back into the line-up before long.

When George Pettee, versatile catcher-pitcher-outfielder for Our Lady's boasted about his importance to the team before the season began we thought he was over-rating himself but then as soon as Big George joined the team after missing the first few games, the Purple and Gold clicked. Pettee hits a mean and long ball and he's already pitched O.L. to two victories ... as for Bill "Crungie" Cronin, he's definitely "all-star" calibre. His fielding is tops and his hitting (.380) is way above the ordinary schoolboy infielder. "Crungie" does get out-of-hand at times but he's the Eddie Stanky type of player and he could be excused. What he lacks in diplomacy he makes up with fight, spirit, great plays, and hits.

Another note about Newton High: In our books Howie Ferguson is the best schoolboy baseball coach in these parts, and other players from visiting teams know it and admire his technique. Fergie may be tough with his players, but he's all baseball every minute on the field, and they like it that way. If there's ever an "articulate-on-the-ball" manager, it's Fergie. He scouts the other team and charts their habits, records, etc. He always works on team play at practice session. His leadership is big-league and we say "hats off" to a terrific coach, win or lose. ... The success of Waltham High so far this season is due to their two sophomore twirlers, Phil Anton and Denny Lelievre. The Watch Citizens could take the title if these lads continue to win. ... Newton by the way has a sophomore ace pitcher in Andy Pelcasar who blanked the Belmont Sophs 9-0 with a 6 inning no-hitter last week. It's true that Fergie has the best pitching staff in schoolboy circles in Studley, Rufo, Schlossberg and Buanato (and seniors) but maybe bringing up a yearling for experience sake wouldn't hurt!

A Correction

In an item which appeared in last week's issue of this paper, it was stated that "Mr. Donahue, was Recreation Commissioner." Mr. Donahue serves in the Recreation Department in a supervisory capacity.

Mr. C. Evan Johnson is the Commissioner of Recreation.

Exhibit by Two

Saturday

A novel "Art Exhibit" will take place in the Frank A. Day Jr. High School in Newtonville Saturday, at 2:30, when two nationally famous artists will display their talent instead of their paintings in a program called "Watch Us Draw," which they have worked out for the benefit of the Children's Museum.

In one corner will be Mr. Henry B. Kane of Lincoln, an eminent naturalist, writer, artist, and photographer. His series on Nature, "Wild Wood Tales," illustrated with his own drawings, are favorite children's books. His illustrative work also includes "Cape Lake Country," and a new edition of Thoreau's "Cape Cod," "Maine Woods," and "Lake Walden." Mr. Kane was for several years president of the board of directors of the Children's Museum, and is connected with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Dwight Shepler, in the other corner, is a life-long resident of Newton—that is to say, he has always had his roots in Newton, although he has traveled to nearly every corner of the world. His sketchbook has reproduced the highlights of England, Ireland, the Swiss Alps, Nova Scotia, Cape Breton Island, the United States from Maine to Utah, and all the spots of interest on a six months' cruise between Woods Hole and Los Angeles by way of the Panama Canal. During the war he was at a combat art section, and was present at almost all of the important naval engagements, including the Normandy beach head, the re-capture of Corregidor, the battle of Santa Cruz, and the South Pacific. Most of his paintings of the war, which were made from on-the-spot sketches and memory, are included in Life's new "Picture History of World War II."

When these two renowned artists appear in Newton on May 12th, the battle will be less taxing—pencil points at two paces, while they work good humoredly to out-draw each other! The sketches will include children from the audience, animals, and many surprises.

Open Meeting to Be Held May 16 For Cerebral Palsy

Under the chairmanship of President James Purcell of Newton, the Newton Council for Cerebral Palsy is being organized to help fight one of the greatest crippling of mankind. Thursday evening, May 17, at eight o'clock on open meeting will be held at the Williams School Auditorium, Auburndale, to introduce the subject and promote interest in the United Cerebral Palsy program for Newton and Wellesley.

Assisting in the development of the local Council for Cerebral Palsy are Mr. Payson LeBaron and Miss Priscilla Schenck, Vice Presidents; Mr. Roswell Fithian, treasurer; Mr. George Hokanson, secretary; Miss Frances Stebbins, Mrs. Earl Douglas, and Mrs. Garrett Schenck Jr., membership; Mrs. Dwight P. Merrill, publicity, and Mrs. Roswell Fithian and Mrs. Stephen Currier, meeting arrangements.

Cerebral Palsy can strike anyone, of any age, any where at any time. It is not hereditary and in the Newton Wellesley area alone there are over one hundred cerebral palsied children and adults. It is a community problem. Newton urges your participation and help. Attend the Williams school meeting and see the film, "Pioneering for American Children" depicting the opportunities for care and treatment of cerebral palsied children at the Buffalo Children's Hospital. Similar care and treatment is available at the Boston Medical Center, the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, and at the Wellesley Convalescent Home for Children.

Join Newton and Wellesley citizens and C. P. parents in this fight to help give the cerebral palsied a chance to become productive, self-sufficient members of society, Thursday evening, May 17 at the Williams School Auditorium, Auburndale at 8 p. m.

Program—

his Proclamation of a National Emergency, the planning had progressed so far that the School Committee was able to make a report in the form of a letter outlining the plan for the year, to the parents of the school children five days after the proclamation, before the December school vacation.

The plan that Mr. Walen and his committee have followed has been to keep the utmost in-timely educational values, while at the same time teaching what Civil Defense considers the necessary minimum. Each step is considered with great care and is discussed with parents and then tested in small groups.

All high school seniors have completed First Aid and over 350 teachers responded to the voluntary courses offered to them. Knowledge of this sort is valuable in normal times as well as during the present emergency. Junior First Aid is being taught all children in the junior high schools, and Home Nursing is planned for girls in the future.

GROWING RECOGNITION

Mr. Walen, who reports that the Newton plan has been achieving growing recognition as an approach to doing the necessary in the schools, and at the same time disrupting the normal school program as little as possible, explains his views on defense by saying, "The whole defense effort has many sides to it. It is not merely a hysterical move toward physical survival. It is a carefully considered, long-term project to make this country as strong and as resolute on the home front as on the military. It is a program of strength to put our cities and our industrial plants in a state to be able to go on no matter what emergency should arise. It is a substantial move to make our cities and our people less vulnerable to disruption of normal routine and to panic. Only careful planning over a long period of time will bring about this objective."

The teachers have done a splendid job in presenting the materials, which are sent home so that the parents will know exactly what has been taught in the schools. This information is prepared in cooperation with Newton Civil Defense in order to disseminate a moderate statement of factuality.

Mr. Walen, who taught at Los Alamos Ranch School in New Mexico for five years before it was taken over by the government as an atomic research center, was impressed during a visit there in 1948 by the devotion with which the people were working, believing that the future security of this country was in their hands, and that the personal sacrifices they had to make were justified by the importance of their work.

In a letter to former Superintendent of Schools Aderson, expressing his views, Mr. Walen said that the rest of the country should share in this responsibility and that the schools, with the children in their care during school hours, had a double responsibility for protecting such large concentrations of people, and for maintaining a strong, forward-looking program under all circumstances.

COMMITTEE ORGANIZED

In the Spring of 1950 Mr. Riley asked Mr. Walen to take over organization of the Shelter sub-committee of the local American Red Cross Disaster Committee, and the following September Superintendent Gores assigned him to organize the Committee on School Preparedness.

Since that time Mr. Walen has explained his program to six Parent Teachers' Associations, three school groups, one church group, and the Parent Teachers Association Council in Newton, and he has been on a Defense Panel before the Community Council. In addition he has spoken to the South Shore Superintendents' Association, the Massachusetts Elementary School Principals Association, and he has served on a panel before the New England School Development Association.

Several Boston newspapers have carried articles on the program, the most recent being a series in the Christian Science Monitor, and requests for the materials have come from many parts of New England. The Federal Civil Defense bulletin for the Northeastern area has carried a complete account of the program as an example for their committees. A pamphlet consisting of the most important materials has been circulated by the New England School Development Council among its member schools.

Mr. Walen states that school preparedness materials are concerned with the atomic bomb because the bomb looms as the most destructive weapon at this time; it has received a large amount of publicity, and in the minds of the people it is the greatest threat implied in any thought of war. The evidence, however, indicates that even the A-bomb is not the final weapon. Accurate knowledge about the effects of any destructive force can help people cut down damage. People have found ways to minimize the effects of lightning, hurricane, tornadoes, earthquakes, and volcanic eruptions to name just a few. They have also found methods to fight and cut down losses from fire bombs and from high explosives. Once they know what to do, they prepare to do it. Knowing they can do something, they no longer have a blind, unreasoning fear.

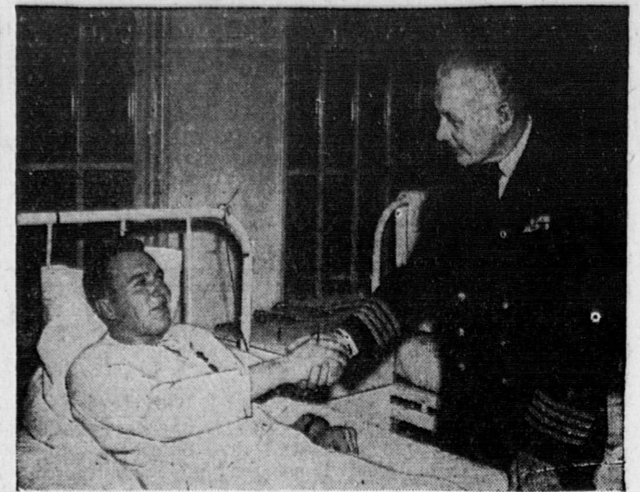

Confidence Eliminates Panic

The very routine of going through preventive measures brings a confidence that can go far toward eliminating the greatest danger—panic. Lack of knowledge of what to do and panic cause a large proportion of the casualties in any catastrophe. Drills in schools near any possible target area are using habit to avoid possible panic in an emergency. Children become so used to fire drills that any fire alarm seems to be merely another drill. It is the intent that over a period of time children will come to accept "inside drills" in the same spirit. If an emergency ever should come, the routine of the drill would go far toward controlling panic in the first minutes before the danger could be assessed and coped with. If the possibility of emergency should gradually disappear, as we all most fervently hope it will, drills will be quickly dropped as the possibility of their usefulness disappears.

The Committee on School Preparedness, which is an integral part of the Newton Department of Civil Defense, consists of G. Winthrop Brainerd, Helene Breivogel, Ann L. Caldwell, Lt. Lawrence Clarke of the Fire Department; Officer Charles Feeley of the Police Department; Dr. Albert Navez, Carl M. Penny, Mrs. Riley Hampton, of the Junior Red Cross; Alden Read, Frank Simms, J. Joseph Ward, Robert C. Jackson, who resigned when he was called back into the Service; and Anne L. Leathers, who used her ability to write and her knowledge and experience from A.R.P. in World War II, to prepare all the materials for use in the classrooms. Superintendent Gores and Assistant Superintendent Charles Richter are members ex officio.

School Important Force
Mr. Walen maintains that "the most important contribution to Civil Defense that the schools can possibly make is to keep the school program as stable as possible. In the schools today are the children of the more stable world we anticipate in the future. The schools are one of the most important factors for stability in the community."

Mr. Walen, who is the son of Mrs. Alice C. Walen, 34 Billings park, Newton, resides with his wife and family at that address. He is a graduate of Newton High School which he entered from the Bigelow grammar school. He uating class of 60 girls that we are living in an age which is apt to forget the importance of the individual.

"Our civilization is so complex, highly industrialized, and crowded that we are tempted to think in terms of the masses rather than the person," he said. "Nurses have a splendid opportunity to deal with their patients as unique personalities. They have an obligation to know and understand what is happening to the person who comes under their care. By so doing they can help restore the individual's faith in himself as a person which is a great contribution of the healing arts to our society."

"It is a tragic mistake to deal with human beings on the assembly line basis. The hospitals which are doing the best work today are giving their patients' personalized care."

Diplomas were presented by Bradford C. Patch of Belmont, president of the hospital, and awards by Dr. Albert A. Horner, physician-in-chief.

Others taking part were the Rev. Dr. Everett C. Herriek, president emeritus of the Andover Newton Theological Seminary, and Clarence E. Allen of Newton, chairman of the nursing school committee.

The class of 60 was the largest in the history of the school.

The support and advice of the Department of Civil Defense as expressed through Director Douglass B. Francis and Deputy Director of Administration John F. Wheelock, have been most important in the development of the program and its reception in Newton.

24 Former Newton Citizens Are Memorialized

During the first quarter of 1951, 24 former Newton citizens have been memorialized through gifts to the Massachusetts Heart Association, Charles A. Gates, executive director, has revealed. They were: Etta Herman, Ethel M. Nicholls, Foster Cousins, Marie Slocumb, George S. Sweetnam, Joseph D. Hildreth, William B. Hanna, Louis Lidman, James P. Reynolds, Joseph Silverman, John S. Whittemore, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton B. Eddy, Eugene Hayden, Anne Penwarden, Harry A. Sawyer, Nyman H. Segal, Bertha S. Hiron, John H. Nichols, Mary Ellen Park, George R. Brett, Saul C. Chessler, Frederic Oliver, Mrs. Gussie Shalit.

Mr. Gates said that these memorial gifts came from relatives, friends and business associates in Newton as well as other cities and towns in New England.

He pointed out that each gift, whether large or small, is acknowledged to the donor, and that a card with the donor's name but never the amount of the gift is sent to the nearest of kin.

"It is gratifying to families touched by sorrow to have this tangible evidence not only of the affection and esteem of their friends and neighbors but also of their determination to help control this dread disease."

Maine Students Spending Busy Week Sightseeing

North Haven Group Ends Visit Sat.

The entire twenty-two students of North Haven, Maine, High School and their faculty leaders, Mr. Warren Pressley, Jr. and Miss Green, arrived by bus at 3.30 p.m. last Saturday, for the beginning of Newton High's second 1951 school-and-school exchange.

The boys and girls from the Pine Tree State were met by their respective pen-pals and taken home for dinner. At night they met for an informal get-together at Anne Walker's home in Waban.

Church and trips not scheduled were recommended for Sunday, which was family day. Many attended the oratorio "Elijah" at the high school auditorium.

WELCOME TO CITY

Monday morning both groups assembled for an official welcome by Mayor Theodore Lockwood at the City Hall. In the afternoon, following classes and lunch in the cafeteria, the group split up for individual projects visiting such places as the General Motors Plant, Raytheon, Babson, and colleges. Evening entertainment was left up to the hosts and hostesses after dinner at home.

Tuesday, the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross sponsored an all-day trip to Sturbridge. The students took picnic lunches and were shown about the quaint town by hostesses from Sturbridge. Mrs. Francis Angino and Mrs. Raymond Costa, mothers of two girls in the Newton group, were co-chairmen of a committee which pre-

Returned Missionary To Speak

The Rev. Harold W. Robinson, who returned from Tientsin, China early in May, will be the speaker for the Missionary Education Work of the Woman's Society of the Newton Methodist Church Sunday, May 27, at 10:45 a.m.

Rev. Mr. Robinson has served under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in China for over 30 years. He acted as a chaplain for the American 14th Air Forces during World War II, thus becoming a warm link between home-sick American G.I.'s and the U.S.A. Few Americans have had a wider experience of things Chinese or know the real nature of the Chinese people better than Rev. Robinson, whose years in that land have taken him into the heart of war and natural disasters as well as through years of great progress and reconstruction. The subject of Rev. Robinson's sermon will be "Christianity in Communist China." The public is cordially invited to this service.

Norman E. Moore To Head Cerebral Palsy Drive Here

The Newton Campaign in the state-wide United Cerebral Palsy drive swung into high gear this week with the announcement that Norman E. Moore, Vice-President of the American Precision Dial Co. and past president of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed chairman of the Newton Area Campaign.

Chairman Moore announced that the Newton quota is approximately $10,000 and urged all local individuals and organizations to unite behind the drive to aid the more than 6300 cerebral palsied children in Massachusetts, many of whom cannot walk, talk, or play. In an opening statement Mr. Moore declared "we are planning to conduct an extensive drive to bring to the public the importance of community action on behalf of the thousands of underprivileged and disabled children and adults who so sorely need physical and educational treatment. If we can raise the required funds we can go a long way toward easing the burden of the cerebral palsied in this state. Funds are urgently needed to provide additional facilities for treatment and diagnosis of the cerebral palsied in Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts, the statistics of this community problem are appalling. More than 6,300 cerebral palsied children under 21 years and several thousand more adults, with facilities available to provide for less than 600! For overtaxed, undermanned doctors and therapists, their affliction places an unusually heavy burden since cerebral palsy often inflicts a greater disability on its victims than polio or cancer.

Occurring in the great majority of cases at birth, cerebral palsy is the result of an injury to the motor centers of the brain and often strikes in many places at once, disabling the limbs and speech at the same time.

Imagine the plight of a doctor or teacher attempting to measure the intelligence of a child who cannot move his hands; or whose vision is partially impaired while his legs are paralyzed—multiply the number by 7,000 and then in some measure you may grasp the proportions of the problem.

Mr. Oncley is the wife of Dr. J. Lawrence Oncley, professor at Harvard, teaching and conducting research on proteins, especially those of human blood, in the University Laboratory of Physical Chemistry Related to Medicine and Public Health.

YOUNGEST TO GRADUATE

As a girl, Mrs. Oncley attended schools in Kansas, finishing four years of high school in three years, and four years at Southwestern College in three more years, making her the youngest girl ever to be graduated from that college. She began teaching at eighteen.

Besides teaching English in a Kansas high school for four years before her marriage, Mrs. Oncley taught junior high school in Watertown during the war, and was offered a teaching post in the high school there which she refused on moving to Newton. In addition to this is her interest in education from the point of view of a parent, since she has two daughters who attended school in Newton, one in the Cragin School and the other in Newton High School.

Financial contributions to the United Cerebral Palsy Drive may be made directly to the Newton National Bank or through the Wishing Wells distributed throughout the city.

Substantial Progress Is Being Made

Alderman Casady Outlines Facts in Auburndale Talk

Stating that the "school building program has forged ahead and a record of substantial progress made," Chairman Clyde S. Casady, of the Education Committee of the Board of Aldermen in an address to the Auburndale P.T.A. Tuesday night, further stated that he believed "superior schools, enlightened policies, good instruction, and adequate facilities are certainly desired by most Newton citizens." In concluding, however, he warned "we must pace our demands and keep taxes within reason."

His talk Tuesday night was a most complete analysis of the school building program here, and among other remarks he stated:

SPECIAL PROBLEMS

"When the Lockwood administration took office on January 1, 1948, the city was faced with many crucial problems resulting from war-time conditions and rapid growth in certain areas. Due to restrictions on manpower and materials, streets had deteriorated. Applications of more streets, sewers, and water extensions had piled up. Building replacements, modernization and additions had to be deferred. Veterans housing was an acute problem. Every project had individuals and groups vociferously demanding that their project be done immediately. Collectively, the pressure was terrific and the cost of the accumulated needs of our city constituted a staggering total."

"Some order of relative urgency had to be established. The long-range Planning Board, after studying all requests and probable revenue, prepared an overall capital expenditures program totalling about $10,000,000."

ACTIVE IN BAND

Ben Greene, French 2, first place, also attended Warren Junior High School in 1948. "While there he sang in the Glee Club. At Newton High School he was active in Acappella Choir, the Newtonian Feature Staff, the Meteorology Club, the Drama Club, and is a member of the National Honor Society. In September, he plans to go to Brown where he will pursue his language interests."

Horace U. Ransom, Jr., to Head Newton PTA Council

Horace U. Ransom, Jr. of the Oak Hill PTA was elected president of the Newton PTA Council Monday evening at the annual meeting held in the new Memorial School in Oak Hill Park.

The meeting, presided over by George F. Koller, outgoing president, was opened with a greeting to the latest PTA to be formed in the city, at the Stearns School. A resume of the year's work was given by Mrs. J. Lawrence Oncley, executive secretary, at the conclusion of several interesting committee reports.

Dr. Frank Shipp, chairman of the Health and Safety committee, spoke especially of the school defense program, and said that the students are not only being taught how to protect themselves against enemy attack but are learning to carry on their daily duties with minimum risk to themselves. The report of the program committee, prepared by Darwin Neumeister, chairman, revealed that this group has been meeting with the local PTA representatives for a free interchange of ideas. Mr. Neumeister urged careful planning at the beginning of purpose for the year's program.

—ACCOMPLISHMENTS—
Mrs. George F. Koller, chairman of the curriculum committee, gave a splendid report, reviewing what the secondary schools have accomplished through parent-teacher-student work.

"Country Fair" Next Thursday Offers Many Fine Attractions

Rain or shine, a "Country Fair" will be held by the Eliot Circle of Eliot Church next Thursday from 1 to 6 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity, 69 Farlow road, Newton.

If the fair itself is not enough at the church all afternoon to inducement, there will be a car taxi anyone who desires, up the hill to the fair.

It will be a marvelous fair with aprons for gifts; seedlings to grow in your garden; toys for small girls and boys, cakes, bread, cookies and jam; a gift for a baby, a bride or a birthday; or perhaps a cook book of Eliot recipes.

This fair will be one long to be remembered. Bring your children or your grandchildren. There will be lots for them to do and see. A pony cart, grabs of course, and gas filled balloons all to please them and for the littlest ones a sandbox for play with supervision. And for the older ones, a table of inexpensive things just for children to buy. Grown ups will find tea in the lovely garden of Mrs. Gerrity's, a treat to all.

The Country Fair is under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Lovell assisted by Mrs. Robert Bolan and Mrs. Charles Edwards. Other committee members are: soliciting, Mrs. Robert Hunter; packaging and marking, Mrs. Clifton Emerson and Mrs. Alexander Pratt; decoration, Mrs. Warren Lathrop; children's entertainment, Mrs. Kenneth Gleason; grabs, Mrs. Edmund Hodgen; tea room, Mrs. Robert Bolan; food table, Mrs. Edward Hallett, Jr., candy, Mrs. Thaddeus Krush; transportation, Mrs. Robert Russell; collecting, Mrs. Robert Lee; and publicity, Mrs. Robert Bolan.

Auburndale

The Auburndale Child Study Group held its final meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Albert Holdridge, 162 Islington road. New officers elected were Mrs. Robert Casselman, president; Mrs. Allan Pearson, vice-president; Mrs. Albert Holdridge, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Brown, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Willard Ziergiel, treasurer.

On Tuesday last, Grade Four of the Burr School enjoyed a day at Cedar Hill, Waltham. A bus load of excited children with anticipation at fever heat left the school in charge of Miss Cummings. On arrival at Cedar Hill the group was welcomed then allotted to divisions for various activities. On Nature walks, the youngsters were shown wild flowers in their native haunts. They were helped to identify the "Teacher" bird, among others, they lifted stones to find the "Hundred legged" centipede, even discovering a not too active snake which Miss Bush picked up, showing how to lift it from just behind its head. Quite a lesson in its anatomy was given then and there. Lunchtime was approaching so assignments were given each one some responsibility for preparation, or serving, or cleaning up. About 2:30 saw them back at Auburndale with a wealth of new outdoor experience to help broaden their ever-widening horizons. What amazing people this next generation should be with all the opportunities spread before them!

Upper Falls

Ralph plans to enter North-eastern University in September where his major objective will be architectural engineering.

Culinary Career, Started at Fessenden School, Brings Fame, Recognition to Eddie Doucette

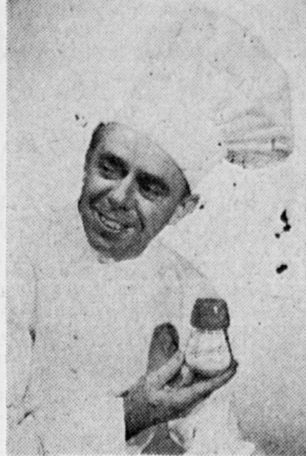

By ERLIN HOGAN

Chef Eddie Doucette, nationally known through radio and television appearances, began a culinary career in the kitchen of the Fessenden School, West Newton. A gift for carving roses out of turnips and painting portraits in chocolate, coupled with his cooking ability, earned him a place on radio and TV shows with Mother Parker, Marjorie Mills, and Bill Evans, with whom he starred for twenty weeks.

EDUCATED IN NEWTON SCHOOLS

The oldest of twelve children, Eddie was educated in the Newton schools and grew up at 171 Edinboro street, Newtonville, where his family still lives. In his culinary columns for the newspapers and magazines, he often credits his own start as a gourmet to his mother's good cooking. From the Fessenden School he traveled to Breadloaf Inn, Maine, and from there to the Walnut Hill School, in Wellesley Now, as head of the sales promotion department for the International Minerals and Chemical Corporation, he spends his time meeting the public through demonstrations and lectures, and lives with his wife and two sons in Evanston, Illinois.

His present job is to boost a new product called "Ac'cent," a seasoning which doubles the natural flavor of salads, vegetables, and meat. Eddie's mother claims she couldn't cook without Ac'cent, which is being sold as the "third shaker" in salt and pepper sets.

For hobbies, the Newtonville chef sculpts in tallow and paints in chocolate, which, when mixed with gelatin, lasts forever. A reproduction of the flag-raising ceremony at Iwo Jima, painted in chocolate, won him wide spread recognition; he has also done portraits of MacArthur, Gary Moore and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek and plans to do one of Dagmar. It sometimes takes him a year of saving tallow from the kitchen to make one statue. He has won awards for sculpture in tallow and vegetables, and recognition for his buffets and chocolate painting. The Epicurean Club of Boston, of which he was formerly president and secretary, awarded him a diploma of culinary art; and he has received two silver loving cups from New England culinary associations.

141 GUEST APPEARANCES

Last year Chef Doucette, who is cook, artist, and showman rolled in one, made 141 different guest appearances on television all over the country. His travels with Ac'cent have taken him through 24 states, making countless stage and radio appearances. Although he got his start with New England recipes, covering the resorts of Maine, Vermont and Massachusetts, French dishes are his specialty. Eddie once cooked 22 complete meals on stage in one 12-day trip. His greatest love is entertaining and he accompanies the preparation of each meal with a carefree banter which puts people at ease.

Eddie Doucette believes the simplest foods can be decorated to look like masterpieces, and in his lectures he willingly passes along the secrets of his trade. In demonstrations before the Massachusetts Fisheries Association, Fanny Farmer's Cooking School, the Connecticut Institute of Cooking, and other culinary organizations, he has repeated his contention that anyone can be a success at cooking — if they just love food and people, use Ac'cent, and know how to work hard.

First Unitarian Society Elects

Three new trustees, another trustee renamed to fill the remainder of an unexpired term, and twenty delegates and alternates to the American Unitarian Association annual May meeting were elected Monday night at the annual meeting following the parish dinner of the First Unitarian Society in Newton held in the parish house in West Newton.

Mrs. William J. Tyler, Newton, Dr. Lowell V. Coulter, West Newton, and Marshall I. Stone, Waban, are the new members of the board of trustees, chosen for three years. Fred L. Mason, Newtonville, will continue to serve the remaining two years of an unexpired term.

Dr. Merrill E. Bush, West Newton, clerk, was reelected for one year, along with Mrs. Kathryn M. Holgate, West Newton, secretary-treasurer and collector, and Edward Webster Whorf, West Newton, assistant treasurer.

The nominating committee presenting this slate included Rudolf Amann, Newton Centre, chairman; Mrs. Merrill E. Bush, West Newton, and Daniel Needham, West Newton.

A gracious invitation, moved by Endowment Trustee Robert H. Loomis, was voted by the West Newton Unitarian parish to extend the hospitality of the church and its facilities to Temple Shalom for as much of the ensuing year as may be needed. This new liberal Jewish congregation, organized a year ago under the leadership of Rabbi Irving Mandel, has used the Unitarian Church for its regular Friday evening and holiday services and the facilities of the Second Congregational Church, West Newton, for its Sabbath School on Saturdays, pending acquisition of more permanent quarters by Temple Shalom of Newton.

Delegates to the forthcoming A.U.A. meeting (May 20-25) were named as follows: Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach Jr., Mrs. Leonard A. Monzert, Mrs. William J. Tyler, Dr. Lowell V. Coulter, Joseph C. Skinner, Marshall I. Stone, and Willard B. Weissblatt, also A. Bela Szekes, Laymen's League; Mrs. William Carroll Hill, Women's Alliance; Dr. David N. Hume, American Unitarian Youth.

Alternates are Dr. Hans Waine, Mrs. John F. Carroll, Mrs. David Skinner, Edward W. Whorf, Fred L. Mason, Mrs. Marshall I. Stone, and Mrs. Willard B. Weissblatt; Miss Elizabeth F. Hart, Phoebe, Alternate; Dr. Paul K. Losch, Laymen's League alternate, and Mrs. David N. Hume, A.U.Y. alternate. These delegates and alternates were all voted to represent the West Newton Unitarian Church at the Biennial Unitarian Conference in Montreal in October.

A record budget of $26,070, $4000 higher than last year, was voted after Finance Chairman L. Fabian Bachrach Jr., reported that $17,500 had already been pledged through the first Every-Member Canvass held since 1932.

Outstanding among five organizations and a dozen committee reports was that of Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach Jr., in her detailed survey as chairman of the religious education committee. She emphasized the need for more parental family cooperation in church school activities and the opportunity for many more children in the church school which has had thirteen on its teaching staff, including the minister, Rev. John Ogden Fisher, as leader of the high school discussion group. Kenneth Mitchell, a graduate student at Boston University School of Theology, is religious education director.

Rev. John Ogden Fisher presented his first annual report as minister of the parish, then retired to his study while his parishioners considered the proposed changes in the church by-laws. The perennially-elected moderator William B. Baker, 73-year-old lawyer of many years' experience, and former state representative and former member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, stepped down from the rostrum to voice sharp criticism of the by-law changes, intended to clarify the organization and duties of the trustees and new articles involving the status of the minister, membership qualifications and raising the quorum from 21 to 35 members. After heated discussion from the floor, the meeting voted the proposed changes in their present form and referred the by-laws back to the board of trustees for further clarification and the request that a special committee be appointed to redraft the by-laws before they are re-submitted for a parish vote at a later meeting.

James H. Powers, Foreign Editor, to Speak Here

All residents of Newtonville, and guests from the other sections of the City, owe it to themselves to attend the annual meeting of the Newtonville Improvement Association next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Newtonville Woman's Club, Washington Park, Newtonville. The Newtonville Improvement Association under the leadership of J. Carlton McCullough and his program committee headed by George W. Taylor, Jr., has planned probably one of the most interesting evenings ever afforded the residents of the city.

Two of the highlights of the evening will be the appearance of the Technology Matrons and Dames Choral group and James H. Powers, Foreign Editor of the Boston Globe.

James Powers, the guest speaker for the evening, has just returned from Washington after attending the opening days of the great debate on American Foreign Policy. Mr. Powers is well known throughout New England and the country for his editorials in the Boston Globe under the pen name "Uncle Dudley." He is a veteran of World War I. The author of many books, one of which is "Years of Tumult," and was cited for his coverings of the San Francisco Conference which gave birth to the United Nations. His editorials and lectures have brought him high distinction. Many have read with interest his world reports that appear in Atlantic Monthly and thousands know him as one of the most distinguished public speakers in New England today, as he has appeared before some of the largest gatherings in this section and New York.

The Technology Choral Society, another highlight of the evening has achieved fame throughout New England for its concerts of both popular and classical music. Some twenty women comprise the group which is made up of the wives of the faculty and of graduate students of MIT. They organized back in 1933 and have been in constant demand ever since. They are under the leadership of Mrs. George Seachard of Cambridge. Mrs. Seachard has been a member of the Smith College Faculty since 1928, at which time she was appointed Director of Music, and is a lecturer of note on all phases of music, including folk songs. She holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Montana College and a Bachelor of Science from Columbia University. She has also studied in Germany, Denmark, England and elsewhere. Mrs. Wallace Ross will be her accompanist.

The Newtonville Improvement Association is one of the oldest civic bodies under active organization in our city today. It is composed of a body of non-partisan men and women interested in the civic problems of the city. The Association has taken an active part in city legislative, educational problems, and has kept abreast of all activities that continue to make the City of Newton "The Garden City of Homes."

This annual meeting of the Association is open to all residents of the City of Newton at no charge whatsoever and no resident should miss being on hand Wednesday evening, May 23 at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lucey (Peggy Mackin) of River Edge, N. J., are parents of their fourth daughter, Donna, born May 3, at Holy Name Hospital, Teaneck, N. J.

Town Talk

By Lee Tyler

Biggest news of the week is the long-awaited American Henley Regatta. After two years in the planning, it's finally taking place on the Charles this Saturday afternoon. Participating in the event will be crews from the Union Boat Club, Riverside Boat Club, and crews from such colleges as Harvard, M.I.T., Cornell, Springfield, Clark University, Dartmouth, Princeton, Columbia, and Yale. After the races, scheduled to start at one o'clock, a buffet supper will be served to the visiting crews at the Union Boat Club. Suzanne Cery Herter of West Newton is to be one of the hostesses.

Big booster for this sporting event from its start has been Quincy Taylor of Forest Ave., West Newton, chairman of the American Henley Society, who's even recruited his parents, the Warner V. Taylors, to be sponsors. Other Newtonites he lists as backers on the Henley program are Chris Herter, Jr., Ivan J. Geiger, Bill Engstrom, and Thomas B. S. Quarles. If it's a good day, going down to the banks of the Charles on Saturday sounds like a dandy excuse for a picnic!

Mrs. Victor F. Horst of Newton Centre is on the committee for a gala ball to benefit Cerebral Palsy sufferers, and from what she tells us it should be a gala time indeed. The ball will take place in the main ballroom at the Copley Plaza Wednesday evening, May 30, with Vaughan Monroe's music from 8 to one o'clock. The Arthur Murray Studio is sponsoring the affair and will provide entertainment during the evening. The hotel, the band, and the studio are all donating their services so that the price of the tickets may be kept low and proceeds given directly to the cause. An enthusiastic turn-out is expected.

St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, is the place, and Saturday, June 16, the date, for the wedding of Priscilla Hallett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Hallett of Newton, and Robert H. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Burke of Newtonville. Mrs. Malcolm Bunker is coming from Baltimore, Md., to be her cousin's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. Herbert Mayo (Patsy Dean) of Oak Hill and Mrs. Thomas Kelleher (Ann Mahoney) of Natick. Best man will be John A. Burke, Jr. of Oak Hill, and the ushers will be Robert O'Donnell of Natick, Thomas Kelleher, Eddie McGinnis, formerly of Newton, now living in Maine; and John Gallagher of Newtonville.

Priscilla studied at Endicott Junior College, after Newton High School, and was graduated from the Nursery Training School of Boston. She teaches "transition" (private school phrase for "kindergarten") at the Brooks School in Concord. Bob served in the Army-Air Force, attended Bentley School, was graduated from Stratford, and is now in the shoe business.

A fall wedding is planned by Joyce Thwing, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert O. Thwing of Wakefield, N. H., are announcing her engagement to Thomas C. Melville, son of the Thomas D. Melvilles of Newton. Joyce was graduated from Wakefield High School and studied at Ventura Junior College in California. Tom's a graduate of Bridgton Academy, Maine, and the School of Public Relations and Communications at Boston University.

Seems as if everybody in Newton Highlands has been traveling. Back from an exciting time in Washington, D. C., where they sat in on the national D.A.R. convention, are Miss Mercedes Torr and her sister, Florence. The junior Earl E. Chadsey and their young son and daughter returned recently from a much put-off "winter vacation" to Florida. In Bermuda now, but expected to come home over the weekend, are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Bossett. Friends of Maria-Luisa de Mesquita of West Newton will be interested to hear that she's home now, after a year and a half spent visiting relatives in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Random athletic notes: Saw Mrs. Edward J. Sawyer of Franklin street, Newton, out bowling the other night. . . Two days of every week all this month Mrs. Merrill P. Delano of Waban has been playing golf for Brae Burn Country Club in a series of inter-club matches. . . Mrs. T. Richard Madden of Dexter road, Newtonville, whose daughter, Baba Madden Lewis, is among the top 20 American women tennis players now, and whose other daughter, Cissy, ranked very high in the sport before marrying and moving to South Africa, puts in as much energy in her garden as her daughters ever did on the courts!

Hear Talk on the Science of Music

The bi-weekly meeting of the Junior Auxiliary, St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls, on the evening of May 2, was held in the Parish Hall.

The subject under discussion was "The Science of Music," presented by Professor Howard

O. Stearns, the Department of Physics, Simmons College. A clear understanding of the problems involved was given the members by the use of various visual aids, including a cathode ray oscilloscope, by means of which the wave-forms associated with various sounds were illustrated.

The hostess for the evening was Mrs. William Dennen. Mrs. William Berndt and Mrs. Douglas Davidson provided the refreshments.

John O'Connell, was held May 5, at 3 p.m. at the Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, before an altar banked with all white floral decorations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Jack K. Myers of Natick, sister of the bride, wore green and white sheer organdy, with a large white picture hat and white gloves and carried a cascade of white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carney of Hyde street returned Sunday night from their vacation trip to Washington, D. C. The cherry blossoms had passed the height of their beauty, but other pleasures and activities filled the days happily. Good weather made the motor journey in each direction a completely enjoyable excursion.

The Highlands Library, housed for so many years in a wing of the Hyde School, will ere long be under a different roof. Mr. Harold Wooster, City Librarian, has made the announcement that it will be moved to another location as soon as desirable quarters can be found. The change has become necessary because of a request from the School Department voiced by the School Committee. A large increase in attendance at the Hyde School in September is anticipated, hence available space must be planned for immediately. Mr. Wooster has indicated that the matter of using a residence or a store is under consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Lorenz of Lincoln street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on April 30.

who gave of their time and money, thus enabling the project to prove a successful one. Summer activities for the Club include Golf Tournaments (dates to be announced, Soft Ball games, and possibly a night or two at Braves' Field.

Miss Dionne is recuperating happily at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital following an operation.

For two consecutive weeks it has been announced in a neighboring town's paper that Mr. Frederic Groetsema was to conduct services at the Highlands Congregational Church. As he with his family are now aboard a ship nearing English shores the above statement is erroneous.

Dr. Charles W. Gilkey was the guest preacher on Sunday, May 13. Mr. Groetsema being a former student of his while attending the Theological College in Chicago, gave Dr. Gilkey an opportunity to pay him a splendid tribute.

Building Expansion Plans of Temple Emmanuel Shown

Construction Work Will Start Soon

Over five hundred members of Newton's Temple Emmanuel Congregational attended the first annual Open House Reunion. The feature of the evening was the presentation by Benet Rockman, chairman of the Building Committee, of the giant blue prints showing the approved new building expansion plan.

The addition to the present Temple will include 15 well lighted, roomy school class rooms, a large community hall seating 800 to 1000 persons, large stage for dramatic presentations, fully equipped modern kitchen for banquet and dinner facilities. A spacious library for study and reference, enlarged facilities for administrative offices, and auxiliary chapel for daily and Sabbath services complete the proposed new structure.

NEED NEW FACILITIES

The speakers of the evening, Open House Chairman, George E. Gordon; Maurice G. Alperin, chairman of the building fund; president Peter Groper, and Rabbi Albert I. Gordon, stirred the audience with their dramatic presentation of the facts in relation to the need for these new facilities. Over 550 children now use the present limited school rooms for Hebrew and Sunday school classes. The new proposed class rooms are needed urgently.

It was announced that $294,000 has already been pledged towards the $600,000 goal necessary to complete the building as approved. The second half of the fund raising was officially launched on the evening of the Open House Reunion. All were urged to give and give generously. Campaign workers were urged to work full speed ahead in order to obtain sufficient

Procession at Sacred Heart College Draws Large Gathering

Led by Archbishop Cushing, a colorful demonstration of faith and devotion was attended by more than two thousand in honor of Our Lady, with a May Day procession, the crowning of a statuette and a solemn unofficial benediction on the grounds of the Newton College of the Sacred Heart last Sunday.

Included in the procession were several hundred children and adults from various Newton schools and parishes, with each unit attired in distinctive uniforms and each group identified by a large banner. The procession moved up the front drive of the college before Barat House and thence onto the terrace of Stuart House.

A statuette of Our Lady was pledged to reach the $600,000 goal.

START WORK SOON

It is hoped to complete the successful drive shortly, as the work on the new building will start within four to six weeks.

A most delicious buffet supper, exciting and humorous entertainment featuring "The Cavalcade of Jewish Music," preceded the business of the evening.

carried by Virginia Yawman of Rochester, N. Y.; Nancy Hurley of Cambridge; Martha Guzman of Mexico; Alice Reardon of Sharon and Elsa Rosa of Mexico, who carried the crown. The statuette of Our Lady was crowned by Barbara Chabot of Ottawa, Canada. All are students at the college.

COLORFUL PROCESSION

Marching in the colorful procession were Monsignor Michael J. Dolerty, pastor of Our Lady's Church; Monsignor John J. Crane, pastor of St. Bernard's Church; the Rev. Mother Kenny, president of the Newton College of the Sacred Heart; the very Rev. Thomas J. Herlihy, S. J., of St. Ignatius' Church; the entire faculty of the college and priests from other Newton parishes.

Following the crowning of the statuette of Our Lady, Archbishop Cushing offered the benediction from an outdoor altar on the terrace of Stuart House. The Rev. Sylvio W. Barrette of St. John's Church was deacon; the Rev. George F. Sullivan was sub-deacon; the Rev. Paul Jakmowich of Corpus Christi Church was master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Robert E. Brennan of St. Bernard's Church was trufifer. A recitation of the rosary was made by the Rev. Francis X. Bransfield of Our Lady's Church as the procession wound through the college grounds.

A Newton resident, Vincent Stanton, of 14 Shorecliffe road, has been judged the winner of the Harrigan Oratorical contest, open to all students of the College of Arts and Sciences at Boston College. The award, announced by Rev. Paul J. McManus, S.J., faculty director of the contest, gives the winner a stipend provided by the late Rev. John H. Harrigan, class of 1889.

Stanton is a senior at University Heights and has had a very active extra curricular career. He is a member of the World Relations League, the National Students Assoc., Economics Academy, and was secretary of the Fulton Debating Society for upperclassmen. In addition he has been posted consistently to the Dean's List and was appointed election manager in the student elections by the deans of the college.

Let's Keep The Nickel Alive

There's a movement afoot to put the nickel completely out of business. An attempt has been made to replace the nickel candy bar and the nickel bottle of soda pop with a dime offering of the same, presented with super-advertising strategy of twice as much for twice the cost.

Even though the idea did not catch on with a price-wary public, there is no doubt about it, the nickel is edging its way into oblivion. The long list of things a nickel will buy is rapidly shrinking, its purchasing power is almost non-existent. And the latest victim in the race to the never-never land is the pay telephone box in New York City, where it now costs ten cents to buy the old nickel's worth of service. From where we stand, it looks like the rest can't be too far behind.

Unless the nickel earns its keep, it will become a nostalgic memory, along with other Americana, remembered but not quite dead. The nickel will become a has-been, forced into a state of suspended animation for the want of something better to do, and will take its place with two-cent pieces, pump organs in the parlor, red flannels, and mustache cups for papa. Face it, the familiar nickel, plugged, wooden, or the usual alloy of nickel and copper, that twentieth part of our beloved American dollar, is losing its glory. For there was a time when a nickel in one's pocket meant the difference between having some money or being dead broke; a nickel was a nickel in those days. Today, it is just marking time until it is pushed out of circulation.

For the record, Pop will tell you he could get a jim-dandy shoe shine for a nickel while he puffed a good five cent cigar. He remembers the nickel beer, foaming over the stein, with lots of free lunch thrown in for advertising purposes; most of us recall the Sunday paper, with all the news and supplements, complete with pages of comics, all for a lone nickel.

Not too long ago, we had the nickel car fare, when you could ride all day for the one coin, picking up transfers nonchalantly at way stations, so you could take side trips through the city on your own good time. A nickel bought a nice, juicy hamburger, with or without onions, resting on a spongy roll, or a hot dog slathered with plenty of mustard and relish. A nickel bought a cup of good coffee, with real cream; another nickel brought two, feathery doughnuts or a slab of pie.

For the afternoon crowd, a nickel would put before them a pot of steaming tea, with cream or lemon, or a cup of fragrant, hot chocolate, with a crown of marshmallow floating lazily on top. For the small fry, the nickel was bliss. It could be exchanged for an entire Sunday afternoon at the local movie house, a double dip ice-cream cone, or a bulging bag of popcorn or peanuts.

Nickels for tips were the accepted thing for the moderate spender, and for those more generous, two nickels. A nickel would send the neighbor's boy on an errand to the corner store, and it was used to bribe the younger edition of the family into leaving the living room when sister entertained her current beau. As a medium of exchange, the nickel brought large returns.

The next time you see a nickel, gaze at it fondly. At the pace it is travelling its downhill run, the nickel, its hey-day fading, may become a rarity. The buffalo gracing the back of the nickel is protected by law against becoming extinct. But there is nothing to stop the nickel from dying out from disuse, unless we make it our business to "keep it from losing its grip." To us, it is as much a symbol of the American way of life as the animals that once roamed our plains. It's up to us to keep it going.

We Americans are homespun people. We are determined to remain so. We don't want twice as much for two times the cost. Give us the same old thing for the same old price. To us, it's still a good buy.

Let's keep the nickel alive!

Pre-Primary Convention Bill to Pass . . . GOP Leaders Confident of Truman Defeat . . .

Sometime our legislators are real modest, particularly when they are called upon to stand up and be recorded on a roll call.

The other day they were voting on a series of suggested amendments to a bill reviving the pre-primary convention. One of the proposals advanced was that all members of the Legislature and Congress automatically be delegates to such conventions without running for election.

That idea was enthusiastically endorsed by a margin of 92 to 66 on a rising vote, but when a roll call was demanded the legislators executed a complete about-face and defeated it 208 to 21.

It isn't unusual for the legislators to vote one way when no record is being kept and take an entirely different position when a roll is being called, but we don't recall quite so complete a shift as that for a long time.

There appears little doubt now but that the pre-primary will be approved and that slates of Republican and Democratic candidates for State-wide offices will be endorsed at State conventions next year.

The measure will slide through the State Senate with little trouble, and Governor Dever will sign it, despite his lack of enthusiasm for the idea of bringing back the old-time convention.

Whether the convention will prove quite the cure-all that its Republican sponsors expect is another matter, however, because in the old days there was some evidence that a candidate with the most money to spend could at times walk off with a nomination.

This, of course, is largely a Republican move. The G.O.P. members in the House voted solidly for the convention bill, and a bloc of Democrats lined up with them to secure its passage.

Possibly the Republican leaders, after witnessing crushing defeats for the G.O.P. in the last two State elections, figure that from their standpoint any change will have to be for the better and that matters can't get much worse.

The fact is that the convention method of nominating candidates seemed to work better for the Republicans than it did for the Democrats.

It wasn't at all unusual for the Democratic voters to turn down a convention choice and nominate somebody else. That happened in 1934 when James M. Curley won the gubernatorial nomination in the primary after losing out at the convention and again in 1936 when Francis E. Kelly was nominated by the Democratic voters for Lieutenant Governor after the convention that year had given the nod to Philip J. Philbin, the present Congressman.

Usually the Republican candidate who captured his convention endorsement was as good as nominated. The notation on the ballot that he was the choice of the convention carried great weight with the G.O.P. voters.

The experience last fall, however, when the Republican State Committee and dorse Watertown Selectman Roy Papalia for their party's nomination for State Treasurer and loudly renounced Fred J. Burrell of Medford only to have Burrell nominated in the primary, raises the question of whether the Republican leaders have the same influence with the voters in their party that they did 15 and 17 years ago.

Of course, Papalia didn't have the same advantage on the ballot as would have been the case if he had been nominated at a primary, but he was running with about as powerful backing as his party leaders could give him, and he was still defeated.

The main idea behind reviving the convention is to give greater racial and geographical balance to the rival State tickets. It would be a healthy thing if that objective were accomplished. Now a Democrat has little chance of winning a primary unless he lives in or near Boston, and a Republican from Middlesex County has a big advantage over an opponent from Western Massachusetts or the Cape.

The convention may help somewhat to correct that situation, but our guess is that the voters of both parties will still mark their ballots the way they want to and that there will be instances where they turn down the convention selections and make their own choices. We suspect that most voters are more independent than they were 15 years ago and don't follow the dictates of their party leaders quite as faithfully.

Defeat for Truman Predicted

Republican leaders attending the recent three-day national G.O.P. meeting in Tulsa were quoted in despatches as declaring that President Truman will be defeated if he runs for reelection next year. At the same time they expressed great doubt that Senator Robert A. Taft could be a winner next year.

Those statements have a somewhat familiar ring. In fact, they are just about what the same Republican spokesmen said under similar circumstances four years ago when Mr. Truman's popularity was at a low level, when the G.O.P. star appeared to be rising and when Taft loomed as the logical choice of his party for the Presidency.

The Republican chieftains may be a little premature in announcing their hopes that the Democratic national convention will renominate President Truman in 1952 and in offering their opinion that he would be a soft touch in another election.

After their experience of 1948, the political experts would be very wary about counting Mr. Truman out again, and having seen him make one spectacular comeback and achieve what they considered impossible, they would be disposed to reserve judgment and refrain from pronouncing him politically dead a second time.

The Republican chieftains, however, apparently haven't learned the same hard lesson, and it may be that the same over-confidence of 1947 and '48 is boiling up again.

Whether Mr. Truman will run for another term is, of course, not known. Because he will have served practically two full terms at the end of 1952 it is considered that he would not do so unless very unusual circumstances prevailed.

A good many persons close to him are convinced that he will run, but the President himself is carefully keeping his ideas on the subject to himself.

Except for the possibility that General Eisenhower might be induced to accept the Democratic Presidential nomination if Mr. Truman decides not to seek another term, it appears very unlikely that the Democratic convention could put up anyone as strong as President Truman.

A number of possibilities have been mentioned from time to time, but save for Eisenhower none would have as much strength as Mr. Truman.

-Newton Profile-

By Helen Cohen

A man, who in his bearing and demeanor resembles a Yankee school teacher, yet is engaged in a career so unusual and so extraordinary, as to be almost paradoxical.

David Himmelfarb, of Beaumont Avenue, Newton Centre, is a master ropemaker. Born in Boston 43 years ago, he completed his formal education at Brooklyn Polytechnical Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., graduating with M. S. in chemical and textile engineering. He is married and is the father of three children.

In 1936, David Himmelfarb came to Boston as master ropemaker, in charge of the manufacturing and technical development, the Boston Navy Yard at Charlestown, Mass.

With a voice almost Lincolnian in its directness, David Himmelfarb began weaving together the story of the romance and history of ropemaking, and its importance to the people of any era.

Ropemaking is one of civilization's oldest processes. It started with primitive man, who, looking about him for a means to make carrying easier, braided vines together to produce a rope-like structure. Each age had its own form of ropemaking. With time, this need for rope grew so, that rope became integrated into the economic structure of the world.

During the century directly preceding ours, rope was the prime mover of vessels in a wooden-ship navy, for the power of a Man of War or a clipper ship was dependent upon the rope that held its sails aloft.

"Just what is rope?" I interrupted. Breaking this vast subject down, I found that rope is one of the classifications that comes under the all-encompassing headings of cordage, and that actually, cordage covers the entire field from string to heavy industrial rope; each kind of rope being made from a particular kind of fibre that has been processed from its raw state.

Rope may be made from the fibres of the abaca plant, which grows abundantly in the Philippine Islands. This plant, which resembles a banana tree in form, is the prime producer of manila, and goes into the manufacture of heavy marine rope. The inside of this plant may be likened to celery, with its string-like composition.

During World War II, when the source of supply from the Philippines was cut off, fibres of the abaca plant were brought in from Central America, Panama, Guatemala and Honduras.

There are other kinds of fibres that make other types of rope. Sisal from Africa and Mexico is turned into rope and heavy twine for industrial and agricultural uses. India exports the jute that is turned into brown tying cord. Cotton rope is another kin to the large family.

Himmelfarb paused for a moment, and smiled. "Even something as prosaic as rope may have a romantically fascinating background."

It was then pointed out that few people realize the importance of the huge industrial plant that exists at the Boston Naval Shipyard at Charlestown. This plant, with David Himmelfarb at its head, is called The Ropewalk, and has the distinction of being the oldest enterprise of its kind in the country. The Ropewalk, a long, low-many-windowed building, was established in 1824, primarily to insure high quality cordage for the then growing American Navy. At the present time, it employs about 100 highly skilled men.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow best describes The Ropewalk in the following poem:

In the building long and low
With its windows all in a row,
Like the porches of a hulk,
Human spiders spin and spin.
Backward down their threads so thin
Dropping, each a hempen bulk.

Although machines have replaced the "human spiders" the process of ropemaking has changed little through the years. To quote David Himmelfarb, "The Ropewalk represents a happy combination of traditional craftsmanship and modern manufacturing methods."

Himmelfarb spoke glowingly of the tremendous strides the Navy has taken in the vast field of ropemaking. Under his supervision, the Navy maintains a research and development program in the search for economy in the operation and improvement of its products. It operates a laboratory that works with special treatment for the testing of equipment in the performance of rope. Still another part of the program is an apprentice training course for civilians, to insure properly trained men to carry on this extremely vital work.

David Himmelfarb made his contribution to World War II by developing a mildew-proofing treatment to allay the deterioration of rope in the Pacific Theatre of War. The latest development in ropemaking, I learned, was the production of 100% nylon rope, made from fibres with a gauge finer than that which is used in the making of women's stockings.

"Rope is the unsung hero of our civilization," are Himmelfarb's words.

Rope, without our realizing it, has become the mainstay of our existence. Shipping, navigation, agriculture and industry lean heavily on the use of rope. Police and fire departments throughout the world depend upon rope for their lifesaving work. Rope ladders are a very important part of the equipment of any ship, particularly those used at time of war.

Can you picture a circus without its miles of rope? Or a cowboy without his lariat? Have you thought about the house-painter, the fisherman, the tennis player or the boxer? Consider the housewife with her clothesline or the man who ties a bit of string to his thumb to remind him of something. It all adds up to the same thing, for the list is long. ROPE, ROPE, ROPE! May I add a macabre note? The official hangman, in the performance of his duties, must depend upon the highest quality, pre-stretched manila rope.

Officially, David Himmelfarb is a textile technologist. He is the only master ropemaker in the entire Naval service. Considered an authority on cordage and fibres, Himmelfarb has contributed to many technical publications, and has written articles in his particular field for magazines published in this country and abroad. He has appeared on television on the Tucker Talk program over Station WBZ-TV in a human interest story, introducing the oldest ropemaker in the service, a man who has spent 53 years making rope.

Unofficially, this man is "Dave"; modest, unassuming, who takes little credit for himself, David Himmelfarb feels very strongly that the Navy, with its never-ending and far-sighted program to create, to develop, and to improve, should be the one to take the curtain calls.

Questioned about the future of rope, Himmelfarb summed it all up with this one terse, matter-of-fact statement.

"I believe rope is here to stay."

Hold Dedication Of Conference Center Sunday

Last Sunday afternoon, bus loads of young and old, also innumerable private cars from all over Massachusetts as well as from Newton wended their way to Framingham Centre where the Dedication of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference Centre was held.

A 50 acre farm has been purchased, with many buildings on it, which are being renovated for young people's recreational use and for meetings of clubs and societies from Massachusetts parishes.

An organ recital at 5 o'clock was followed by the dedication at which many clergymen spoke. This is an initial effort to provide an adequate conference meeting place for parishes who wish to make reservations for its use.

The time within which the Newton Theological Institution must raise $150,000 in order to obtain an equal amount from Mr. Rockefeller is rapidly passing.

This Institution is one of the landmarks of the city and has carried its name and fame all over the country. In its success all Newton is interested regardless of denominational lines, and everyone should assist the committee in obtaining the subscription, which will place the Institution on a substantial financial foundation.

Newtonville was the scene last Sunday evening of the principal act in the story of a runaway match. A young couple of Natick were the principals while the support included several well-known Newtonville people among them a clergyman, a citizen, and a policeman.

Ida Esther Smith, 18 years old of Natick and William Irving Clough of the same town were married by Rev. W. J. Thompson. The circumstances which led to it, as reported are somewhat sensational.

It appears that Miss Smith is a daughter of Andrew F. Smith of Natick. The report as given and published is that Miss Smith jilted a young man to marry Clough.

She came to Newtonville Saturday and remained a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Russell of Otis street until Sunday night. Mrs. Russell is Miss Smith's cousin.

Clough called with a hack for Miss Smith Sunday evening and it is said Mr. Russell protested against Miss Smith leaving the house. The young couple did, however, and were married by Rev. Mr. Thompson. Later they left for Boston.

The part that the policeman played in it is said to be that of closing the carriage door against Mr. Russell.

Some of the operators of the Middlesex and Boston busses must think they are driving fiivvers. These busses are over 20 feet long, but the way a few of the operators "cut in" when they pass other autos, necessitates the drivers of the machines passed doing some rapid swerving to avoid being sideswiped.

The bus operators should realize that their vehicles have a wheelbase more than 180 inches in length.

The point about the campaign to raise $150,000 for the Newton Hospital, which begins tonight is not "Can" we do it, but "will" we do it. Newton has the citizenship and the wealth to put this campaign over just as we put the Liberty Loan drives over during the war. "Let's go."

Autos are easy to steal. They contain their own motive power. But it would seem that thieves in this city will steal almost anything. Monday evening a person reported that some "light fingered" person had swiped 50 cement blocks from California street. On the same afternoon someone "who wanted the earth" purloined 2 loads of screened loam from Boylston street, Newton Centre.

The "Under Cover" Story

There's a difference in custom upholstery. At Bristol it's a fine science. The men who get inside your sofa or chair are qualified experts with years of specialized training. They studied reupholstering just as a doctor studies medicine, a mechanic studies machinery. They know the high standards of workmanship set by Bristol's—and they know how to meet them. Bristol's custom reupholstery department is efficient—and reliable, too. You seldom have to wait longer than 2 weeks. What's more, we have a huge assortment of fabrics—over 200 different patterns, each in a range of colors. You're bound to find just the fabric for your modern or traditional home.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

- (1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special technique.
- (2) We don't just glue loose frames—we take out old dovels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
- (3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
- (4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made—that means it's stronger.
- (5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
- (6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
- (7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
- (8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
- (9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
- (10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

Besides his son Wilfred, Mr. Chagnon is survived by one other son, Leo, also of Webster, and two daughters, Mrs. Alice Magness of Putnam, Conn., and Mrs. Cora Penney, of Rockville, Conn.

Interment was in the family lot in Webster Cemetery.

BERTHA BROWNING COBB
Bertha Browning Cobb (Mrs. Ernest Cobb) of Richardson road, Newton Upper Falls, died suddenly May 15 at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Final arrangements will be announced in Boston papers.

Participating in the Open program at Nason College, Springfield, Me., May 5 was Martha Legasse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Legasse, 93 Arlington street, Newton. pared, cooked, and served the evening meal at the high school cafeteria.

TRIP TO BOSTON
A trip to historic Boston was first on the schedule for Wednesday. For lunch, the students were the guests of the John Hancock Insurance Company in the big cafeteria of the new building. In the afternoon, Senator Richard Lee welcomed the group and took them through the State House and General Court. Sports, back on Newton High School's extensive athletic fields, served as an added attraction. To complete the day, a progressive dinner was held at the John Flynn's in Newton Highlands, The Thomas Peterson's in Newton Center, and The Richard Lee's in Newton, respectively.

This morning (Thursday) was spent at the high school, the Newton Trade School, the Home Economics Department, and the Newton Junior College. Following lunch in the cafeteria the group will go with their Police escort to Fenway Park, where they will be guests of the Red Sox for the Boston vs Chicago baseball game. Dinner will be at home, and then parents will accompany the students to the Chapter House of the Newton Red Cross for panel discussions on the value of school-and-school exchanges.

Tomorrow (Friday) will mark the last day of North Haven's visit to the Bay State. After attending two morning classes, the group will leave from the high school for a picnic lunch at Lake Walden and a trip to Lexington and Concord. The last dinner will be held in the individual homes, but the group will gather that evening as guests of Mr. Gill at the Totem Pole in Auburndale.

NEW EXPERIENCE
Although Newton will visit North Haven from May 28 to June 4, this trip marks the end of a very new experience for the Maine students. Over night they stepped from a life built around the sea and a daily routine in a high school of twenty-two students to the bustling atmosphere of a city suburb with a high school of more than twenty-three hundred students. Monuments of the American Revolution, famous colleges, and industrial plants have been brought alive for these students, and life-long friendships have been established. It is hoped that this new field of education will spread throughout every school in the country, giving every young person the chance to see more of his America.

Two members of the board of trustees were re-elected. They were Frank A. Day and Frederick S. Eastman. Harold T. Pillsbury, chairman, made the nominating report. Officers named at the annual meeting were Elfred M. Peterson, clerk, and Benjamin F. Louis, treasurer.

As the highlight of the evening, Mr. Frederick Ayer, Jr., Boston Attorney and former armed service investigator in Europe, spoke to the members and friends of the Association calling for the return of the "spirit of morality" in public office.

Also on the program was a dramatic presentation by boys' division members, a statement from Orville H. Emmons, associate secretary of the Two State Executive Committee of the YMCA. Contributions of various lay members and staff personnel to the effectiveness of the Newton YMCA in the past year were stressed by Alex R. Miller, general secretary.

Officers of the Association named at the organization meeting of the board which followed the annual meeting were Frederick Sayford Bacon, president; Frederick A. Hawkins, vice-president; and Harold T. Pillsbury, assistant treasurer.

"Most Dependable Car in America!"

Everyone knows that Pontiac is famous for dependability. If you want personal confirmation of that fact, talk to some of our Pontiac owners. Talk to owners of high-mileage cars—owners who can speak from experience. You'll be surprised how many will say, "The most dependable car in America!"

That, essentially, is why the 1951 Pontiac is in such tremendous demand. To be sure, it is the most beautiful thing on wheels—a joy to drive and to ride in. But it's that reputation for dependability and long, trouble-free operation which causes so many people to make Pontiac their choice.

Bear that in mind when you consider your next new automobile. It's one of the big reasons why so many people are saying, "Dollar for Dollar, You Can't Beat a Pontiac!" Come in today—get the facts and figures that prove it.

Things you'd like to know about your Railroad

The Story of a Railroad Dollar

HOW IS IT EARNED? New York Central earned 69¢ of each dollar it received in 1950 from hauling freight, and 13¢ carrying passengers. Another 12.5¢ came from other operations. The final 3.5¢ of New York Central's income dollar last year was yield on its investments.

RAILROADERS GOT MOST of that dollar, over 55¢ in wages, salaries, pensions and Central's contribution in the form of payroll taxes to provide security. Their share of New York Central's income came to $445,000,000. And these men and women spend their money where they live!

ANOTHER 25¢ of New York Central's 1950 dollar went for coal. Diesel oil, rails, ties, wheels and all the other items that go into a railroad's market basket. Depreciation took 4.9¢. Interest, rentals, etc., required 5.8¢. Federal, state and local taxes accounted for 5.7¢.

LAST AND LEAST came net income of 2.3¢. Probably no one in town works for so small a profit as your Railroad. Compared to most cost-of-living items, fares and freight rates are bargains. But, then, giving a lot for the money always has been the CENTRAL IDEA!

which required special legislative approval to borrow an additional $5,000,000 outside the debt limit for the six-year period, 1948-53, as a guide to the Mayor, Board of Aldermen, and city departments.

"Early in 1948, the committee on Education of the Board of Aldermen was reactivated and many meetings have been held with the School Committee, with the Mayor, and other city officials as active and interested participants. Our goals may be summarized as follows: 1. To maintain and modernize existing buildings. 2. Secure sites for new schools, additions and extension of play areas. 3. Initiate plans for the construction of additions and new schools when required.

PROBLEM TWO-FOLD

"Our problem is two-fold. First to provide classroom facilities in rapidly growing areas where none now exist. Second, to modernize and replace obsolete or inadequate structures as rapidly as sound financing permits. We are attempting to make progress along both lines.

"One basic decision had to be made. Should just classrooms be built now with gymnasiums and auditoriums deferred until after the emergency or should complete units, even though fewer in number because of their greater expense, be built as we go? It was the general opinion that the second alternative was sounder policy in the long run even though some less urgent projects had to be deferred.

"Prior to January 1, 1950, no complete census of children of pre-school age had been made in Newton. In January of 1950 and again in 1951 an exhaustive study of such complete data compiled by the Police Department was made by the School Department and related to existing information as to present enrollments, new building, permits, etc. This is an invaluable guide in formulating plans and determining relative urgency.

UNEXPECTED GROWTH

"Unexpected growth, in addition to the general 'baby boom,' in certain areas and inflation which has resulted in soaring costs have both complicated our problem. Estimates as to probable needs and costs made in 1947-8 have proven quite inadequate. Subsequent facts have required the enlargement of practically every new building from that originally planned.

"In addition to the $371,903 for the Technical High addition, a total of $2,737,816 has been appropriated for new schools since 1948. Unofficially, I understand that the Planning Board will recommend that $1,344,000 be allocated for new school buildings to be started during 1951.

"The School department has proposed that the following six buildings be started during the next two years. In alphabetical order, not recommended urgency: Beethoven, $412,500; Claflin, $67,368; Countryside, $821,000; Emerson, $204,600; Murray road, $253,900; Spaulding, $404,000; total, $2,463,386. These costs are estimated as of April 12, 1951.

"Besides factors of urgency, governmental restrictions on the use of steel and on borrowing must necessarily guide the decision as to which of the above schools will be started in 1951.

"Superior schools, enlightened policies, good instruction, and adequate facilities are certainly desired by most Newton citizens. But they also demand many other services. Somehow, a balance must be achieved within our means to pay.

INFLATION A FACTOR

"Inflation has not only increased the cost of new buildings. It has affected living costs and the cost of all materials and services. Since the focal point of this discussion is on schools, it should be pointed out that the school budget, excluding the cost of buildings and their maintenance, has increased from $2,585,558 in 1948 to $3,385,398 in 1951, an increase of 30.9 percent. Over 85 percent of the budget goes for salaries. Expenditures for schools, including maintenance of buildings now represents about 37 percent of the total expenditures of the city.

Dr. Harold Berk, chairman of the playground and recreation committee, said that his group has worked very closely with Evan Johnson, Newton Recreation Commissioner, and told what had been achieved during the past year. The membership was also brought up-to-date on the school building program.

Now - a million people own the Bell Telephone Business

More than the combined populations of the capitals of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont

This is a big moment in American business. For now the number of people who own the Bell System has reached one million.

It has never happened before. No other business in the world has even half as many owners as the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

They come from every walk of life. They live in 19,000 communities — in cities, towns, and on farms — all over the country. One out of every 45 American families is now an owner of A. T. & T. stock.

Many of them live in the territory served by The New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, which is part of the Bell System.

More than 15,000 are New England Telephone & Telegraph Company employees.

Over half are women.

It's the savings of these millions of people that buy the tools, buildings, switchboards, and other equipment which give you the world's fastest, most dependable telephone service.

That's important in peace. It's doubly important today in this national emergency.

Big Game Friday

Howie Ferguson's surging Newton nine will meet Cambridge Latin at Rindge Field tomorrow afternoon (Friday, May 18) in what will mean an important one game lead in the Suburban League race. Both clubs are tied for first place with 6-2 records. The last time Latin faced the Tigers at Newton, the Cambridge outfit eked out a 4-3 11 inning win. G.H. Studley seems to be the logical choice as Newton's starting twirler. Newton will be "up" for this game and a large crowd of local rosters is expected to attend.

If it's a bright sunny day and the track is clear the big State Meet to be held May 26 (Saturday) at beautiful White Stadium, Roxbury, should be as colorful and exciting to Newton rosters as the Kentucky Derby. This is the prize meet of every season and Newton enters it as the top winner of them all. But this year, the "Terriers" are out for revenge, since they still feel they were "robbed" of the title last spring. Bob Morrison, especially, will never forget the raw deal he got for being disqualified when it was alleged he crowded Boston English 440 ace Gerry O'Leary off the track. Now once again O'Leary and "Moore" duel for the big race, and Newton and English match wits and best men in the point-getting events. You won't be disappointed watching key men from both these schools. (Next week the Graphic will print the racing chart of whom to watch and in what events.)

Last Wednesday the "Terriers" clinched their third Quad Meet of the year, their fifth successive meet, and just look at the score and the opposition. Newton 74, Boston English 44, Malden 8 and Lynn 5. Some sweep! Yet English didn't let that bother them for in the Belmont relay last Saturday they turned the tables on Newton in winning 15 to 11. Nevertheless in our book, the match at Dickinson is more important in judging individuals and events. Here there were field events added and Newton did have more balance than English and proved it. Although it's now a fact that Boston in turn has the better runners they only shine in relays and medleys, as shown at Belmont, when they bunched four men in one heat and finished first three times.

The King Bros. and the Howes make English, with O'Leary the

Newton Centre Crittenton League To Meet Monday

Virginia Robinson, Athelstone road, Newton Centre, entertained with a bridal shower for Patricia A. Collins of Woban who is to be married June 9 at St. Philip Neri Church to William F. Doherty of Arlington.

Richard H. Lewenberg, 12 Cousens Circle, Newton Centre, is one of 187 students enrolled in the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps at the University of Colorado. He is a sophomore at the university, majoring in zoology.

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel, will discuss three books, "Witch Hunt" by Carey MacWilliams, "Ordeal by Slander" by Owen Lattimore and "The F. B. I." by Max Lowenthal.

Mrs. Lawrence Farnham of Victoria Circle with the sewing group which she entertained last week had an outing last Tuesday. A merry party filling two autos to capacity set forth for the Toll House. I'm sure no one needs to be instructed concerning the location of that famous inn. It is brave in its renovations; truly Springlike with its new and original decorations, pink and green being predominating colors. The menu, as always, offered a goodly opportunity for choice and unfailingly the fare was most appetizing. A good time (though with no sewing accomplished) rounded out the afternoon. Even the weather smiled!

Mr. and Mrs. Earle T. Tilton, Jr., (Pamela Taylor) of North Cumberland, R. I., are parents of a second son, Dixon Cady Tilton, born April 22, at Providence Hospital. Grandparents are Mrs. Edith C. Taylor of San Pedro, Calif., and Dixon C. Taylor of Germantown, Pa., also Dr. and Mrs. Earle E. Tilton, 148 Parker street.

Post-deb Joan Tichnor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Tichnor, 34 Jane road, took part in a special dance recital presented by students at Briarcliff Junior College in a modern dance group, Monday evening. A graduate of the Beaver Country Day School, she is a senior at Briarcliff. She and some fellow students created the dances, "Times Have Changed" and "Animal Fantasy," which were part of the annual May Day Celebration.

The Guild of St. Francis held its annual Spring Dessert Bridge at the Normady Room, Norumbega Park, yesterday, with Mrs. James Kerrigan, 33 Janet road, as chairman.

"Bundle Day" to Begin in Schools This Monday

A Save the Children "Bundle Day" drive to collect serviceable, used clothing will be launched in Newton public schools May 21, Harold B. Gores, superintendent of schools has announced.

The drive, which is part of the Ninth National Children's Clothing Crusade conducted under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents, will last for five days. Clothing obtained will be distributed by the Save the Children Federation in its program of assistance to children in isolated rural areas of the United States and in seven European countries.

Junior Aid to Hold Final Meeting on 24th

The Newton-Wellesley Junior Aid will hold its final meeting of the spring season Thursday, May 24, at 8 p. m., in the nurses' home at the hospital. High spot of the program will be a technical movie entitled "New England Calling," an invitation from New England's vacationlands to plan summer recreation "at home."

Refreshments will be served, and there will be a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. James C. Munroe, president, at which Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, Director, will speak.

Mrs. Nicholas Trent will be hospital chairman, and will be assisted by Mrs. Charles T. Donovan. Mrs. C. Temple Murphy, program chairman, will introduce the program of movies.

Members and friends have been invited to attend.

Council of Church Women to Meet

The annual meeting of the Newton Council of Church Women will be held on Monday at 2 p. m. at St. John's Episcopal Church, corner of Lowell avenue and Otis street in Newtonville. The theme for the meeting will be "Thank God for Work."

Mrs. E. Sherman Chase from the Congregational Church in Auburndale and Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst from the Methodist Church in Newton Centre will speak about the organization and methods of running successful women's groups in their churches. A question period will follow. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The New England assembly of United Church Women, which is for all women interested in United Service, will be held at Wellesley College August 14-16. The theme for this assembly will be "Bound by God's Far Purpose." The registration fee is $2 which should be sent to Mrs. Ralph Lunt, 11 Kent road, South Portland, Maine.

Harry L. Dexter Named Hunnewell Club President

At the annual meeting of the Hunnewell Club Monday evening Harry L. Dexter was elected president for the coming year, succeeding Mr. Leonard H. Abbot, who has held the office two terms.

The length of Mr. Dexter's connection with the club exceeds that of any other member. He joined shortly after moving to Newton in 1904, and in 1936 was made an honorary member with full rights and privileges. Actively interested in sports, he was for years one of the best bowlers at the club. He has taken a very important part in the administration of the club, notably as treasurer and member of the house committee for 21 years.

Of unusual interest was the large group in the Rhythm Band made up of students from the Junior III Grade of the Musician's Classes. These children played rhythm band instruments combined with the Senior and Junior Orchestras making a total group of 75 members.

Those playing in the Rhythm Band were: Arleen Bergart, Pauline Bileskian, Betty Mae Erickson, Bernice Feldman, Howard Freeman, Jane Gilman, Patricia Gordon, Patricia Hampe, John Huntington, Mabel Esther Julian, Edward Kerle, George Kerrivan, Woody Klebenov, Francis Manguso, Carol Rowe, Geraldine Ryan, Stanley Shafan, Richard Snyder, Brenda Sullivan, Barnett Swaney, Mary Jane Swaney, Donald Westwood, Barbara Weinberger, Janet Weinberger.

After completing the four junior grades, students receive a certificate into the first intermediate grade. The Intermediate Department prepares for the Student Diploma which is awarded to students when they graduate from High School if they have completed the four intermediate grades satisfactorily and are prepared to give a representative program before an audience. They are then eligible to study for the advanced and Normal Diplomas. Those receiving Intermediate I certificates this year were:

Piano—Bethel Bilezikian, Jacqueline Brown, Katherine Effe, Thomas Koller, Heiga Muelder, Judith Richardson, Peter Roggevein, Clinton Shaw, Diane Zophin, Lee Supper.

Violin—Brigitta Balos, Anne Barrs, Janet Chacran, Brian Dooley, Carol Douglas, Naomi Hochberg, Jules Levey, Maxine Webb.

Flute—Lee Supper, Jane Wiley, Catherine Ziff.

Voice—Beverly Mulock, Shirley Hutchinson.

Orchestras and musicianship groups end with the Annual Spring Concert, but the school continues for individual, instrumental work through June 16.

Diploma recitals will be given before the close of the school year.

Largest First Meeting of Newly Organized Groups

The initial Cerebral Palsy meeting at the Williams School, Auburndale, last Thursday night, was acclaimed an outstanding success by Miss Flora Kovalsky, Executive Director of the United Cerebral Association of Massachusetts. It was the largest first meeting of the nine recently organized Councils in the State.

Membership of the local Council was substantially motivated with generous gifts from the Auburndale Child Study Group, and the Knights of Columbus; two life memberships for Mrs. Garrett Schenck Jr., and Miss Priscilla Schenck; four sustaining memberships. Additional memberships may be sent at any time to the treasurer, R. C. Fithian, 319 Bellevue street, Newton.

Amendment Will Bar Retired City Employees

Alderman Winfield C. Anderson at the Monday night meeting of the Board of Aldermen, offered an amendment to the rules of the board which would prevent retired city employees from serving on the Board. The amendment was placed on the table for action at the next meeting.

The opinion was expressed that the amended change would require an amendment to the city charter and could not be effected by a mere change in the orders as presented. A ruling will be asked on the validity of the amendment.

It was voted to keep the polls open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., at the city election November 6, when a mayor, 21 aldermen and seven school committee members will be elected. The final day for filing nomination papers with the city clerk was set at September 20 at 5 p.m., and the final day for submitting signatures to the Board of Registrars for certification was set for Thursday, September 13, at 5 p.m.

Tax Rate Increase Likely To Be in Excess of $4

Is Winner of Singing Contest For Second Year

For the second straight year the Highland Glee Club of Newton was the winner of the singing contest sponsored by the New England Federation of Mens Glee Clubs, held at Lynn last Saturday. Coached and directed by D. Ralph MacLean, the club not only won first prize in a group of the largest clubs, but also won the grand prize over all the other ten competitors.

Assessors Probably Will Set Actual Rate Shortly

A total of $400,000 of which $300,000 was transferred from the Surplus Account and $100,000 was taken from the Water Excess Revenue account, was authorized by the Board of Aldermen at its meeting Monday night to be used in holding a contemplated increase in the tax rate down this year.

Although the Board of Assessors have not announced any definite figure as yet for the 1952 tax rate, it is believed the rate will increase approximately $4.70 over the 1951 rate of $36 per thousand dollars of valuation, thus establishing a rate for this year of about $40.70. This figure, however, is problematical and is in no way based on actual figures as the Board of Assessors are not as yet in a position to announce a definite rate due to the complexity of the many factors involved as well as final approval by Tax Commissioner Henry Long. It is expected, however, that the definite rate will be established shortly.

Red Cross Integrated With Civil Defense

Organized Plan Calls for Special Skill and Talent

Plans for Newton's Civil Defense have reached an advanced stage of preparedness. Locally, as elsewhere in the nation, the Red Cross is working hand in hand with civil defense authorities to provide maximum efficiency of operation in the event of a major disaster. For some time, under the chairmanship of Riley J. Hampton, the local chapter of the Red Cross has had a highly organized plan which calls on the special skills and talents of a wide variety of volunteer workers. Virtually every aspect of relief and rescue activity has been provided for in the completed plan.

At a recent meeting, local Red Cross officials met with representatives of the Civil Defense group and perfected plans for the integration of Red Cross facilities into the total civil defense picture. Mr. Hampton is both chairman of the Red Cross Disaster, Relief and Preparedness Service and is Deputy Director of Civilian Aid under Newton's Civil Defense. He is also a member of a special committee appointed by Mayor Lockwood to study these problems and has recently returned from a three-day series of conferences in Washington, where he accompanied Douglas B. Francis, Director of Newton's organization.

PLAN FOR MOBILIZATION

Present plans call for mobilization of Red Cross units in the event of a major disaster and a close and harmonious working relationship between the two groups. By this type of advance planning, it is envisioned that much duplication of effort and confusion will be avoided.

Hear Talk on Communism By Monsignor Bela Varga

The fifth annual meeting of the Newton Council of Churches was held last night (Wednesday) in the First Church (Congregational) Newton Centre. 150 persons, representing 26 member churches of the Council, were present at the meeting which began with dinner at 6:30 p.m.

The speaker at the meeting was Monsignor Bela Varga, head of the Hungarian National Council, the supreme Hungarian political body in exile. Monsignor Varga was one of the last members of the parliamentary opposition to speak against the Communist government, and among the last prominent opposition leaders to escape from Hungary. His appearance at the meeting was arranged through the efforts of the International Relations Department of the Council of Churches. Mr. Lucius Thayer and Mr. Loomis Patrick.

Msgr. Varga said in part: "As a result of the many conferences I had to attend with the Russians, I know that the Communists will attack the free world when they feel that their time has come. We have to prepare ourselves for this attack, not only technically, but also spiritually. I feel that the spiritual preparation is even more important than the technical. Therefore, we all have to unite, without any difference of religion or race. And after we have won the victory over the Communists, the world can only be rebuilt by us if we are all one in spirit."

Mr. Edmund S. Whitten, President of the Council, presided at the business meeting. Mr. Edson Fitch, treasurer, presented a statement on the financial condition of the Council and the budget for next year was adopted. Dr. M. R. Boynton, chairman of the Nominating Committee and pastor of the host church, presented nominations for the Council offices for 1951-1952. The following officers were elected: Mr. Edmund S. Whitten, president; Mr. Ralph Emery and Mrs. George R. Strandberg, vice-presidents; the Rev. Richard H. Schoolmaster, executive secretary; Mr. Edson L. Fitch, treasurer. Chairman of the various departments were appointed as follows: the Rev. Randolph Merrill, Community Worship; Professor Walter Holcomb, Education; Mr. Loomis Patrick, International Relations; Mr. William A. Jackson, United Church Canvass; Mr. John Wilbur, Youth; Mrs. Anthony Juareguy, Women's Work. Mr. Alex Miller continues as representative of the Newton Y.M.C.A.

Garden Project Is Under Way

Flowers are blooming once again at 527 Washington street, Newton.

For many years gay flower beds bordered the front walk approaching the welcoming doorway of this Federal mansion now owned by the City of Newton. Representatives of Newton's seven garden clubs have done the initial planting, and as the weeks go by there will be a succession of color and interest all through the summer.

Old-fashioned plant materials have been donated by Newton people. Included are the familiar lemon and orange day lilies, clove pinks, foxgloves, phlox and many others. Only flowers known to have been used in this country at least a hundred years have been used. The variety will be increased as other plants are brought in.

In another week or so, when all danger of frost is past, annual seedlings will be planted among the perennials to provide an increasingly colorful display through the summer.

Just coming into bloom near the walk is a lovely laburnum or golden-chain tree. This attractive feature with its long drooping clusters of yellow flowers also dates back to an early period.

At the foundation of the house itself an old wisteria which has survived the years and has just been flowering will be balanced by another on the other side. A few selected shrubs will be added and the gentle slope is being covered with a mat of vinca minor or myrtle. On the driveway side is a row of hollyhocks and to the west is a small bed of yuccas. All of these are quite appropriate for a house built in 1809.

All growing material on the property is to be labelled for the benefit of persons wishing to identify the trees, shrubs or flowers.

These first steps are part of a larger plan which in time will call for an herb garden, more trees and shrubs on the outside boundaries of the property, and many other features suggested by early pictures in Jackson family albums and by period research.

The garden club representatives for the project are: Auburndale, Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes; Newton Centre, Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings; Newton Highlands, Mrs. W. B. Fogg; Newton Upper Falls, Miss Grace G. Hunt; Newtonville, Mrs. Howard C. Thomas; Educational Club of West Newton, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay; West Newton, Mrs. Richard D. Roquemore. Mrs. E. Graham Bates represents the Board of Trustees.

for a Junior College outing for the entire student body. This outing is planned for the first week in June.

Mr. Harry Walen's sophomore English class journeyed to Lake Walden last Friday. They ate a picnic lunch near the site of Thoreau's cabin, and visited several places of historical interest concerning the life of Henry David Thoreau in that vicinity.

After the lunch the group set forth for Lincoln to visit the DeCordova and Dana Museum. They viewed the several modern art masterpieces displayed there. Also included in the day's activities was a visit to Concord's famed bridge immortalized by Emerson, and to the Old Manse, where Emerson and Hawthorne at one time lived.

CLASSES START SEPT. 24
Newton Junior College classes will begin next year on September 24. The College will offer its standard courses of General Liberal Arts, Business Administration and Merchandising. Takes Title To Two Acre Estate

The congregation of Temple Shalom of Newton, numbering nearly 400 families, is celebrating the first anniversary of the group's organization this week with announcement of the purchase of the Temple's permanent site.

The Liberal Jewish congregation has taken title to a two-acre estate at the corner of Temple and Myrtle streets in West Newton. This large 18-room house, occupied formerly by Swan Hartwell, will be remodeled during the summer to provide a sanctuary for Friday evening religious services and also to provide classrooms for practically all of the rapidly-expanding religious school classes.

Robert E. Segal, president of Temple Shalom; Donald L. Daniels, first vice president and building committee chairman; and Bernard D. Grossman, second vice president and chairman of the finance campaign, stated in a joint announcement concerning the purchase that arrangements will be made as soon as possible to establish offices of the Temple in the newly-purchased property. Rabbi Irving A. Mandel, spiritual leader of the Temple, will have his study in the new home; and Mrs. Martha Marenoff, supervisor of the religious school, will also have her office there.

Town Talk By Lee Tyler

June brides planning weddings at the Second Church, West Newton, any later than the second week in June are disappointed that the Rev. Robert Clyde Yarbrough can't officiate at their ceremonies. He, Mrs. Yarbrough, and their 10-year-old daughter, Joan, are off for a European vacation June 14. They'll sail on the "Coronia," and have already made arrangements to rent a little British car when they reach the other side, so as to take in the countryside of England and Scotland. Holland, Germany, and Switzerland are also on their calendar, and they'll have a final fling in Paris before returning on the "Queen Mary" early in September.

In place of Mr. Yarbrough, the Rev. Frank Grebe, minister of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, N. Y., and former director of religious education at the Second Church, will perform the ceremony Friday, June 29 at which Maurine Helms will become the bride of Al Lees of Newton, son of the Charles S. Lees of Malden Bridge, N. Y., formerly of Winchester.

It will be an evening ceremony, just as her sister Patty's was a month ago, and a reception will follow at the same place, Wellesley Country Club. Patty (Mrs. Champe Andrews Fisher) will be matron of honor, and the five bridesmaids will include Mrs. Frank Simpson (Mary McKenna) of Wellesley Hills, Nancy Conannon of Waban, Mrs. George B. Pierce (Allon Holloway) of Newton, Mrs. J. Deane Somerville (Janice Hesse) of Cambridge, and Mrs. Robert Schumacher of Groveton, N. H.

Al, who's used to running a home, having rented one on Church street, Newton with several other young men for the past two years, will have one of his roommates, Jack Egbert, as best man. Ushers will be Frank Simpson, former roommate, and John Stewart, another, from St. Clair Shores, Mich., and Robert Schumacher, Spencer Cowan of West Roxbury, and Burton Thornquist of Oak Hill Village. Maurine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Helms of West Newton, studied at the Mary A. Burnham School, Bradford Junior College, and at Katie Gibbs, A. A. Naval lieutenant during the war, prepared at Browne & Nichols for Bowdoin. After their marriage, they'll live on Beacon street, Boston.

Also planning to make their home in Boston after their wedding, also on June 29, but in El Paso, Texas, are Dorothea Jane Peterson of El Paso and Dick Long, son of the Lewis Longs of West Newton. They met during the war when both were in the Navy. Dorothea, who's not (Dick assures us) one of those "I like the wide open spaces" girls, attended Texas State College for Women, the University of Texas, and Texas Western College. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf C. Peterson, she's been teaching school in El Paso. Dick's a graduate of Newton High School, '43, and Harvard, and is associated with the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company.

Sorry to hear that the W. L. Bensdorps of Waban must move back to Holland, their homeland. Since they moved here in 1946 they've made many friends through schools, summer camps, and at Longwood Cricket Club. Luckily their four children have been kept in practice speaking Dutch at the dinner table, so going home won't seem as strange as it could. July 3 is departure day on KLM from New York. They hope to be able to arrange occasional visits back here later on.

Anne Reddy of West Newton, the John H. Reddys daughter, is engaged to Richard Porter Thompson, son of Porter W. Thompson of South Weymouth. She attended Boston University and he studied at Ohio Wesleyan University and at Drexel Institute of Technology. He's a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and a member of Theta Chi.

We hear a rumor that an interesting romantic announcement will be made soon by a certain rising young architect and a pretty schoolteacher. Both are from Newtonville. Guess who.

"He was a very gentle parit knight" (Chaucer).

Faith and The Flame

In Flanders Field the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row.
Take up our quarrel with the foe.
To you, from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders Field.

John D. McCrae

The muffled drums, the sounding of taps, the reverent placing of flowers on hallowed ground, all proclaim that Memorial Day is here.

Pause for a moment and think about it. This isn't just another day; not just another holiday. This is when we dedicate ourselves to honor the memory of those fallen in glory, for it is their sacrifices that have made this nation, born of liberty, free and unfettered. Sleep well, you honored dead. From Bunker Hill to Gettysburg; from Belleau Woods to Okinawa; your burning torch, the flaming symbol of free men everywhere, has been caught by those fighting and dying in Korea. They will not break faith with you who died. Sleep well, sleep well.

Don't Kill Your Child

Stop the wholesale, self-imposed destruction of our teen-agers! Keep them away from the driver's wheel.

It's generally the accepted thing for the junior addition of the household to borrow Day's car for an evening with the gang. But before you turn over that key, ponder a moment about what you are doing. Unless you are convinced that your youngster is a capable, careful driver, say NO, or you will become an unwitting partner to a killing, just as surely as though you had put a gun into his hand.

Every day, throughout the country, the toll taken of young lives is appalling. Maimed, twisted bodies are strewn across highways; horribly crushed and distorted teen-agers, laughter and song stilled in death, show ample proof that the Grim Reaper has been riding the hot rods right along with them.

There seems to be an increase in the number of fatalities chalked up to young drivers, for excessive speed and youth seem to go hand in hand. Youth, with its impetuosity and haste to get there faster than the next fellow, has no time for slowing up, for endowed with a super-abundance of cockiness and bravado, it cannot understand the need for caution, the need for maturity, the need for good judgment.

Parents, it's squarely up to you! The problem is yours and the end result depends entirely upon how you treat it. Don't allow yourself to be cajoled or coerced into turning over such an instrument of death unless you are sure that the young hands and young mind are ready to tackle the job. Learn to refuse, if you must. You'll feel guilty for only a moment, but you may be saving yourself from a life-time of reproach and regret.

An attempt has been made to pass legislation in this state to raise the age limit for prospective operators from 16 to 18, or possibly 21 might still be better. Until such a law is a reality, you cannot afford to be lenient. Hammer away at the importance of careful driving. Preach about the dangers of speed and recklessness. Above all, have the guts to say NO, and stick to it, if there is one iota of doubt in your mind about the capability of your driver.

The life you save may well be that of your own child.

GOP Chief Hope to Hand Pick Candidates

One of the strange aspects to the Republican drive for the restoration of the old pre-party State convention is that the top G.O.P. leaders are hopeful that the pattern for their 1952 State ticket will be blocked out even before a convention is held.

In other words, they expect that the men high up in the party councils will sit down in conference, consider the qualifications and vote-drawing talents of the prospective candidates, with due thought to the matter of geographical and racial balance, select a man for each place on the ticket and then ask the convention to endorse their slate.

That may sound a bit far-fetched, and it's certainly returning in a big way to boss rule, but that's the way the Republican Chieftains are talking at the moment. Whether the idea, outlined now in theory, can be made to work in actual practice is something, of course, that only time will determine.

That plan has a two-fold objective. The first is to produce the strongest possible ticket, and the second is to avoid a bitter primary fight such as occurred last year when there were six different contenders in the race for the G.O.P. gubernatorial nomination.

However, there's no guarantee that the delegates to a State convention, unless they are handpicked by the same leaders who selected the slate, would actually relish the role of rubber stamps, and it's just possible that they might rebel at the suggestion.

That system has been used successfully by top Republicans in some States, notably California. There the big money-raisers sit down with party leaders, when an important place is to be filled on a G.O.P. slate, allow the various aspirants to present their cases at what amounts to a private hearing and then make their decisions.

A watered-down version of that procedure has been attempted upon occasions in Massachusetts in the past by National Committeeman Sinclair Weeks and his council of advisers, and there were instances when they pointedly suggested to prospective primary contenders that they retire quietly and peaceably to the sidelines.

Some of the candidates to whom such requests were directed folded their campaign tents and decided they didn't really want to run anyway, but the more belligerent put up their backs and announced that they weren't taking orders. That could happen next year as well as any time.

Right now the only person certain of a place on the Bay State's 1952 G.O.P. slate is Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., who will be up for reelection unless he is nominated as his party's candidate for President or Vice-President which is within the realm of possibility.

The task of selecting Lodge's running mate, and particularly the man who will team with him at the head of the ticket as the nominee for Governor, is already engaging the attention of the highest Republican brass.

A few weeks ago, a group of the most prominent money-raisers in the party served notice on National Committeeman Sinclair Weeks, the party boss in the State, that they either were going to have something to say in the future about the operation of the G.O.P., or they were going to cease digging up funds.

That caused quite a furore in the Republican councils and resulted in the pronouncement by Weeks of the liberalization of G.O.P. policies and a widening of the membership of the State Committee to give greater recognition to groups which in the past had received scant attention.

The big complaint by the gentlemen who produce the funds to finance Republican campaigns was that last year's six-man G.O.P. gubernatorial primary just about drained off all the political contributions and that there was little money left to use against the Democrats in November. They declared in the most emphatic fashion that such a situation is not to be allowed to develop again. How they are going to prevent it if two or three hard-headed candidates decide they're going to run, come what may, offers a rather intricate problem.

After trying unsuccessfully to get help from the Coast Guard, the Sheriff, the county lifeguards, the Humane Society, the County Road Department, the Air Pollution Board, the Parks and Recreation Department, the Health Department and the Department of Sanitation, the caretaker of the Portuguese Bend Beach Club in San Pedro, Calif., finally took matters into his own hands and burned the five-foot, 50-pound dead seal that had been washed ashore.

-Newton Profile-

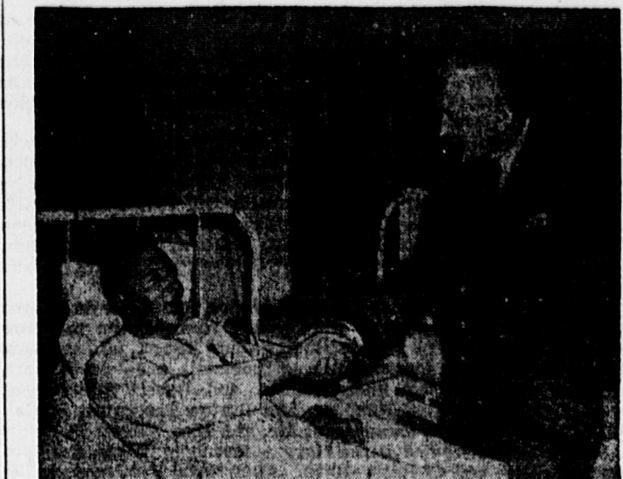

By Helen Cohen

Landing in Korea December 1, 1950, fighting in three major campaigns through the bitterness of a Korean winter, and arriving at Chelsea Naval Hospital April 3, 1951 with a gunshot wound in his foot, proves that a fellow can do a heap of living in as short a span as four months.

PFC. Joseph R. Rousseau, USMC, age 21, of 120 Jewett street, Newton, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Rousseau. He was born in Newton and received his education here at the Newton Trade School. At the age of 17, and with his parents' consent, he joined the Marine Corps. After serving his three year enlistment period, Joseph re-enlisted in the inactive reserve; that was followed by assignment to active duty August, 1950.

"I am happy to be a part of the Marine Corps. The men live up to their motto of Semper Parati—they are always faithful, not only to the flag they serve, but to each other. A marine feels that every marine is his blood brother, and they live and die feeling just that way." The Marines, planting their flag on Mt. Surabachi during World War II have enshrined themselves upon the history of this country.

Questioned about the Korean campaign, young Rousseau says "Korea is important because," as he puts it, "it looks like the communists are using Korea as a stepping stone, and they must be stopped wherever they crop up."

PFC. JOSEPH R. ROUSSEAU, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Rousseau of 120 Jewett street, Newton, receives the Purple Heart Award from Capt. W. F. James, Medical Corps, USN, Commanding Officer, U. S. Naval Hospital, Yokosuka, Japan, for wounds received in Korea.—Official U. S. Navy Photograph.

I prompted him gently. "Tell me about your part in the Korean war."

Rousseau closed his eyes for a moment. I couldn't tell whether he was trying to recapture memories or blot out the unpleasant ones.

Simply, in a quiet voice, tenseness showing in the veins standing out in his neck, Rousseau began his story: "I landed at Mason, Korea, on December 1, 1950, attached to the 7th Marine Regiment. We were part of a convoy that was joining the 1st Marine Division; our objective—to push back the 10th division of North Koreans that had broken through north of Pohang."

"This was full-scale war, fought through the kind of winter that had never been experienced on any battlefield. A numbing, searing kind of cold, forever present, left men helplessly frozen in grotesque shapes; even slightly wounded men had limbs frozen solid before the medics could reach them. We were as much concerned with keeping warm as with fighting the enemy. At times, it was hard to decide which was most important; we had begun to realize that the intense cold was becoming the number one killer in this war."

"My platoon suffered heavy casualties in the Pohang-Topyong-Diong campaign with the North Koreans. With reinforcements, we pushed on, engaging in two more campaigns with the Chinese communists at Hoengsong."

"Engaged in battles with these two, the North Koreans and the Chinese communists, taught us that there was a vast difference between them. The Koreans fought savagely, almost animal-like in their approach; the Chinese were better trained and equipped, but because of their vast number, were thrown into battle like so much cannon fodder—human flesh instead of bullets to stem the onslaught."

"Fighting near border towns became increasingly difficult. It was hard to tell if we were killing friend or foe. The North Koreans dressing themselves like the South Koreans, in white, (their symbol for peace) would infiltrate our lines. For the same reason that one American looks like another, so it was impossible to distinguish one Korean from another Korean. Stories South Koreans were dragging our men, asleep in their bags, off began to trickle back into our lines. North Koreans, dressed as to be killed. From then on, if we were in doubt, we killed, rather than risk being killed by an unfriendly Korean."

"I learned that in war, innocent people suffer too. The worst part of all this killing was seeing the civilians choking the roads,

To Sing With Chancel Choir This Sunday

Twenty-two of the twenty-five Newton High School students who represented Newton in the All-State Chorus at the recent concert in Worcester will sing with the Chancel Choir of Central Congregational Church in Newtonville this Sunday morning. The selections will be "Onnipotence" by Schubert and "Sanctus" by Gounod. Franklin G. Field, baritone, will sing a solo.

The combined choirs will be directed by James H. Remley, Superintendent of Music in the Newton Public Schools and Director of Music in Central Church. Mrs. Helen E. Born-gesser is the organist. The minister, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, will preach, and Daniel Leavitt, Assistant to the Minister, will give the sermon to the girls and boys.

Gene Norman Levine, now attending Boston University and graduate of Newton High, class of '48, has been awarded the Phi Beta Kappa Scholarship.

Each year the $500 award is presented to the top junior. Gene also has won the Warren Scholarship, awarded by Phi Beta Kappa graduates of Boston University in the class of 1946.

He was recently initiated into the Alpha Chapter of the Phi Gamma Mu Social Science Honor Society of B. U. While attending N. H. S. Gene took part in many extra-curricular activities. His home is at 94 Undine road, Brighton.

frantically moving from one town to another, most of the time, only one step ahead of the shelling. Many were shot down in their aimless wandering, a people, homeless in their own land, helpless, starving, bewildered. I saw old men, with long white beards, and old women also, bent double under the weight of their meager possessions; children, toes and fingers blue with cold, following along, with whimpering, young, staring eyes looking at the desolation of what was once their homes. I saw people dying and babies being born, right on the fringe of the battlefield. These are the things a fellow can't forget. If my fighting in Korea has helped only one person throw off the yoke of communism, then what I have done is little enough."

There was a slight pause; the story went on:

"On March 1, I was injured at Hoengsong. I received a gunshot wound in my foot. I was given first aid, and in 24 hours from the time I was wounded, I had been flown to Pusan to the U. S. Hospital Ship Repose, lying in Pusan Harbor. From there I was transferred to the U. S. Hospital Ship Constellation which was leaving for Japan. I spent a week at Yokosuka, Japan, and it was there that I was awarded the purple heart. From Japan I was flown to Wake Island, then to Honolulu, and again the final flight to San Francisco and the Chelsea Naval Hospital. I arrived here April 3, and I have been here ever since. I am an ambulatory patient now, so it is easier for me to get around. Everything possible is done for me here, wonderful care and all kinds of entertainment. I am fortunate to be stationed so near my own home. I get frequent passes, and it feels wonderful to be home, even for a short while. I expect to be here for about two more months; after that I expect to be re-assigned to active duty."

"I guess that's my story."

I suppose that is all of Joe's story as he tells it. But I believe there is more to this story than just his words, for here is the story of a boy being projected into manhood with one swoop, a story of courage and suffering, a story of doing a job and doing it well, even to the sacrifice of his own life, to preserve the way of life he believes in. All these things are part of Joseph Rousseau's story.

"Until this mess is cleaned up" there can be no future for him. When free men can breathe free air everywhere, that is when Joe Rousseau and so many others like him, will pick up the threads to go on. It is men like these, literally the backbone of our country, that keep us the way we are.

ELECTRIC POWER

STRONG RIGHT ARM

One of the reasons why New England makes such a huge share of the nation's goods, both in peace and in war, is because we have an abundance of electric power... more now than ever before. Since 1945 New England's business-managed electric companies have increased generating capacity by 41%. And new generating units to be added in 1951 and 1952 will jump the increase to 61%. Never before has so much new electric power been provided for this region's needs in such a short time... demonstrating again the ability of New England's investor-built electric companies to get things done in the public interest.

This is a crucial week for the Newton High baseball team... They go against tough Waltham (Friday away) and Brookline (twilight game Monday at home) in their final two games of the year... As this was written (Wednesday May 24) the Tigers were in for dramatic moments, playing host to Watertown (whom they previously defeated 8-4) attempting to keep hold of first place in the Suburban League race with a 7-2 record, as to their nearest competitors, Cambridge Latin, 7-3 and Waltham 6-5.

Taking Watertown was to be a "must" for the Fergusons... Yet assuming they did beat the Arsenal Gang, the Waltham and Brookline tilts coming up are just as important... If they should drop these two, then either Waltham or Latin could sweep their remaining games and clinch the flag.

The Watch Citizens are revenge-hungry and would love nothing better than to pin an upset over the Newtonites on their home-grounds... Yes, they did lose 9-1 in their first encounter but what do records mean in a Waltham-Newton game?... Remembering how the Garden City lads came over to upset their champion-bound basketball team during last season, Waltham is going to figure on doing likewise on the diamond... As for Brookline well they haven't been doing much lately but when their pitching ace Howie Kaplan toes the mound, it's a rough day for the Orange. He beat them 3-2 the last time.

Newton of course is "mighty" these days, mighty good in the pitching department with Bob Schlosberg certainly making a great contribution. In beating Rindge he fanned 21 batters and then Monday against Latin, he relieved Gib Studley in the early innings and went on to get himself a 4 hit 7-4 win... Mighty good also in hitting for a change with Barkey Boole (4 homers) doing much of the heavy work... But then Danny Coffey has been coming along as was his fine 3-run four-master in the Latin game... With Freddy Dauten, Lou Phinney, Don Flagg and Fred Keith also finding the range as they paced the attack in that 12-hit brigade.

Another crucial meeting takes place Saturday at the annual State Meet... Where Newton reigns as a co-favorite with Boston English... Yet as Boston scribes see it, English seems to have won it already... Although don't let any Newton member hear that... The so-called impartial Boston newswriters have figured Tatum (Tech) to win the 220 in 22 seconds, Rittenburg (Latin) to cop the high-hurdles in 15.2, Hardy (East Boston) to take the low-hurdles in 21.6, O'Leary (English) to finish first in the 440 in 51.5, Smith (Trade) to win the 880 in 2:01.9, the King Bros. (English) to sweep the mile in 4:46, Myles (Trade) to cop the 100 in 10.1 and the English relay team to win that event in 1:33.6... But did they ever hear of DiGiovanni, Savoy, Shannon, Tripp, Williams, Morrison, Higgins Flynn, Gould, Haywood, Snyder, Moss, Kett, Higgins, Pollard, Rawlings, or Price?... These lads are from Newton and they don't intend to give ground to anyone. And they're going to prove that it's teamwork which will win the championship.

Newton Tracksters Up For State Meet Saturday

Newton is going to win the big annual State Track meet this Saturday at White Stadium, Roxbury. They're going to win it because they are "up" and anxious for revenge. They're going to win it because they know that all they have to do is to repeat with the same kind of top-notch performance that won them four previous Quad meets this season.

The Orange tracksters and Boston English are co-favorites. English are the defenders of the title and these two teams will provide you with plenty of thrills for the afternoon.

Newton will win because they have enough first place winners and yet plenty of depth to take second, third or fourth place money if anything should go wrong. Here's how and who should get those important points.

In the 100 yard dash, look for Paul Gould and either Johnny Tripp or Bob Shannon to collect... Arnie Haywood or Mike Snyder aren't expected to do much in the 220 yet they could surprise with a 3rd or 4th... For the 440, it's all between Bob Morrison and O'Leary from English, yet don't overlook George Flynn to come up with a dazzling performance...

In the 880, George Higgins is our only bet, but he'll be up against a strong field and so a 3rd or 4th here will be admired... As for the mile, the King Bros. of English and Stanley of Lowell are tops, but Phil "Kid" Williams will run his heart out for the Orange and this could be a great day for him if he finishes in the running.

In the low hurdles, Norm DiGiovanni could take it but he's counted upon to place anyway. The same goes for Dave Savoy in the high-hurdles... Coming to the field events we have sure point-getters in the shot put with Al Rawlings and Scotty Price, Rollie Pollard and Savoy in the high-jump, Bob Moss and Shannon in the broad-jump and Johnny Tripp and Shannon again in the pole-vault, depending on whether Shannon enters that event. Rawson Bill On Filing Now a Law House Bill No. 153, petitioned for and filed by Representative George E. Rawson of Newton, has been passed by both branches of the General Court and signed by Governor Dever, and it is now law.

Under this act, candidates for nomination by a political party at a State primary are required to be enrolled members of such party. This ends the long standing abuse known as "cross filing," which has caused much confusion in the primary and election and in the organization of the General Court. It has also been destructive of the two party system of government by which this country has advanced.

Rep. Rawson has filed this bill annually for the last five years. Each year it has passed the House, only to be defeated in the Senate. This year the Senate passed it easily and Rawson had to fight for it in the House.

Large Audience Hears Lecture By A. Hickman

Science and religion are now reconciled by the discovery in modern times of the Science of Christianity, said Adair Hickman of New York City in a public address here Monday night.

He said Scientific Christianity is practical and provable, and will heal sickness and destroy human woes. He said this Science is exact knowledge of spiritual law or divine facts. He presented it as the truth about man and the one infinite Creator.

Mr. Hickman is a Christian Science lecturer currently touring this area. He spoke to a capacity audience in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton. He was introduced by Mrs. Ruth R. Herring, Second Reader of the church.

Mr. Hickman said this modern age is regarded as the most scientific in history. But he challenged the view that the universal sciences can explain the material. The basic reality is not matter, but Spirit, he said. He defined Spirit as the eternal Creator who made all and includes all that exists.

The trend of thought among many eminent physicists is toward the conclusion that matter is not the fundamental reality, he reported.

Awarded Oberlin In China Teaching Fellowship

At a special assembly Wednesday, Richard E. Dudley was announced as one of the 1951 representatives of the Oberlin-China Memorial Association. He was awarded the 1951 Oberlin-China Teaching Fellowship. Because the China field is no longer open for such work, he will go to Madras, India, to teach for two or three years and will then return for a year of graduate study at Oberlin College.

Mr. Dudley, whose home is in Auburndale, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Dudley of 86 Hancock street. He was on the honor list his freshman and sophomore years, has earned three letters in varsity soccer, and was captain of the team this year. He is also treasurer of the Y.M.C.A., a member of the Faculty-Student Educational Policy Committee, a member of the tennis team, and the Musical Union, a large choral group.

Mr. Dudley received the appointment from the Board of Trustees of the Oberlin-China Memorial Association. He was recommended to the trustees by the Student China Committee, an elective student group which promotes the Far Eastern program on the campus. Each year the Student Committee selects seniors from the group of applicants for the Teaching Fellowship.

He will graduate from Oberlin College in June and will leave for India late in the summer.

Firm Opens New Type Dairy Bar

The most modern drive-in dairy bar in this area has been opened at the Woodland Dairy, on Waverley Avenue, and is featuring delicious ice cream manufactured in the plant.

With stainless steel counters and six large show windows, the bar can easily accommodate many patrons at a time. It is open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily. Charles Richardson is the manager and local girls are employed at the counters.

The location, at the rear of the dairy, and facing Forest and Summer streets, has been attractively landscaped, given a black-top surface and ample lighting. The bar has on its walls murals depicting all phases of the dairy industry. The ice cream, after being manufactured, is stored in a walk-in refrigerator with stainless steel doors and after cooling to cabinet temperature, is ready to serve. All surplus ice cream is stored in a colder compartment. Charles L. Woodland, head of the firm, has been engaged in the dairy business 40 years in Watertown. Associated with him are his son, Edwin C. Woodland, and son-in-law, E. Bradford Sherlock.

The Air Force has a container under test that will drop three tons of men or cargo by parachute.

Exchange Group at No. Haven, Me.

Twenty-two Newton High School students left Monday morning by bus to return the visit made here by twenty North Haven, Maine, High School students two weeks ago. Accompanying them were Frank Foster, Newton High social studies teacher and Building 1 supervisor, and Mrs. Margaret Erskine, school librarian.

The Newton group will spend this week with the North Haven pupils whose acquaintance they made during the exchange visit earlier this month.

They will attend class with their Maine friends in the small, wooden high school building and a Grange Hall that has been taken to accommodate the overflow. Trips have been planned to adjacent Vinalhaven and to Hurricane Island for a look at the long-abandoned granite quarries there.

GIANT LOBSTER PARTY Also arranged for the visit of the Newton students is a giant lobster party which will include everything from setting and hauling the lobster traps to cooking and eating the catch.

Warren Fressley, Principal of North Haven High School, believes that the Newton students can learn just as much from their visit as his boys and girls did in their week in the Garden City.

North Haven, which is in lower Penobscot Bay, about 12 miles from Rockland, has about 460 year 'round residents and in the summer the population is swelled by several hundred cottagers.

Over 1,100 Graves Were Decorated

Veteran Service Commissioner Edmund T. Dungan has reported that over 1,100 graves of Newton veterans were decorated during the past weekend by the Veterans Services Department and the United Veterans Organization.

Vital Matter To Be Given Full Hearing

William Powers, president of the Newton Improvement Association has announced that a city-wide meeting of all people interested in the proposed zoning changes covering Newton, will be held at the Underwood School on Vernon street, Newton, promptly at 8 o'clock, next Thursday evening, June 7. Representatives from City Hall and probably representatives from Adams, Howard, and Greely, who have drawn up the proposed zoning changes, will be present to answer questions in full.

About one year ago the first meeting to discuss these proposed zoning changes was held at the Underwood School. At that time local Aldermen Merrill, Cannon, Rich, Anderson, explained the so-called "Adams Report" and showed maps indicating exactly what changes would be made in the Newton Corner area. This meeting which was attended by nearly two hundred people created a lot of interest throughout the city and this interest has been growing as the time for the decision and for final adoption or rejection has drawn near.

— SEVEN HEARINGS HELD —

A total of seven hearings have been held under the auspices of the Newton Planning Board and the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen. Three

Hobby Show To Be Held Wednesday

It's true Grandma worked from sun-up to sun-down but even she would have to bow in recognition of the many accomplishments of the women of today.

Everything from knitting and baking to art will be on display at the Sisterhood of Temple Shalom of Newton Hobby Show. This show is being held at the Annual meeting June 6 at 1:15 p.m. at Temple Emanuel in Newton.

The chairman of exhibits are the following: Gardening, Mrs. Sidney Morrison; Knitting, Mrs. George Friedman; Needlework, Mrs. Eric Marmorek; Collections, Mrs. George Price; Ceramics, Mrs. Leo Bernheimer; Art, Mrs. Samuel Cody; Baking, Mrs. Thomas Brower; Crafts, Mrs. Joseph Dephousse.

Election of officers will take place at this meeting and refreshments will be served.

Meeting—

of these were hearings with reference to certain wards. Wednesday evening, May 23, a group of five hundred people attended the public hearing at City Hall and the discussion lasted far into the night.

The so-called "Adams Report" or revision of the zoning ordinances covering all of Newton is a result of approximately two years of study. Business and manufacturing zoning ordinances in Newton have not been revised since 1925 or twenty-six years ago.

Ten years ago in 1941 the ordinances covering single residence zones A, B, and C were studied and revised to some extent. There have been no further major revisions since that date.

CONTINUED GROWTH

As the result of the continued growth of Newton and the pressure from Service and Business Industries for the past three or four years, officials have simply been flooded by individual requests for changing of zoning.

As a result, about two years ago the Board of Aldermen and the City Planning Board engaged the firm of Adams, Howard, and Greely, nationally known city planning engineers to make a study of the present conditions in Newton, and bearing in mind the fact that Newton would continue to grow to submit a proposed reorganization of the zoning laws to fit future conditions.

This is the report commonly called the "Adams Report," which is now before the Board of Aldermen for adoption.

WILL EFFECT THE FUTURE
This is one of the most important matters which will effect the future of Newton for many years to come because on its adoption or rejection hinges the question of whether Newton will continue in the future to be commercialized by an influx of business and manufacturing interests.

All property owners, residents who make their home here, and business people are vitally interested. Everyone in Newton is invited to attend this meeting at the Underwood School Thursday, June 7, and it is hoped that a definite expression of opinion may be obtained which will be a further guide to the Board of Aldermen.

The finished Route 128 represents an outlay of $18,000,000.

Charles W. Cushing succeeded Briggs in 1864 and guided the school for nine years, while Josiah Lasell became associated with Whitin Machine Works in Whitinsville.

Cushing was followed by Charles Bragdon who instituted military training for girls and also introduced home economics courses including cooking, dress-making and millinery.

Dr. Guy M. Winslow, president-emeritus, succeeded Bragdon and continued till 1947 when Lasell's present president, Raymond C. Wass, assumed office.

Today the college campus spreads over 30 acres. A new addition to the college during the past year was Woodland Hall, a modern dormitory and dining room.

MANY FAMILY GROUPS

In its first century, Lasell has enrolled many family groups. There have been three sets of five sisters, the most notable group being the Seiberling sisters of Akron, Ohio, of the noted tire manufacturing clan. Their cousin and sister-in-law also attended Lasell.

There have been ten groups of 4 sisters, 71 groups of 3 sisters, 650 sets of 2 sisters, 148 daughters, and eight alumnae enrolled two daughters each.

The most outstanding alumnae is Mrs. Howard Lindsay (Dorothy Stickney) who starred in the successful production, "Life with Father."

Several other well-known alumnae were Louise Morgan, radio and television commentator; Helen Eager, Boston newspaperwoman and dramatic critic; and Mrs. Kathleen Dell, president of Kathleen Dell School.

HONORARY MEMBERS

In 1891, the graduating class adopted the custom of inviting a well-known and outstanding personality to become "honorary member" of the class. Among those who accepted the honor were Oliver Wendell Holmes, Richard Harding Davis, Charles Dana Gibson, William McKinley, Henry Van Dyke, Mark Twain, Edward Everett Hale, Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, Warren G. Harding, General Pershing, Thomas Edison, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Charles Evans Hughes, Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Amelia Earhart, Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Sergei Rachmaninoff and Robert Frost.

The custom stopped when World War II began in 1941. All living honorary class members have been invited to the centennial fete in June.

Many nostalgic memories will be recalled as alumnae, faculty and students gather for this centennial fete in June.

at the Brae Burn Country Club last Thursday afternoon also charged that either the country has a defense problem or it has not.

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, secretary of the association welcomed the sixty guests representing over thirty cities and towns, to the city.

In elaborating on Municipal problems, Mr. Chatters compared the present situation to the period near the close of World War II when there were plenty of jobs but shortages of materials. Many cities, he stated, are carrying surplus employees on the payrolls as the result of changes in conditions and a fear of putting them out of work. Now is a good time, Mr. Chatters contended, to prune the payrolls of unneeded city help since the discharged person can find re-employment.

In referring to wage increases, Mr. Chatters said that though cities are not prevented from increasing salaries by wage controls, they cannot keep up with private industry in this respect. Prior to the dinner Rev. Russell E. Gundlach, pastor of Lincoln Park Baptist Church offered the invocation.

In addition to Mr. Chatters, other speakers included Edward H. Lombard of Stoneham, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association; Jonathan W. French, legal counsel of the Selectmen's Association, and Murray Sholkin, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

President Daniel B. Brunton, mayor of Springfield, officiated at the business meeting.

Highland Glee Club to Hold Annual Meeting Mon.

The Highland Glee Club of Newton will hold its Annual Meeting at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, Monday, which will culminate one of the best years artistically that the organization has had in its forty-three years of continuous activity. In recent years this club has been recognized as one of the outstanding male singing organizations in the east.

Its success has not been attributed entirely to the excellence of its individual voices; in fact, it rather prides itself that there is only a small percentage of professional or semi-professional singers in its membership. Rather, its success can be attributed more to the fact that the large majority of its members consist of business and professional men who just love to sing, who perhaps were reared in homes where the old tradition of family singing existed. Added to this, participation in school and college glee clubs is the musical background of most of the singers.

For the past several years the membership of the Highland Glee Club has been comprised of 80-90 men, a few of whom—never in excess of ten—have from time to time requested a year's leave of absence for good and sufficient reasons, with the result that each year 65-70 active members get together the first part of October to rehearse Monday evenings right through the fall and winter and into late spring—an average attendance at these rehearsals being in the neighborhood of 60 men—and attend outside concerts, averaging 12-14 each year, some journeying from long distances, which gives one a pretty good idea of their loyalty and interest. The club's membership is drawn from 16 different communities, including the Newtons, the latter constituting about 60 per cent of the total membership. D. Ralph Maclean has been the conductor of the Highland Glee Club for 23 years, and upon him falls the real responsibility of maintaining the high musical standard for which the club has become recognized. Much thought is devoted to the selection of each program and Mr. Maclean sees to it that it is a finished production before being presented. He is greatly admired and supported not only by the club itself but by its 400 sponsoring members who attend the fall and spring concerts at the Newton High School.

The highlight of the season is the contest and concert of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, of which the Highland Glee Club is a member, which this year was held in Lynn on May 19th. Ten of the outstanding organizations in New England competed in the contest this year. Five judges heard these clubs, behind screens without any knowledge of the particular club's identity, and marked each club on a point system. Participating clubs are divided into three groups, governed by size of membership as follows: Group I—under 30 members; Group II—between 30 and 40 members; Group III—over 50

After a Canadian wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moynihan will make their home at 14 Elm street, Belmont.

Miss Lila Wright Graves Weds Mr. Edmund Whitley Goode

The First Presbyterian Church of West Chester was the setting on Saturday, May 5, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, for the marriage of Lila Wright Graves and Edmund Whitley Goode. Rev. J. Garrett Kell, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony using rings of old fashioned yellow gold in wide bands. The church was decorated with cymbotium ferns and lighted tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Myrtle Clair Graves and the late Wilmer Jackson Graves, of Rowlesburg, W. Va. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dickinson Goode, of Wawaset road, West Chester, and Center Harbor, N. H. The Goodees are formerly of Abundale, Mass.

Given in marriage by her brother, George Kenneth Graves, of Baltimore, Md., the bride wore a ballerina length two piece gown of pale blue lace over satin, styled with a fitted bodice edged around the top with illusion, and a gathered lace skirt which was full over another skirt of satin. The fitted jacket of matching lace featured long pointed sleeves and high neckline with tiny pointed collar trimmed with a row of tiny covered buttons down the front. She carried a monogrammed linen handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's great grandmother. Her shoes were of pale blue linen. She wore a tiny shoulder length veil of illusion attached to a fragile blue wreath. Her bouquet was of white orchids and phalaenopsis.

Mrs. James E. Braithwood, of Rowlesburg, W. Va., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Goode, of Boston, Mass., sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. George K. Graves, of Baltimore, Md., sister-in-law of the bride. They wore pale pink lace ballerina length dresses and short eton jackets with tiny high collars, and matching fragile pink head wreaths. Their bouquets were of spring flowers.

Frederick Dickinson Goode Jr., of Newtonville, Mass., served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Samuel Thaxter Parks, of Sherborn, Mass., and Samuel Slikin, of West Chester. The men in the wedding party were attired in blue-grey business suits with white carnation boutonnières.

An organ recital preceded the ceremony and was played by Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas Riddle, of Wilmington, Del. The selections were from Sleeping Beauty Ballet and Waltz Serenade by Tchaikovsky; Symphony Number Eight by Schubert; Symphony Number 1 by Brahms and Maid With the Flaxen Hair.

Mrs. Graves, mother of the bride, wore an orchid crepe and lace gown. Mrs. Goode, mother of the bridegroom, chose a gown of rose crepe. Each wore a corsage of white phalaenopsis. Unable to attend the wedding was the bridegroom's younger sister, Miss Barbara Goode, of Hollywood, Calif.

Immediately following the ceremony, friends and relatives enjoyed a reception at the American Legion Home, North New street road.

The bride and bridegroom started off, amid a shower of rice and good wishes, for a tour of New England. They plan to spend a few days at the Goode's summer home at Lake Winnepesaukee in New Hampshire. After two weeks, the couple will be at home at 205 S. High street, where the bridegroom has his studios. He is a well-known local photographer. The bride came to Wyeth penicillin laboratory on Rosedale avenue three years ago from the Food and Drug penicillin laboratory in Washington, D. C.

There were hemlocks and white dogwood trees in the chancel of the West Newton Unitarian Church Saturday afternoon, and against a background of ivory damask there were white candles and greens on the altar for the marriage of Miss Palma Louise Thoma and Mr. Richard Stearns Alles, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Alles of Cambridge. The Rev. John Ogden Fisher performed the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the formal garden and terrace at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Kurt H. Thoma of West Newton. The receiving line was in front of an old Swiss painting with arrangements of white flowers and copper beech leaves on either side, and the stairway was festooned with garlands of daisies.

Given in marriage by both her father and mother, the bride wore a gown of imported ivory rose point Chantilly lace with an off-the-shoulder illusion neckline and long tight sleeves ending in a rose motif. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to a matching lace hat, and she carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, stephanotis and fleurs d'amour with ivy.

The maids of honor were Miss Barbara Barrows of Chestnut Hill and Miss Margaret Utter of Westerly, R. I. With their off-the-shoulder gowns of sun yellow taffeta they wore tiny taffeta and tulle open-crowned hats and carried bouquets of powder blue delphinium. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Kurt Richard Thoma of Medway; Mrs. Henry R. Keene of Dedham; Mrs. George H. Bickford of Grafton; Miss Nancy Buitts of Newton; Miss Joan Foster of Manchester, N. H.; and Mrs. George McLaughlin of Abundale. Their gowns and hats were like those of the maids of honor. Four carried colonial bouquets of white daisies and ivy, and two, crescent bouquets of yellow daisies and ivy.

Vicky Ann Thoma of Medway, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a full-length frock of white organza over yellow tulle. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Kurt Richard Thoma of Medway; Mrs. Henry R. Keene of Dedham; Mrs. George H. Bickford of Grafton; Miss Nancy Buitts of Newton; Miss Joan Foster of Manchester, N. H.; and Mrs. George McLaughlin of Abundale. Their gowns and hats were like those of the maids of honor. WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

- (1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways — we tie them fully 8 ways and with special weaves.
- (2) We don't just glue loose frames — we tear out old dovetails, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
- (3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots — we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
- (4) The welting isn't simulated — it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.
- (5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked — all the seams are hand-sewn.
- (6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior — we use the new, expensive moss filling.
- (7) We don't just repair your cushions — we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
- (8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly — we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
- (9) We don't just cut from a pattern — we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
- (10) We don't settle for second-best materials — we use only the highest quality throughout.

Prof. W. H. Timble, a retired member of M. I. T.'s faculty, and Mrs. Timble of Highland avenue have returned from spending the winter season in Altamont, Fla. Contrary to their usual custom of going down by automobile, they traveled by railroad, but were fortunate in having the loan of a friend's car occasionally. Taking advantage of this privilege, they called on Miss Alice Nelson, who lived in Newtonville for many years while a teacher in the Brookline public schools. She was an active member of the local church and Sunday school.

Norman D. Cleveland Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Cleveland of Lenox street, was elected president of the Brown University Glee Club. He has been a Glee Club member since his freshman year. He is a Delta Phi fraternity man.

Peter G. Fay, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Fay, 170 Forest avenue, West Newton, and a junior at the Choate School, has recently been elected to membership on the Honor Committee for the year 1951-1952. He has been active as a member of the Choral Club, Rifle Club and Automobile Club.

Private First Class Peter Burrill Scholley, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Scholley, 221 Prince street, West Newton, has completed the eight-week Leaders' Course, conducted by the Specialist Training Regiment of the famed 8th (Golden Arrow) Infantry Division, garrisoned at Fort Jackson, Columbia, S. C. Prior to his induction into the Army Sept. 27, 1950, Pfc. Scholley attended Newton High School and Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., where he received a B.A. degree in June, 1950. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Order (Alpha Psi) Chapter of Rollins College.

The West Newton Women's Christian Temperance Union held its regular meeting Monday, May 21, at the home of Miss Florence Hart, 2121 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale. The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. May L. Sweatt and many interesting reports were given by the directors of various lines of work. Plans were made to send magazines and an afghan to a Veterans' hospital. This was an annual "Mystery Sisters" party and much enjoyment was derived when gifts were opened. A social hour, with refreshments, ended a very enjoyable evening. Miss Edna S. Cobb was the assisting hostess.

Miss Cynthia Bassett of 15 Hewland road, West Newton, and Miss Betsy Ann Breed of 47 Gay street, Newtonville, have completed their first year of professional training for work with nursery school and kindergarten children at the Nursery Training School of Boston. Miss Bassett is a graduate of Centenary Junior College and Miss Breed of Colby Junior College, and both are members of the two-year course of teacher training at the Nursery Training School. Miss Bassett expects to teach nursery school on the Cape this summer.

983 Washington street was honored by a surprise birthday reception given him by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Mark at their home, 69 Oakland avenue, Auburndale, Sunday afternoon. Among the large gathering were relatives, neighbors and Mr. Paul G. Anderson, organist at the Newtonville Methodist Church with the choir of which Mr. Anderson has been a member for some ten years. The guest of honor, who is 82, keeps an apartment in his twelve room house and rents the remaining suites. One of his summer diversions is gathering the "drop" apples from two trees in his yard and putting them at the disposal of the children and housewives of the neighborhood. Fruit from a red cherry tree also is one's for the taking. Mrs. Mark picks her father up every weekday and Sunday and takes him to her home for dinner with one exception. This is Thursday afternoon when he foregoes this pleasure and has a snack at home before attending choir rehearsal. He has one son, Earl C. Anderson, Warrant Officer and Band leader of the 2nd Infantry Division of the United States Army, now stationed in Korea. Beautiful music from some of the finest records and a profusion of cut flowers lent themselves admirably to the charming atmosphere of the afternoon. Mrs. Maud Anderson, a sister-in-law of Melrose, and Mrs. T. Jerome Cutting of 95 Walker street graciously presided at the table laden with unusually tempting and attractive refreshments.

Town Talk

By Lee Tyler

There won't be a soul in town the weekend of the 9th. Or so it would seem, hearing of those planning to keep graduation dates. Bound for Northampton, for Smith's on the 11th, are the Philip H. Hornes of Newton, to see Nancy; the George D. Wolfsons, the Robert L. Gibsons, and the George R. Prices of Waban to see, respectively, Elinor, Jean, and Carol; the Aaron M. Jones and the Robert D. Salingers of Newtonville to see Joyce and Barbara Salinger; and the Parker H. Kennedys of Newton Centre, to root for Thalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Rich of Newton will be there. Anne, who's been on the Dean's List steadily since she was a sophomore, has an exciting trip to Europe waiting for a reward. Also graduating is Ann Leonard, daughter of the Neil Leonards of Newton Centre. Ann made a big mark at Smith, being elected to the Sophomore Push Committee, Junior Ushers, the Associated News Bureau, and becoming managing editor of "Scan."

Barbara Bliss, daughter of Mrs. Earle Francis Bliss of West Newton, herself an alumnus, is to be another Smith graduate. Her sister, Virginia, a member of next year's senior class, will also go along for the fun. Barbara announced her engagement recently to Alan Harris Bath of Williamsburg, Va., who's graduating from Hamilton College, N. Y., this month, although he already holds a degree from the Sorbonne in Paris! Their wedding plans are indefinite, though, as he enters the service soon.

During four years at Mount Holyoke, Patricia May Warren of West Newton accumulated enough stuff to fill two cars. So her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Shields Warren, are taking along just that many to help her move out. Driving one car will be Dr. Warren, with Pat's sister, Emily (Mrs. Guy McLeod) at the wheel of the other. Pat's mother and grandparents, Dean and Mrs. William M. Warren of Brookline, will be passengers. Pat, too, must wait before telling "when" for her wedding to "Jasper" (David) Palmer, son of the Claude E. H. Palmers of Waban. A graduate of Amherst, he's in the Paratroops now.

Cornell's graduation is also approaching, and the James B. Palmers of West Newton have a special interest in it. Marty has been chosen class orator. Her brother, David, an underclassman, finishes his exams this weekend and will come home for a brief vacation before returning to campus with the family. Julia, taking a day off from her dietetic job in Providence, will join them. Brother Jim will be the only one missing, as he and his young family live in Oregon now.

Probably traveling the farthest to watch a diploma handed out are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mordecai of Newton, whose son, Robert, finishes Ripon College in Wisconsin the 9th. For Tom West's graduation from Oberlin in Ohio on the 11th, his sister, Sally, and father, Thomas H. West, will leave Newton briefly.

Out to Columbia, Missouri, for their daughters' graduations from Stephens College last week went the C. W. Wooldredges of Waban and the Joseph B. Salsburys of Newton Centre. It apparently was a bang-up celebration there, with an operetta, two formal dances, a horse show, an air review, a display of fashions, barbecues, and aquacades making the solemnities, when it became time for them, seem solemn indeed.

Ruth Catlin Dana, who's had an important job with the Department of Public Welfare in Springfield, Ill., for several years, is coming home to Newton Highlands this Saturday, June 2, for her wedding. At the home of her father, Frank Van Ness Dana, she'll become the bride of Edward Houser Cavin of Washington, D.C. The Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt of Harvard Church will officiate. Ruth's sister, Mrs. Robert A. Evans of Newton Highlands, will be her only attendant. Mr. Cavin, whose eldest son will be best man, is with the American National Red Cross in Washington, where they'll live.

Stealing a little thunder from June brides and graduates are animal shows. There was a very horsey one Wednesday (May 30) at the Dedham Country and Polo Club, and this Saturday the Ladies' Dog Club is staging its annual show there. One of the exhibitors will be Mrs. Kenneth C. Tiffin of Holliston, formerly of West Newton, with her famous great danes. Mrs. Tiffin, by the way, is president of the Framingham District Kennel Club, which has its dog show Sunday at "Raceland," the colorful estate of John R. Macomber, in Framingham. The affair starts at one o'clock, and all are invited.

Auburndale

There is a galaxy of Auburndale newly arrived citizens to report this week: On May 16, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bradley Bowen welcomed a son to their family circle. May 20, brought a son to Rev. and Mrs. Sidney Adams of Central street. Mr. and Mrs. David Sheldon were gladdened by the advent of a daughter on the same day, May 20. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rivers of Auburndale avenue experienced the joy of adding a daughter to their family group on May 21.

Miss Barbara Goddard, daughter of ex-Mayor and Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, is a candidate for a Bachelor of Arts degree at Wellesley College's 73rd annual commencement on Monday, June 11. She is a geography major. This year she has been president of Pomeroy Hall, a dormitory in the Quadrangle Group at Wellesley. A classmate of Miss Goddard's is Miss Patricia Morehouse, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Morehouse of Ware road. She is a major in music. She attended the American schools in Rio Janeiro for three years. She has been active in the language and drama groups as well as being a member of the Wellesley Choir and the Madrigals Group.

On Tuesday last the children of the Williams School brought flowers to brighten the building, readying it for their part in the morning dedication of the auditorium to William Ames Leighton, principal of the district for 34 years until his death last August. Little three-year-old Bernard Carr, one of Mr. Leighton's seven grandchildren was present at the children's morning exercises. In the evening, parents and friends gathered to do honor to Mr. Leighton's memory, and formally dedicate the auditorium and unveil two plaques, one for the inside and the other for the outside of the building. Both plaques were designed by William E. Brown of the M.I.T. faculty, and a parent of a Williams School pupil. Rev. Chauncy Blossom of the Congregational Church and Miss Dorothy Donnelly, acting principal, were co-chairmen of arrangements. Frederick O. Holmes presided at the meeting. As president of the Federation of Newton Teachers, he introduced Harold B. Gores, superintendent of Newton schools, who was the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Leighton's son, William A. Leighton, Jr., and a daughter were present at the meeting. Mr. Leighton was happily termed "Dean of Elementary School Principals" by his appreciative associates.

Miss Louise Wiley, a junior and kindergarten primary major in the Department of Arts and Sciences of Oberlin College, has been chosen managing editor of the 1952 Hi-O-Hi, college yearbook. Miss Wiley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wiley of Istanbul, Turkey, and she resides at 144 Hancock street.

Word has been received by Mrs. Clara Fridgman, a retired missionary, of the death of her brother-in-law, Dr. Burt N. Bridgman, M. D., which occurred May 3, in Kentertown, Natal, South Africa, where he was serving under the American Board of Foreign Missions, Boston. Dr. Bridgman was a practicing physician in Jamaica Plain from 1899 to 1916.

Miss Hazel M. Atwood, R. N., acting hostess at Barton House of the Walker Missionary Home, has sailed on the Queen Mary for Wai Hospital in Wai, India, where she will serve under the American Board of Foreign Missions, Boston. On a furlough in this country, Miss Atwood was detained from returning to China because of the Communist situation there.

JOHN LIGHT WITH HIS EQUIPMENT

Adults have not cornered the market on daring and adventure hobbies. Here is a teenager who has turned an unusual pastime into a career.

John Light, 18, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Light of Waltham street, West Newton, member of the graduating class of Newton High School, is a deep sea diver.

John first became interested in diving at the age of 14, when he accompanied Edward Rowe Snow, noted author and lecturer, to Cape Cod. At that time, Mr. Snow was doing some research about the pirate ship Whidah, which had been wrecked off Wellfleet in 1717, supposedly carrying a cool, half million dollars in gold and silver. Whether it was the thrilling version of a pot of pirate's gold as his own, or the daring of youth that nudged him into a decision, at that point, John decided to take up diving seriously.

Through Mr. Snow, John met Tommy Griffin, famous diver, who took the young fellow under his wing. From Griffin John got his first real training.

"If I am a good diver today, it is because Tommy Griffin was such a wonderful teacher and coach. I learned some of my best diving tips from him." It is easy to see that John believes that Griffin is just tops.

John owns all the diving equipment he uses. Even though it was bought as part of Navy surplus, it represents a large chunk of money for someone so young.

"A fellow must have a pair of wonderful and farseeing parents to be able to keep up with anything like this," John explained. "Not only did they help me buy my equipment, but they have encouraged me to continue. They realize that it is what I want to do most. Because they are so well about it, I try not to take any needless risks when I am diving."

Listening to John speak, it is not hard to understand the complete confidence these "swell" parents have in this level-headed youngster, who in years is a boy, but speaks a man's language.

John started to learn about diving by reading everything he could find on the subject. He then learned to be a tender, and with it, the importance of a tender's work; the life of a diver may well depend upon the cool thinking and trigger-quick action of his tender. He went along with Griffin on salvage operations at Mt. Monhegan Island, Maine, and watched the diving operations there.

John began with shallow water diving with shallow water equipment. From there, by easy stages, John went down to a depth of 100 feet on his first real dive. John is constantly practicing, and at the present, is considered quite proficient. He is, without doubt, one of the youngest in the business.

Sprawled comfortably in an easy chair, John spoke with the same degree of seriousness about the importance of checking his equipment constantly and how much it had cost him to attend the high school prom. The elasticity of youth is amazing!

Questioned about the dangers attached to diving, John spoke nonchalantly of a close brush he had had while taking a practise dive at Lake Walden. His air pump had been upset carelessly, leaving him with only 1 1/2 minutes of air before it was righted. Only a few weeks ago, at Marblehead Harbor, while engaged in bringing up moorings and mooring blocks, a ladder upon which John was climbing snapped, leaving him suspended from the pier. Carrying his own weight of 165 pounds plus the added 210 pound weight of his diving suit, the pressure inside his suit made breathing almost impossible. With a shrug

"I guess you would call that close, too," John dismissed the incident lightly.

John's most thrilling and serious job to date was when he helped search for the Foley boy, who was drowned in Muddy River, Brookline, last year. At that time, he took several dives in search for the boy.

While John talked, he stroked the ears of Boots, a 9 year old Boston terrier. The look of adoration for his master in Boots' eyes convinced him that if necessary, and if there was such a thing as a canine diver, boots would willingly don a diving suit and go along with John.

However, in spite of his tremendous interest in diving, John does not have a one-track mind. Instead, he is surprisingly versatile. In his spare time, if spare time is possible, John manages to do a great deal of photography. An accomplished amateur photographer, he develops and prints his own pictures. He has done aerial photography, and earmarked for the future, are plans for some underwater work with his camera. John has flown with Edward Rowe Snow when Mr. Snow, in his role of the flying Santa, dropped packages at Christmas time to families living on islands off the New England Coast. For relaxation, he takes canoe through a 5-10 mile run, paddling from one island to another in Boston Harbor. He laughingly admits he's not much of a swimmer and dislikes going into the water when he was younger. He assured me that a diver does not have to know how to swim. Thinking it over carefully, I guess John has a point there.

On June 24, John is entering the Navy's submarine service at New London, Conn. After a training course there, he hopes to go to the Washington Diving School, Washington, D. C., for an intensive course in deep sea diving; Annapolis will follow, maybe. With approximately 500 active divers in the world, John believes there is a need for more men trained in this vital work. He cautions aspirants, however, that this is not child's play. It takes constant, rigorous training, a deep-seated liking for the work, a lack of fear of the unknown, and the hard and fast rule of never taking chances. "A diver can make only one mistake,"

John stoutly maintains that he has no fear of death and that he is not the least bit superstitious, nevertheless, he carries with him a good luck charm; a piece of eight—1819 coinage, dug up by Mr. Snow on Strong Island, an iron cross taken from a dead German soldier of World War I and a replica of a skull, all suspended from a silver chain. John assured me very solemnly that he never dives without this charm.

Daring? Unusual? Stimulating? Yes, John's hobby is all of these. But with these go stamina, courage, and singleness of purpose. Putting them together, you have John Light. Above all, his life promises to be one of adventure and excitement and I shouldn't be surprised, and neither will you, if one day he does bring up his hoped for sunken treasure.

Letters

To Newton Home Owners:

On Wednesday evening, May 23, it was my privilege as a resident of Langdon street in Ward 1, to attend a public hearing at the Newton City Hall on proposed amendments of the Newton Zoning Law which, among other changes not material to this letter, contained a proposed amendment to change all Private Residence Districts to Residence D Districts.

This meeting was attended by over 400 Home Owners and I understand was the 7th and last hearing held by the Board of Aldermen in conjunction with the proposed Zoning Law Amendments.

Private Residence Districts permit the construction of single family and two family dwellings only. Residence D District would permit in addition, the erection of garden type apartments (an euphonistic term, but still an apartment house).

The Moderator at the hearing, to meet the apparent opposition to the proposed change of Private Residence Districts to Residence D Districts recommended that those who opposed this Amendment might effect an upgrading of their respective streets by petition. After it had been pointed out that the pursuit of this recommendation would result in upgrading very few streets because of public apathy and complacency in these matters, a show of hands was requested and taken to ascertain the sentiment of the people present at the hearing; this at the request of the writer of this article. Six people present voted in favor of the Moderator's recommendation to circulate a petition for the purpose of upgrading their streets. Every other person present voted to retain the present Private Residence District Zoning Law in its status quo.

Mr. Rich, of the Board of Aldermen, stated that he observed about 25 persons from his voting District present and that in view of the fact that he had heard no objection to the proposed Amendment from his other 5,000 odd constituents, he was confused and did not know how he would vote on this matter.

Another Alderman, whose name I do not know, stated that if the proposed Amendment becomes law, he wanted the people to know that he permits to construct garden type apartments in the new Residence D Districts (the former Private Residence Districts) would be granted only after application for permit and hearing.

He neglected to state to the people that the hearing would be restricted to the abutting land owners and that the Home Owners in general would have no voice at such hearing.

Under the Massachusetts General Laws, a hearing for a change in the Zoning Law requires notice to the general public. Such would not be the case on application for permit to construct garden type apartments if Private Residence Districts were changed by vote of the Board of Aldermen to Residence D Districts.

In view of the foregoing, it is urgently recommended that all Home Owners make their views unmistakably clear by personally contacting the Alderman without delay. Only by such immediate communication can Mr. Rich and any of his associates on the Board of Aldermen who on May 23, the date of this hearing, had not decided how to vote on this issue be guided to vote in accordance with the dictates of their constituency.

Let's Preserve Newton Home Values!

RICH and BELLINGER

Funeral Directors Since 1899

In presenting this cross section picture of the varied outstanding services and establishments of our Newton area, we believe we must include this fine old firm of Rich and Bellinger, one which has always rendered a reliable and conscientious service to the people of this section of the state in this most important profession.

With a fine and modern Funeral Chapel, air conditioned throughout, located here in Newton at 26-30 Centre avenue, Rich and Bellinger have always been distinguished by their ability to conform their services to each individual situation. The efforts put forth to help lessen the anguish and sorrow of those who mourn a departed loved one and the deeper understanding which is a necessary requirement of those engaged in this important profession are all apparent at every funeral which this firm conducts.

From the very moment that Messrs. A. C. Bellinger and V. P. Mackay and the efficient personnel are called upon, until the very last duty is performed, not a single minute detail is overlooked nor the least semblance of confusion encountered, but rather a sympathetic smooth running service is rendered that bespeaks of the deep thought and interest that they take and this holds true in every case, whether rich or poor, an elaborate funeral or just a simple one.

Then too, one is impressed upon entering this Funeral Chapel by the excellent atmosphere of intimate privacy and home-like comfort, the thorough equipment needed for the complete services, and it is a fact that you are immediately instilled with the feeling of confidence of newly made friends who are at your service at your time of grief and who take care of all the little details which are so distressing in your hour of deepest sorrow.

From the very moment when death removes from our midst a beloved member of a family these funeral directors step in and assume complete responsibility for all arrangements as they are most capable of doing because of their long experience in this profession.

We certainly are pleased in having this opportunity of commending this firm of Rich and Bellinger upon the very satisfactory services which they have always rendered to the public of this section of the state and we do wish them continued success in this most essential profession throughout the second half of the century.

Auburndale Co-operative Bank

Incorporated 1910

Newton Busi. Review m28 sch As a factor in the upbuilding and progress of this section of the state, the Auburndale Co-Operative Bank, located in Auburndale at 307 Auburn street, is very definitely taking a prominent and honorable part. It is known as a co-operative bank of superlative integrity and one that can be counted on always to carry its share of the load in any forward-looking and progressive movement. The policy of this well-known institution has always been one of accommodation to its patrons, liberal without being careless, conservative without being hide-bound.

In addition to having for sale, at all times, interest-bearing shares which represent one's security and independence in the later years, the Auburndale Co-Operative Bank is also in the position of relieving many of our present and future homeowners of cares and worries because of their modern money-saving mortgage loans, either for purchasing or repairing of a house.

The officers of this co-operative bank, as well as the capable personnel, are individuals of high standing and of irreproachable character and as a result the soundness of this reliable establishment is and always has been, unquestionable throughout the past 41 years.

Their co-operative plan has been one of the important and really essential features of this community and one which has most certainly given added impetus to the growth and development of this section of the state and has become indispensable to the people throughout Middlesex County.

We are certain that as long as the present officers of this institution continue to guide its destiny and our citizens and residents will always continue to receive the same satisfactory service in the future as they have in the past.

We are pleased in this Business Review to publicly mention these facts in reference to the Auburndale Co-Operative Bank and we can definitely recommend their services to our readers as well worthy of your utmost consideration at all times.

Graham's Esso Servicenter

Tires - Batteries - Accessories

The standing which any establishment attains in the mind of the consuming public, is necessarily based upon the quality of the products which it sells, their performance, and the relations maintained with their patrons.

Judged upon these standards, Graham's Esso Servicenter has certainly earned a high rating among motorists in the West Newton area. Ever since the inception of this business under the very capable management of Edward C. Graham, this service station has successfully catered to their wants and needs by providing motor fuels and lubricants in which are embodied those essential elements that make efficiency, quicker starting and smooth running action, and which have the reputation of being kind to your motor.

By another, "these motor fuels and lubricants" are known as Esso Products, used by the careful motorists who like to get high performance from the car he or she drives, and it is a well known fact, that they fill the bill.

Sympathetic in their approach in meeting the requirements and desires of all who enter its doors, this commendable and beautifully equipped convalescent home reflects in its every respect, the conscientious endeavor to provide the well-being of all who seek a haven of rest and seclusion. Expert Auto Repairs

Those of us who know this establishment and who have availed themselves of their efficient services, MacDonald's Auto Repair Service, located in the Chestnut Hill Garage at 199 Commonwealth avenue, telephone Lasell 7-9843 need no introduction. But, however for the sake of the motoring public of this section of Newton, as a whole, we are more than pleased to include this firm as one of the most outstanding of its kind in the entire area.

Although MacDonald's Auto Repair Service has for many years, been a source of satisfaction to automobile owners when beset with troubles, and too, most successful in a financial way, nevertheless Mr. Ronald J. MacDonald the capable proprietor, not satisfied with just ordinary or the run-of-the-mill equipment has, at great expense, installed newer and more up-to-date equipment.

And so, it comes to pass that here in our own territory we have an auto repair center which, in our opinion, is second to none. It is really no great wonder that all work turned out here is done to perfection. MacDonald's Auto Repair Service, is always a busy place which is a pretty good indication of the high regard in which it is held by their patrons whose confidence has been won by this firm's efficiency. There is an old saying that "if you want a job done in time, give it to a busy man to do." We might well paraphrase this to read "If you want your car repaired in entirety — and done expertly — drive it into MacDonald's Auto Repair Service." No job is ever allowed to leave these premises until everything has been tested and given the final O. K. by Ronald MacDonald himself.

Particularly now, do we urge our readers irrespective of distance to keep well in mind the foregoing facts because of the lack of unlimited new automobiles and not forgetting the much increased cost of them, and it really does pay to keep your old car in excellent condition in every respect.

We want to take this opportunity of complimenting Ronald J. MacDonald upon his progressiveness as to equipment, selection of mechanics as stated above, and last but not least, his straightforward business dealings throughout the years that he has been serving the public here. Again let us state that here at MacDonald's Auto Repair Service, anything and everything is taken care of as pertaining to any make of automobile in efficient manner.

BRADBURY'S MARKET

Waban's Quality Market

We are very pleased to include in our business review of those establishments best serving the people of our section of Waban and the surrounding areas, this fine establishment located at 89 Wyman street, telephone 7-3024. This is one of the most modern markets to be found in our community and with up-to-date facilities, this fine market offers a comprehensive choice of meats of the highest grade, top quality poultry and dairy products.

Under the direction of Mrs. George Bradbury, Sr., this fine local market is meeting the requirements of public demand in an excellent manner along the meat and grocery lines with such outstanding products as imported and domestic beer, ale, and wine satisfying the wants of its patrons at all times.

This modern market carries a full line of canned goods of every description together with fresh farm products and an excellent assortment of fruits. A free and efficient delivery service is maintained for the convenience of the public.

Mr. George Bradbury is at all times very particular in regard to the type of products and their freshness, before taking these products in for resale, thus assuring his many customers of products which are not only pure and health-giving, but also delicious to eat.

We are pleased to mention these facts with reference to this conscientious establishment which is serving many Waban families, as well as those of surrounding areas, and we take added pleasure in recommending this splendidly managed market to our readers and friends as a place where you can trade with the utmost confidence.

We are sure as long as Mr. George Bradbury continues to serve the residents of this section, he will always give the same lasting satisfaction in the future as he has so well done in the past.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

"Celebrating Its 100th Anniversary"

One of the very finest institutions of its kind in the entire state, in our opinion, is the Lasell Junior College, located here in Auburndale at 117 Woodland road, a school, which due to the very excellent reputation it has achieved since its beginning one hundred years ago, deserves a public work of praise and top mention in a business survey of this section of the state. For it is a fact that the Lasell Junior College has done its share in the past in turning out successful graduates who have been, and are now associated with some of our leading industries, business houses and as efficient employees and executives of city, state and government.

Placing emphasis upon specialized courses for young women in office secretarial, as well as medical secretarial work, retail training, home economics, art, music and general education, in addition to its liberal arts transfer department, and with authority to grant A.A. and A.S. Degrees, the Lasell Junior College admirably fulfills its function as an outstanding institution by providing a faculty of teachers who through long experience in specialized fields of endeavor and coupled with the ability to most efficiently present a particular subject, guides and directs the student to advance according to that individual's talents.

We would certainly suggest and advise all our readers who are interested in further education, and also those of you who will very shortly graduate, to pay an immediate call here at the Lasell Junior College and inquire as to admission in the Fall.

We are happy in having this opportunity of commending the directors and faculty upon the fine service, which they are rendering to the people of this section of the State and in conclusion, we do want to offer our heartiest congratulations and best wishes on behalf of all our citizens to this fine local college upon its 100th anniversary.

West Newton Savings Bank

"Safety for Savings"

Throughout the years the West Newton Savings Bank has been serving this section of the state with honor and distinction, with a savings service that has definitely aided in the general promotion of thrift throughout this entire area.

The importance of a regular system of savings is of estimable value in building character and providing to a man or woman a feeling of self-respect, independence and confidence in facing the future. Like the time worn but true example in nature of the mighty oak that starts with a tiny acorn, so the small beginning of a savings account constantly increased by consistent additions, will accumulate throughout the years and inevitably result in a competence for any need that might arise.

The West Newton Savings Bank, located here in West Newton at 1314 Washington street, now holds a sizeable amount of savings of small and large investors in this area and they particularly welcome the small and growing account and you will certainly experience the thrill of watching your account grow.

This bank is under the direction of competent and local business men who assure depositors of a thrift service secured by the most stable investments. The officers in charge have long been associated with the business development of this area and cooperate fully with the citizens in an effort to stabilize business efforts at all times. A banking service such as this is a great convenience to the public and it is therefore logical to draw the conclusion that a strong institution such as this one, which specializes in savings accounts is the most advantageous place to deposit your money.

In addition to these features, this institution is rendering an important service in the mortgage field. Here you will find an up-to-date mortgage plan which is flexible and inexpensive — actually tailor-made to fit your need. In addition to loans, also for repairs and construction.

In this Business Review we are pleased to call to the attention of the public the merits of this fine banking institution, the West Newton Savings Bank, which has so capably served the residents of this entire area.

THOMAS J. DWYER

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR

In presenting a cross-section picture of the various businesses and industries throughout our own section of Middlesex County, we feel that this survey of those selected establishments and firms would certainly be lacking without prominent mention of this one, whose services have met with the full approval of all who have availed themselves of their specialized efforts throughout the years.

There are two standards in making your selection of any firm to do business with, what and how well they have done their work in the past and what their reputation is today in reference to their workmanship and business dealings. Either factor by itself might be satisfactory but the combination of the two is a pretty good guaranty that the finished job will be most satisfactory in every respect.

The firm of Thomas J. Dwyer, located here in Auburndale at 24 West Pine street, telephone Lasell 7-2770, is one of which we speak, and one which very definitely fulfills the above standards. As a matter of fact this fine local concern is acknowledged by the trade as tops in this industry and there is no question about it that the name of Thomas J. Dwyer, a master electrician, is considered tops in this highly specialized business of electrical contracting.

The business dealings of this fine firm of Thomas J. Dwyer have always been fair and above board, and for this reason he has gained many friends among his clientele. It is a fact, too, that he gives the same careful attention to the smaller jobs that he gives to the larger ones, because he has learned from long experience in this work that these smaller jobs necessitate the same careful energy for the complete satisfaction of the finished work itself.

We would suggest to our readers that if you are contemplating any work along these lines in electrical contracting, residential, industrial or commercial, heat, light or power, before letting out the contract elsewhere, do by all means contact this good-going concern of Thomas J. Dwyer, and get their fair estimates and advice which they freely give without any obligation.

In closing we take this opportunity of commending Thomas J. Dwyer upon his services, straightforward business dealings, and upon his efforts in aiding the progress of this section of the state.

Tip Top Cleaners & Tailors

Outstanding Cleaners, Launderers and Tailors

It is our pleasure to include in this Business Review, this fine cleaning firm, the scope and usefulness of whose services have been welcomed by hundreds of individuals throughout this section of the State, and it can be said that their efficient services have indeed met with the full approval of all who have taken advantage of those services.

In a beautiful up-to-date, modern plant and with very finest equipment, including their excellent fur storage vaults, it really is no wonder that the Tip Top Cleaners and Tailors do receive special consideration from the public and certainly are doing their share in relieving many of us as to our cleaning, tailoring and storing problems.

With main office and plant located at Newton Corner at 14 Centre avenue, telephone Bigelow 4-7448, the work turned out here is done beautifully at all times. You really do not have to hesitate in sending your clothing to this fine firm, as a matter of fact, even as to formal garments, because one cardinal rule practiced from the very inception of this business has been to use only the very best of supplies essential to this type of industry in turning out only the most superior custom finished work even as to the laundering of shirts.

Mr. Jack Tevekelian, with many years of experience in this line of business, has surrounded himself with some of the most efficient and experienced personnel in this trade, and it is therefore not surprising when we state this particular cleaning firm is enabled to render such complete service in bringing back the original beauty of the garments for so many well-satisfied patrons. The satisfaction of these customers day in and day out, week after week, and for the past years, as a matter of fact, is the best gauge by which to judge the workmanship which is so well performed here.

We certainly have no qualms in recommending the services of this outstanding establishment, known as the Tip Top Cleaners, to all our readers and friends, and in closing we do want to compliment Jack Tevekelian not only because of his fine plant and the well-mannered drivers of pick-up and delivery service, but also because of his standing offer of addressing groups and gatherings upon the better methods of this industry. The complete services he has rendered at all times to the people of this section have made him a leader in his particular field.

TRACK:

White Stadium is a jinx to Newton High's track team. For the second year in a row since the annual State Meet was switched from Dickinson Stadium to the Roxbury site, the Orange "dubbed-up" and let Boston English win the Class A championship. The localites finished third with 18 points, Boston Trade with 19 was runner-up to English who surprised with 36 points.

English won last week with ease. In fact, they practically won it during the morning trials and field events. Newton's failure to do better (when all during the season they romped in their duel and Quad meets) can be traced to the following:

(1)—Al Rawlings did well enough to take 2nd (3 pts.) in the shot-put, but English shocked us by taking 3rd and 4th (also 3 pts.).

(2)—Bob Shannon could do no better than 20 ft. 3 1/2 inches in the broad-jump for 4th (1 pt.) but English surprised with a 2nd and 3rd (for a valuable 5 pts.).

(3)—Neither Newton nor English scored in the high-jump but the Orange were expected to pick up points here. Yet Rolfe Pollard and Dave Savoy disappointed.

(4)—Scotty Price (shot-put), Bob Moss (broad-jump) and Johnny Tripp (100) semi-finals failed to place in those events and that definitely hurt Newton's chances right at the outset.

(5)—Bob Morrison (440) and Paul Gould (100) finished 2nd in their races when they were figured to take first.

This Saturday Newton can redeem itself for its poor showing by having the scorers above do better at the N. E. Trials also at White Stadium. It's possible that Morrison, Gould, Shannon and Rawlings could win their events, at least they are intent on doing so.

Going into the 220, the first race of the afternoon, English had an 8-4 lead. They took a 2nd and 3rd in the 220 as expected and now lead 13-4. From then on they just added where they were most powerful even though Savol and Norm DiGiovanni were satisfactory in the high and low hurdles with a 2nd and 3rd respectively and Gould got his 2nd in the dash.

English soon boosted its total with O'Leary pacing Morrison throughout the 440 to win, Ellis and LaMarre taking 2nd and 3rd in the 880 and the famed King Bros., one-two in the mile. That gave them 31 to Newton's 16 (Tripp picked up a point in the pole vault with a tie for 3rd) as they readied for the final relay. Here English won it mostly due to a faux-pas in Newton's 3rd man handing anchor-Morrison the baton, but it didn't matter, the Orange were too far behind in the scoring. The Boiler-makers came in 3rd in that relay because Trade's time was better for a second.

BASEBALL:
The Graphic went to press early this week (on account of the holiday) and as this was written, Newton High was playing host to Watertown whom they previously beat 8-4. The Tigers went into the fray with a 7-2 record, one game behind Cambridge Latin (8-3) who stayed in the race with a 9-2 win over Waltham last Monday. Newton will play Waltham away on Friday afternoon, and then take on Brookline at home next Monday. If the Tigers win their remaining three games then they will cop the Suburban League title. Latin has one game left, with Rindge, and so the Tigers figure they'll have to pour it on to sneak by. They can afford one loss out of the three games but if Fergie's ace pitching staff is ready, they'll be willing and able to make it 3 straight. Because of the weather and poor field conditions, Newton hasn't played ball in over a week and so it's difficult to say who'll get the starting mound assignments but figure on Studley, Schlosberg and either Buanato or Ruffo to take over in that order.

The Tigers have been hitting with Barkey Boole leading the way. So if they get the pitching, as they have been, then look for Newton victories along the line.

Tests Given for Coordination

A "pegboard" finger dexterity test and a "rate of manipulation" test were tried out by the board members of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association at an open house held Tuesday at the association's office, 1357 Washington street, West Newton. These tests, which involve placing objects into holes in a board in a particular order, measure a person's coordination and are used, with other tests, to help tuberculosis patients understand their abilities and select suitable jobs when they are well enough to work.
